ALLIES TRYING TO HALT GERMAN ADVANCE

progress along both the western and northern boundaries.

A force of 6,000 Austrians who crossed the Danube at a point thirty miles from Belgrade, the Serbian war office says, was put to route, 1,000 being killed, 2,000 captured and many drowned in the river.

The Russian pursuit of the Germans along the Silesian frontier has slackened and the Germans are strengthening their positions along the line of border fortresses in expectation of an attempted Russian invasion.

Crown Prince Blamed

Petrograd makes the statement that the retreat of the Germans was due to the failure of their crown prince, in command of the center, to hold his position.

Both General Von Hindenburg in the north and General Danik in the center of the Austrian forces in Galicia, are said to have held back the Russians until the retreat of the crown prince's forces compelled them to fall back to avert disaster.

Another report, which also may possibly be classed as gossip, is to the effect that General Danik, displeased by the recent course of events, is moving south across Galicia and has refused to cooperate further with the German staff.

Austria admits the withdrawal of her troops from western Galicia and the investment of Przemyśl for the second time by the Russians.

Fighting between the Turks and the Russian army of Caucasus apparently is still in progress without definite results. The Russian staff reports that it is maintaining its position, routing the Turkish forces which attempted an enveloping movement.

London Feeling Changed

With the reassembling of the British Parliament it becomes apparent that the government will be heckled, notwithstanding the decision of the opposition to support the premier on major policies during the continuance of the war.

The government's conduct of naval matters probably will be the subject of the most pointed questions which the cabinet members will be called upon to answer.

The success of the German spy system and the sending of a British force to Antwerp also have given rise to criticism of the government. England's recent feeling of optimism was altered by the latest German naval feat of sending a submarine to the shore of England and sinking the torpedo gunboat Niger in the Downs.

MEMBERS OF EMDEN'S CREW AT LARGE ON SCHOONERS

Sydney, N. S. W., via London, Nov. 12. 4:45 A. M.—The naval board has received details of the fighting which the German cruiser Emden was put out of commission. The Emden sailed from Cocos island and sent armaments, launching, towing two boats ashore.

Forty men with three officers and four maxims were landed in fifteen minutes and the landing party smashed the wireless instruments and the engines of the plant.

In the meantime the Australian cruiser Sydney was sighted on the horizon and the Emden immediately put out to sea, leaving the landing party, both boats and men behind. The Emden started the firing. Later the landing party left on Schooners. The men are still at large.

Pavements on Hill So Bad Folks Walk in Streets

Complaint has reached the Telegraph regarding the intolerable condition of a number of the city's sidewalks. The man who has written about the conditions says he finds the sidewalks, especially in the Allison Hill district, in very poor condition in some places.

He also speaks of a bad stretch of brick paving on the west side of South Thirteenth street where the lighting is said to be inadequate. He observes that these are only one or two of the bad sidewalks that he has seen on the Hill and in other parts of the city.

AMERICAN CONSULATE DAMAGED BY GERMAN SHELLS

Rheims, France, Nov. 12, via Paris, Paris, 11:05 A. M.—A German shell exploded yesterday in the street opposite the American consulate. The front of the building was cut up by the shrapnel bullets, but neither the American shield nor the flag on the consulate was damaged.

For six weeks past German shells by thousands have been falling into this quarter of the city, but this is the first time the consulate has been struck.

Norfolk, Va.—"My health was very poor. I suffered from nervousness, had no appetite and was so thin, I thought I was going into a decline, and nothing I took seemed to help me until one day a friend came into my office and told me that I would take Vinol it would do me lots of good."

"I have now taken six bottles and have gained fifteen pounds; have a good appetite and can eat anything. It is wonderful what Vinol has done for me in building up my health. My own friends hardly know me and when anyone comes into my office the first thing I begin to talk about is 'Vinol.'"

"BLOOD WILL TELL"

The Heroes of the War

"Blood will tell," is an axiom that in all the ages has never been gainsaid. Every man who does a brave, heroic act carries within his veins a quality of blood that urges and sustains him. No matter whether he inherits it from a long line of famous ancestors or from the sound and healthy constitution of his immediate parents, whose only distinction is honorable toil and a simple, virtuous life.

It matters little where or how you obtain it, but it matters all the world that by some means you possess good blood. Good blood is first, last and always the making of manly men and womanly women. It is the source of all courage, virtue and happiness.

A new man can be made out of one that is "used-up," bilious and dyspeptic. It's done by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It starts the torpid liver into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses, repairs, and strengthens the system, and restores health and vigor. As an appetizing, restorative tonic it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, and builds up flesh and strength in the only "Blood and Liver Remedy" that's guaranteed, in every case, to benefit or cure. If it doesn't do all that's claimed for it, the money is promptly refunded. But it keeps its promises—that's the reason it can be sold in this way.

It is not a secret remedy for its ingredients are printed on wrapper. You only pay for the good you get. "Discovery" strengthens Weak Lungs, relieves Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections.

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, bound in cloth, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of wrapping and mailing only. Address: Doctor Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.
