CORN BOYS' SPECIAL COMES EAST MONDAY

Young Farmers Will Not Stop Off in Harrisburg This Year; Go to New York City

Ohio Corn Boys will not stop off in Harrisburg this year. Seven special trains, each twelve cars in length, will pass through Harrisburg Monday night, enroute to Washington, D. C. This year the champion corn raisers of the Buckeye State will visit New York city.

The tour is again under the direction of T. P. Riddle, of Lima, Ohio, and the trains, fitted up with every modern convenience, will be the best of the kind ever seen in this section of Pennsylvania. Railroad cars furnish Saturday night at Lima, Ohio.

Designed at its inception as an incentive to embryo agriculturists, the agricultural commission of Ohio, under whose auspices it is conducted, has thrown it open to the public, with the result that it has developed into a movement of from 1,200 to 1,500 people, boys and girls for the most part, although there will be a considerable contingent of their elders in the party. The party will be organized along military lines, each trainload constituting a "regiment," and each carload a "company," with a "colonel," a "surgeon" and "captain" in charge.

President A. P. Sandles, of the Ohio agricultural commission, and the originator of the tours, will be "general" in command, while Mrs. Josephine L. Nesbit will be "colonel" in charge of the young women.

New Federal Reserve Notes Are Distributed by First National

New Notes Are Slightly Longer and Feel Much Thinner to Touch Than Old Currency

Bank notes issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia reached Harrisburg to-day and were distributed by the First National Bank. This is the first appearance of the new notes in Harrisburg. The notes are in denominations of $5 and $10. They are about an eighth of an inch longer than other bank notes and are much thinner to the touch. On the front is a picture of Abraham Lincoln, the usual series numbers and seals. The artistic feature of the notes are engravings picturing Christopher Columbus giving thanks on sighting land and the landing of the Puritans.

5,000 UPTOWN OPPOSE DEPARTMENTAL TRANSFER OF SALOON

So Many Want to Sign Remonstrance That Workers Couldn't Get Around Route

Business men and residents of the Eleventh ward are becoming fully aroused to the signing of a protest against the transfer of a liquor license owned by Patrick Sullivan from 727 State street to 1819 North Third street. Thanksgiving Day thirty-six volunteers canvassed the ward in the morning for names, but could not complete the task, as nearly every home visited had several persons residing there who do not want the saloon. The work of finishing the ward canvass was continued to-day and when the final count is made it is expected that almost 5,000 names will be on the list. The Rev. B. H. Hart, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist Church, is the man at the head of the movement, and many other prominent men of the city, such as E. D. Downes, superintendent of the city schools, S. B. Eby and others, are opposed to placing the saloon among the private residences of the West End. The application will be presented to the Dauphin County Court on December 8.

Mummers Not Yet Decided on Time to Start Parade

Announcement was made at a meeting of the Harrisburg Mummers' Association last night, that several local bands will be in the New Year's parade. It was decided to give the first band sending in their entry blank, the right of line. Owing to a difference of opinion as to the time for starting the parade on New Year's day the question was left to the committee on parade who will act in conjunction with the Board of Directors. The list of prizes will be announced next week. Members of the Keystone Motorcyclist Club met last night and discussed plans for costumes and a feast. These nominations were made for officers: Charles Solters and John F. Greenwalt, president; James Harbold and C. S. Ulrich, vice-president; Claude W. Baskin and J. Harbold, captain of the parade committee. Paul Nowell was elected head of house committee and board of governors, with authority to choose members from the club to serve on the committees.

HAND BADLY MANGLED WHEN HUNTER'S SHOTGUN BURSTS

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Nov. 28.—William Elmer of Good Hope, received serious injuries while running on Thanksgiving Day, by the explosion of both shells in a double barrel shotgun near the breach, when the trigger was pulled, and his left hand was badly cut and torn. Several bones in the back of the hand were broken and the palm torn near the third and fourth fingers. He was brought to town, where the injured hand was treated and the bones set.

HORSE DROPS DEAD

Waynesboro, Pa., Nov. 28.—A horse belonging to Charles Weddle dropped dead yesterday while he was driving it along the street. Mr. Weddle purchased the animal two days ago from Eli Ott, near Pen-Mar.

WEDDINGS AT NEW BLOOMFIELD

New Bloomfield, Pa., Nov. 28.—Weddings were solemnized on Thanksgiving Day by the Rev. John W. Weeter, D. D. of New Bloomfield, at the parsonage, as follows: Oscar W. Copp, of Millerstown, and Effie M. Filckner, of Marklestown. Jacob C. Bernheisel, of Blain, and Miss Bessie E. Fritz, of Duncannon. Benjamin Clouser, of New Bloomfield, and Miss Pearl E. Mozingo, of Harrisburg. The Rev. Mr. Weeter preached the annual Thanksgiving sermon in the Presbyterian Church on Thursday evening.

Enforcement of Weights and Measures Law Is Progressing Very Well in the State

Governor Tener in Philadelphia For the Day; News of the Day About the Hill

James Sweeney, chief of the State Bureau of Standards, expressed satisfaction with the manner in which the State law governing inspection of weights and measures is being carried out in his report on the year just closed. Practically all cities and counties have established inspection and some have combined for the sake of economy. Over 95,000 of the 734,124 weights, measures and other instruments inspected were found to be out of order and 2,216 rejected. One hundred and six persons were prosecuted for violations. The work of the bureau shows that the inspections were classified as follows: Hopper scales, 399; condemned, 28. Wagon scales, 2,187; condemned, 442. Platform scales, 13,580; condemned, 1,198. STEELTON TO STOP SMALL BOYS FROM DRIPPING WAGONS

Burgess Orders Police to Break Up "Hopping" Rear Ends; Cause of One Death

As the result of the death yesterday of little Albert Farina, the 6-year-old son of Frank Farina, a grocer of 681 South Second street, Burgess, Fred Wigfield this morning asserted that he would at once instruct the police department to take drastic measures to break up the practice among small boys of riding the rear end of wagons and automobiles. It is a direct result of this practice, witnesses say, that the Farina boy lost his life. Dropping from the rear end of a wagon, witnesses say, he fell directly in front of a trolley car. Although his right hand was severed, his skull fractured in three places, a leg and his nose broken and his body terribly bruised and cut, the little lad lived for five hours after he was taken to the hospital by Dr. W. P. Daley. The funeral of the Farina boy will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Ann's Catholic Church. Coroner Jacob Eckinger will hold an inquest Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the court of H. W. Hoover, school directors, were also present.
