WINTER CLOTHING AND HOW TO USE IT

Dr. Dixon Speaks on the Question of Garments For the Chilly Season at Hand

State Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon is out with some timely advice to people about winter clothing. The commissioner has worked out his ideas in the form of this statement: "The season has arrived when the thoughtful housewife gets out her husband's 'fannels' and her own. Unfortunately many people dress according to the calendar, and if the weather happens to be unseasonable, so much the worse for the wearer. "Winter means heavy clothes and too often heavy underclothes. Of course, the question of the occupation of the individual is a factor in winter dress, but the great majority of the people spend their time in steam-heated homes and offices where the temperature is little lower in winter than in summer. "For those who live or work in a temperature of from 68 to 70 degrees

Fahrenheit the wearing of heavy underclothes is not only fraught with considerable discomfort, but it is apt to lead to colds. To keep the skin dry and to give it air are the two necessary requisites in sensible and healthful dressing of the body. "A certain amount of perspiration is constantly going on through the pores of the skin to equalize the bodily heat. If the underclothing is too heavy and tight fitting, it does not permit of sufficient circulation of air. An excess of heat or a little unusual exercise will cause perspiration. If in this condition there is exposure to cold, the overheated parts may become chilled and a cold ensue. "When some circulation of air is permitted, perspiration is disposed of by evaporation and the skin remains dry. Those people, babies and those with weak hearts should always be clothed with thin woolen underwear that they may be kept warm and the evaporation given off slowly by the wool. In going from a warm indoor temperature into the cold outer air heavy outside garments should be worn which can be laid aside on re-entering the heated room. "It is becoming more and more the custom for indoor workers to wear lighter weight undergarments in winter and to depend more upon their outer clothing to protect them from the cold when exposed."

METZGERS LEARN THEY'RE HEIRS

Descendants of Dutch General Again Head of Millions Coming to Them Thirty-odd members of the Metzger family, who claim to be descendants of one General Theobald Metzger, a Dutch officer of a century or two ago, met yesterday at the home of H. G. Metzger, 2334 North Sixth street, and heard C. R. DeMin, Philadelphia, again tell them that they are heirs to the old general's estate, valued now at something like $547,000,000. Another trip to Europe will be really necessary for DeMin before he can successfully persuade the Dutch government to come across with the old general's money, however. Funds for this trip must necessarily be forthcoming from the heirs. Among those who attended yesterday's session were Norman Lichtenberger, city; M. F. Metzger, Simon W. Ginzlerich, W. B. Metzger, John B. Rider, Middletown; Elmer E. Fry and A. W. Kautz, Elizabethtown; D. M. Stout and John Alwine, Derry Church; Harry Young, New Cumberland; Harry Billet, Steelton, and Mrs. Sarah Fegley, city.

VIVID WAR PICTURES OF PERMANENT INTEREST

Superb Illustrations in the Book Which We Are Distributing One of the many valuable features of "The Story of Europe and the Nations at War," which we are distributing to our readers, is comprised in the magnificent collection of historical pictures of current and permanent interest which the book contains. In this collection are photographs of the rulers, great statesmen and great military and naval leaders of all Europe, including both those who have made their impress upon world events of the last century leading up to the present conflict, and those who are foremost in the public eye to-day. They show also the scenes of great battles of history described in the book, and trace the wonderful developments of modern instruments of warfare from the comparatively crude implements with which the great Napoleon fought his battles and achieved his victories. No similar collection of vivid photographs has ever before been brought together in a single volume. These full-page half-tone engravings are printed on specially finished paper which brings out all the beauty of their execution and details. The illustrations also include a large map in colors. Be sure to clip the coupon on another page and obtain your copy of this remarkable book containing the history of Europe and the causes and issues of the present war.

OLD MINISTER DIES

Special to The Telegraph Chambersburg, Pa., Nov. 16.—The Rev. J. B. Spontz, a well-known minister of the Reformed Church, died yesterday at an advanced age. He had served many churches in Pennsylvania and was for many years secretary of the Pen Mar Reformed reunion. He was a veteran of the Civil War, having served in the Pennsylvania Reserves.

ICE APLENTY AT 3RD AND NORTH

Ice eight and ten inches thick was seen in evidence at Third and North streets early this morning. A United Ice and Coal Company wagon, heavily laden, sunk to the hubs of its wheels in the fresh earth of a newly filled-in ditch, and unceremoniously full unexpectedly unloaded. Early morning spectators watched the team's increased troubles, shivered, and hurried on.

BOY WINS CORN PRIZE

Lebanon, Pa., Nov. 16.—Ralph Hershey, a West Cornwall township schoolboy, was announced as the principal winner in the annual corn show of the Lebanon County Agricultural and Horticultural Association, which closed here Saturday night. He was awarded the silver cup offered by Congressman Aaron S. Kreider, of Annville. Hershey also won a $20 harness.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Advertisement.

MEET AFTER 26 YEARS

Hazleton, Pa., Nov. 16.—Mistaking her brother for a peddler when he entered her home after an absence of 26 years, Mrs. Edmund Jones, of Coleraine, told John Sanders, of Pittsburgh, that she did not have time to look at his stock. When he explained that who he was there was a touching reunion.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE

Blain, Pa., Nov. 16.—On Friday afternoon the pupils of the High School rendered an excellent literary program. The question debated was, "Resolved, That Nature is More Pleading to the Eye Than Art;" affirmative speakers, Miss Ruth Pryor and Ben Gutshall; negative, Miss Mary Stambaugh and Hayes Pryor; the judges were Mrs. Minnie Smith, Mrs. Kerster and Prof. Shumaker. The negative side won.
