Famous Recipe For Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

If you know of someone who is troubled with head noises, or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand to them, and you will perhaps have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from total deafness. Investigation has proven conclusively that catarrhal deafness, head noises, etc., were usually directly caused by constitutional disease, and that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporary with the complaint, and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money has been spent of late in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of catarrhal poison from the system. The effective prescription which was eventually formulated and which has aroused the belief that catarrhal deafness will soon be extinct, is given below. In understandable form, so that anyone can treat themselves in their own home at little expense.

Secure from W. H. Kennedy or any other good druggist in Harrisburg, 1 oz. Parmitin (Double Strength), about 75c worth. Take this home, and add to it 1 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucous dripping in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are said to be directly caused by catarrh; therefore, there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment. Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial.

GORDON REVIEWS THE LATE ELECTION

Famous Democrat Piles Sarcasm on Sarcasm in Referring to the Democratic Rout

USING MILITARY TERMS
Clover Club Is Treated to One of the Most Brilliant of Political Speeches

Ex-Judge James Gay Gordon, one of the big Democrats of the State and the most relentless foe of the Republican organization has had to face, last night entertained the famous Clover Club of Philadelphia with his views on the late election. The dinner was an after-election, before-Thanksgiving affair and the diners were men of every party. Senator Penrose made a speech and there were remarks by other men in politics, but the surprise of the evening was the way in which Judge Gordon summed up the rout.

It was a speech delivered in the calm, masterful, literary style characteristic of Judge Gordon's public utterances, and from its beginning to end there was not an interruption from any part of the big banquet room filled with men known for the witticisms with which they are wont to disconcert some speakers.

"Every Democrat," said the former jurist, "takes a respectful delight in extending salutations to the selection of the people, and I personally am glad that the re-elected Senator has received his commission directed from the people in such an unmistakable voice.

"It is both a privilege and a temptation to speak here to-night—a temptation because as a Democrat belonging to the party of defeat, I feel inclined to digress for a time upon the causes and the meaning of that defeat.

"The war in Europe has affected both the speech and literature of the time, and the jargon of the war dispatches has become the vernacular of all men. I shall avoid myself, therefore, of the terms of the war to express the reasons why I think the new Senator had the tremendous majority he received.

Was Non-Combatant

"I was dismantled and in a neutral port, and to a certain degree I looked on with the composure of a non-combatant. But in that position I was able, I think, clearly to see some of the things which had such vital effect in building the Republican majority.

"First, they mobilized their forces better than their opponents did, and they were ready for the combat earlier and with greater strength than their opponents were.

"And, secondly, they invaded neutral territory without remorse, and compelled their prisoners of war to fight within their ranks. In that, I suppose, they pursued the methods of legitimate present-day warfare.

"Thirdly, the Grand Old Party—the grand old party of old—showed that had been promised for it—a most marvelous recrudescence of activity after its defeat of two years ago. And you will find that recrudescence is a term in the present warfare.

"As a fourth consideration, they had a general staff which was always near the battle line, while the opposition had no general staff at all, but had four or five divided staffs. One of these was in Washington, while another was in Harrisburg, and a third was in Philadelphia, while a fourth was in Pike county, or somewhere near the border. With this multiplicity of divided staffs and a want of all united direction, it is not to be wondered that many, many grave mistakes were made—and they were.

"Fifth, like the war in Europe, the recent campaign was an artillery duel, and whereas the victorious Republicans had heavy machine guns, the victors had those of the longest range, and they were also better directed.

"Then, too, while there has been some semblance of a concentration upon the Governorship, the Republicans succeeded in driving a wedge between the allied opposition on the United States Senatorship—and due to the cleverness of the re-elected Senator, or to the stupidity of his opponents, that wedge permitted a successful attack upon both flank and rear. They resorted to some expedients on the other side, so they tell me.

Bombs Were Useless

"In the war on the other side, we have heard of the use of bombs filled with a gas so powerful and so poisonous that when they burst they strike men dead right where they stand.

"Certain air forces of those opposed to the Senator thought that they had such bombs; but the gas was not deadly—it was only offensive. No harm was done. Only certain illusions were shattered.

"I felt that I wanted to do something in that campaign. Maybe it was as well that I didn't have the oppor-

"I am not surprised to observe the number of men who come into the store to purchase 'Mother's Friend,'" remarked a leading merchant.

The expectant mother if she hasn't heard of this splendid embrocation is probably not reading the papers to much extent. And if she does it is a happy thought to send hubby to the drug store, 'Mother's Friend' is applied externally over the abdominal muscles.

It is a gentle, soothing lubricant, penetrates to the fine network of nerves beneath the skin and has a marked tendency to relieve the muscular strain to which these broad, flat abdominal muscles are subjected. The cords, tendons and ligaments are thus permitted to stretch without the corresponding surface strain so often involved during the period of expectation. And particularly to young mothers is this remedial application of inestimable value since in thus keeping the muscles firm but pliant it enables them to go through the ordeal without laceration of the epidermis often the case when this gentle attention is neglected.

'Mother's Friend' is highly recommended by a host of women. Write Bradford Rogers Co., 408 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and we will send you a valuable little book to expectant mothers.

William H. Tredenick, Old-time Canal Boatman, Dies at Marietta Home

WILLIAM H. TREDENICK

Special to The Telegraph
Marietta, Pa., Nov. 20.—William H. Tredenick, the oldest man in this section and a former resident of Harrisburg, being engaged in the boating business on the old Pennsylvania canal, and the last survivor of that business, died last night from congestion of the lungs and old age. Mr. Tredenick was born in East Donegal township and was in his ninety-second year. He was, at the age of 45 years, nearly killed while working on a coal wagon at Williamsport, and at that time physicians stated that he would not live ten days. While in charge of a crew of boats, in making a run to the bay from Harrisburg, he nearly lost his life by a chain of the boats tearing loose and losing fourteen of them. Mr. Tredenick, despite his age, was a most remarkable man and was seen in the street on Sunday. He delighted in telling of his boyhood days, and stated only a short time ago that the "boys" while on their return from the bay to Harrisburg would always get "scrapping" about the Telegraph and who was to read it next. He is the last of his family.

ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES

After the program has been finished the students and alumni are invited to the ladies' dormitory, where a sociable time will be had. Keim's Orchestra, of Lebanon, will furnish the music.

AIR LINE CHARTER GIVEN REVIVAL

Pittsburgh to Allentown Railroad Project Reorganization Approved by State

The Pennsylvania section of the New York-Chicago Air Line, projected half a dozen years ago to build a low-grade railroad from Pittsburgh to Allentown and incorporated by Joseph Ramsey, Jr., under the name of the New York, Chicago and Pittsburgh Railroad, was given a new lease of life by the Public Service Commission today when its reorganization was approved. The company was chartered five years ago and its franchises, now owned by the Harriman estate, were about to expire.

This line, which was surveyed some years ago and designed to be a short line between Pittsburgh and Allentown, where it would connect with one of the eastern lines to New York, started at Pittsburgh and ran through the Indiana and Clearfield soft coal regions and thence through Centre, Snyder and Northumberland counties, crossing the Susquehanna south of Sunbury and tapping the anthracite region on its way to Allentown. It followed low grades all the way and was designed to be the real short line.

THE DOG THAT WORKS

The first thing the successful handlers of working dogs must learn, is that no two dogs are alike. Each animal has an individuality as great as that of the average human being. In some instances it is more pronounced, and, as the wolf strain or pure breeding increases, the individual characteristics of the dog become greater and more diverse.

The man who can't control himself understands what will often be trying circumstances won't be able to control a dog team and get the best work out of it. The only job anything like dog driving is managing a grand opera company. For dogs do have temperaments, and often more will be accomplished by humoring them for the time than by whipping.—Outing.

Just Try Rheuma No Cure, No Pay

This Is the Basis on Which All Druggists Offer This Great Cure For Rheumatism

Anybody can afford to use Rheuma to get rid of terrible rheumatism, sciatica, or gout, for it is sold by H. C. Kennedy and other druggists at a very small price. Your money returned if it fails.

It is wonderful how speedily this simple remedy takes hold and how soon muscles limber up and swollen joints come down to normal. It is the best remedy you can find to drive rheumatic poison from the system and bring back health to misery-racked bodies.

"I had rheumatism for a long while, and was not cured until I used Rheuma. My advice to those suffering from rheumatism is to use this great remedy, as I believe it will effect a cure in any case."—C. B. Lanham, Sattles, W. Va.

Rheuma is also good for lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia, and kidney troubles. It gets right down to the seat of trouble and removes the cause.—Advertisement.

HEPTASOPHS FORM PERMANENT BODY

Ewing, Seidler and Phillips Chosen Officers of the New Organization

Representatives of eight conclaves of the Improved Order of Heptasophs met last night in the F. O. E. Hall, at Sixth and Cumberland streets. A permanent organization of the associated conclaves of Harrisburg and vicinity was formed at the business meeting. Election of officers resulted as follows: President, E. E. Ewing; secretary, F. H. Seidler; treasurer, L. O. Phillips. Committees appointed will report at the next meeting of the new organization to be held in the hall of the West Fairview Conclave, N. A. Walmer was appointed chairman of the publicity committee, and E. Maish, chairman of the entertainment committee.

FUR-TIMMED SUITS
According to the Dry Goods Economist although very little cold weather has been experienced so far this Fall, there has been an excellent demand for fur-trimmed suits.

While in many instances only the collars and cuffs are of fur, many of the coats of smart suits are edged with fur or have a band of fur coming down the front. Recently a number of smart suits have been shown with wide fur bands finishing off the bottom of the skirt.

A clever idea is the binding of the pockets on the skirt with fur. Fur buttons have also been employed very effectively on some of the models that have recently been put on the market.

Dark furs are particularly suitable for trimming purposes. Skunk, opossum, skunk, Kolinsky, black fox, broadtail, monkeys and seal are particularly desirable. Beaver is considered very smart this season and is being used quite freely. Ermine and chinchilla are employed on a few very high-priced suits.

LIVES HANG IN BALANCE
Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 20.—Twelve men's lives hang in the balance while the count continues on the initiative measure at the recent election abolishing the death penalty. Twelve of the fourteen counties give a majority of 719 against the abolition of the death penalty, the vote 14,600 for the 15,319 against.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Luster and Abundance

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and falls out, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

The All-Winter Car—

You've probably noticed that the Hup is one car that is seldom laid up for the winter, says E. C. Ensminger.

During the coming winter I predict you'll see more Hups than ever used right through from first snowfall to first thaws.

The detachable sedan and coupe tops for the new touring car and roadster will bring about this increase in winter driving.

Best things of the kind you ever saw. Especially designed for the Hup, built strongly and substantially in the Hup factory.

Give you all the advantages of the permanent enclosed car—completely weather-tight, and handsomely finished inside.

And the best thing of all is that, in the spring, when you want open-air driving again, take off the winter top, store it away and fit the extension top.

Practically two cars in one—a great big feature that is making a powerful appeal to most fall buyers.
