Girls Tell How They Live on Pay of Six Dollars Week WILL NOT GO BEGGING

No Meat For Weeks When They Buy Clothing, Witnesses Tell Investigators

By Associated Press

New York, Dec. 2.—"How Girls Live On $6 a Week"—under this caption there was read to-day into the record of the Factory Investigating Commission first-hand details, garnered from stores, factories and shops throughout the state, of the fight for existence which the commission's investigators
which the commission's investigators say is being waged daily by tens of thousands of underpaid women and girls in New York state.

Miss Esther Packard, assistant secretary of the Consumers' League, gave the results of her personal investigation, citing many instances, among them the following:

"Miss C. W.—When I have to pay for shoes or anything like that I don't buy meat for weeks at a time.

"E, M.—I never cat any breakfast at all. I found that was the easiest meal to do without.

"Miss T.—I generally buy beans for 3 cents and bread for 2 cents for cents," on one meal a day when she has to pay for shoes or a hat. Many girls frankly admitted that they counted on their male friends to buy their Sunday dinners. A girl of 23 had taken no vacation for six years because she could not afford to lose her salary for a week. A woman of forty, without a vacation for twenty-five years, cannot think of stopping work for a month to take a rest which she needs.

It was believed, however, that the State Department desired to consult with the steel company officials, so there would be no violations of neutrality if contracts were taken. While the export of munitions of war, such as gums, shells or ammunition, is not

Many applications for the position of "City Forester" have already been received by letter by City Commissioner M. Harvey Taylor. Most of these are from young men just a few years out of forestry schools who are equipped with both technical and practical training.

The superintendent of parks is considering all favorable applications however, and will not announce his decision until he inquires fully into equalifications of all applicants. The position pays $1,000 a year and the park head is determined, he said, to get the city the very best for its money.

Philadelphia, Dec. 2.—The European war is proving a great boon to American musicians, composers and teachers, according to Dr. Henry A. Clark, professor of music at the University of Pennsylvania, who yesterday addressed the annual convention of the Sinfonia Phi Mu Alpha Fraternity.

War has been the means of European feelings and the second that there was likelihood of amalgamation of the Progressives with either the Republican or Democratic party was equally ridiculed.

leaders from thirty-two States who

of the Sinfonia Phi Mu Alpha Fraternity.

"The war has been the means of overthrowing the great European fetish which was held sacred by Americans," he said. "Formerly no American artist could appear as a soloist with an orchestra unless he could claim foreign finish. The American public is beginning to see the true worth of their artists and will hereafter furnish the support which they have been so long denied." ridiculed.

George W. Penkins, of New York, chairman of the executive committee, presided at the conference which first listened to the State chairmen who told of political conditions. After these talks it was the intention of the executive committee to go into session and take what action was thought necessary.

Housing For Their Boats

Canoeists and motorboat men who have been housing their boats at the two big pavillons in the "Hardscrabble" district have been curious, and even anxious, as to what arrangements may be made for suitable places for keeping the craft.

Notices have been sent to the "Hardscrabble" property owners to submit to the city an estimate of what they wish in the way of damages when the city formally opens Front street to low water mark. After the usual court procedure, appointment of viewers, etc., it is expected that the official notification to vacate will be given and April 1 fixed as the time limit.

At the park offices this morning it was said that arrangements for housing the canoes and boats would, of course, be provided. Whether the structures would be permanent or merely temporary had not been decided. It is understood, however, that a permanent concrete boathouse will be erected by the park department somewhere between Mulberry and Market streets and probably one farther up town. HUGE REINFORCED-CONCRETE

HUGE REINFORCED-CONCRETE SMOKESTACKS.

Four reinforced-concrete smokestacks, each 185 ft. in height, have been erected at a Long Beach, Cal., electric plant. They serve as a striking example of the advance which has been made in concrete construction work, and the position it is assuming in the development of American cities. One of these immense structures, a tall, white column which may be seen for miles along the water front, is shown in a full-page illustration appearing in the December Popular Mechanics Magazine. The photograph was taken from the top of a companion stack and gives the chimney the appearance of being larger at the apex than at the bottom. The reason for this is that in taking the picture the camera was tilted forward, making the structure seem to taper from the crown downward.

HORSE-BORNE LITTER FOR CARRYING WOUNDED.
For the transportation of wounded soldiers when conditions are such as to render the use of an ambulance impracticable, a double litter for carrying two persons has been invented, which may be strapped to a horse's back. The device is described with illustration, in the December Popular Mechanics Magazine. Two ordinary stretchers are suspended, one on either side of a horse, by canvas straps attached to heavy springs which fasten to a pack saddle. Sectional bars extend in front of and behind the animal, forming a framework which holds the stretchers securely, while a breeching and breast strap keep the apparatus in place when it is being carried up or down a hill. The two springs upon which the whole contrivance is swung absorbed with the whole contrivance is swung absorbed whole contrivance is swung absorbed with the whole contrivance is swung absorbed to the successful completion of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition grounds and buildings at San Francisco generous praise must be when it is being carried up or down a hill. The two springs upon which the whole contrivance is swung absorbed to heavy springs with the harness underneath the horse, prevent a swinging motion.
