Edwin M. Lance Commits Suicide by Shooting at Millersburg This Morning

Special to The Telegraph
Millersburg, Pa., Nov. 11.—Edwin M. Lance, about 25 years old, living in Pine street and engaged in the tea and coffee business, committed suicide shortly after 8 o'clock this morning by shooting himself in the mouth with a revolver. The body was found by Mrs. William McKissick, who was coming to Millersburg from her home along the Wisconsin creek, the act having been committed along the creek south of the property of J. W. Umberger. Coroner Jacob Eckinger, of Harrisburg, was notified at once. Mr. Lance came to Millersburg from Philadelphia some years ago and was a quiet, industrious citizen, but his health has been very poor for several years, which is thought to have been the cause of the act. He is survived by his wife and one son, Edgar.

KING GEORGE ENCOURAGES BRITAIN'S FIGHTING MEN

Special to The Telegraph
London, Nov. 11.—King George has sent the following communication to Sir John French, commander of the British expeditionary force on the continent:

"The splendid pluck, spirit and endurance shown by my troops in the desperate fighting which has continued so many days against vastly superior forces fills me with admiration. I am confident of the final result of their noble efforts under your able command."

General French replied, thanking the king for the message, which, he said, had been received with gratitude and pride by the army. He assured the king "of our unalterable determination to uphold the highest traditions of your majesty's army and carry the campaign through to a victorious conclusion."

STOUGH TABERNACLE WILL BE ENLARGED

Co-operating Ministerium Decides Building Must Be Extended to Handle Crowds

STOUGH RIPS INTO THINGS

Attacks Amusements; Hits 'Liberals'; Laments Crooked Business

The Stough tabernacle must be made larger. This was the decision reached to-day at a meeting of the co-operating ministerium with the evangelist, the Rev. Dr. Henry W. Stough. Night after night hundreds, even thousands, have been turned away from the doors of the big meetinghouse because the ushers could find no more standing room, let alone seats. And this morning Dr. Stough advised the ministerium that something must be done about the congestion and that it must be done quickly.

It has been suggested that the building be extended and taken to the State street side and that additional seats be built around the choir loft. All these suggestions will be discussed at length at a meeting of the executive Pretty Girls Collect Coins at Orpheum Entrance; Young Men and Women Will appear in Costume in Streets and Sell the Telegraph; Newsies Will Give Half Profits of To-day's sales; Palace Moving Picture House to Have Belgian Benefit; Fund Steadily Growing.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Telegraph's Belgian relief fund had reached the handsome total of $1,159.12.

Newsboys, actors and pretty actresses from the Orpheum and the management of the Palace moving picture theater have all joined hands to collect money for the Belgian relief fund now being raised by the generous people of Harrisburg through the agency of the Telegraph.

Last night Miss Ruth Koye, the ragtime genius, and Misses Lillian Steele and Cordelia Haager, who are starring in two very clever singing and dancing sketches at the Orpheum this week, volunteered their services to the Telegraph and asked to be permitted to collect money at the exits of the theater.

"Sure; go to it, and be sure you don't miss anything. Orpheum patrons are generous people. They like to help along a cause like this," said Manager Hopkins, who had been summoned behind the scenes to give his permission for the proposed collection.

So the three pretty misses stood at the doors with baskets extended, following an announcement from the stage by George A. Moore as the audience filed out, and the first bill to be dropped in was a crisp five-dollar
