EX-INDIAN STARS' LINE-UP TOMORROW

Will Meet College Stars in a Game For Charity at Pittsburgh

Special to The Telegraph Pittsburgh, Dec. 4.—With the backfield the same as the line-up that defeated Harvard in 1911, with the exception of Jim Thorpe, the ex-Carlisle Indians who are to meet the All-College Stars in the big charity game at Forbes Field to-morrow, will arrive in Pittsburgh to-night, with the intention of annexing a block of scalps belonging to the players who have loomed big in the page lines during the past season.

Arcasa is to be at quarterback; Joe Wheelock, a Lebanon Valley star, Glenn Warner's choice as one of his members of the all-time All Carlisle eleven, will be at one of the halves; Bender will hold down the other half-back position; Beigte, who was a tackle in that famous Harvard game, has been brought back of the line to play fullback.

The rest of the line-up will include Vertenick, who has played end against Pitt three times; Garlow, another famous Indian of two years back, at left tackle; Hugh Wheelock, brother of the famous tackle and fullback, left guard; Stilwell Sanooki, center; Sam Sanooki, right guard; Woodring, right tackle, and Clarke at right end.

Paul Gerdes, Football Star, At University of Chicago

Former Central Player Is Pick of Experts as a Future Great; Shines in Basketball

With the clearing of the smoke of the season's football battles, another Harrisburg high school star looms up as a comer. In athletic circles at the University of Chicago, Paul Gerdes, a former Central high boy, and one of the best basketball centers, is picked as a coming football star.

Gerdes plays three positions on the freshman football team at Chicago this fall, under the direction of Coach Pat Page. Gerdes won his '1913' numerals as a center. The coaches are sure that with more coaching he will develop into a mighty football man for possible varsity use.

Freshmen at Chicago are debarred from any participation in 'varsity' games by strict rules, so Gerdes will have three years in which to show his ability. The lad is working hard at basketball and will be shifted from his old position at center to forward. Coach Pat Page considers Gerdes a comer. Reports say further that Gerdes is popular at the Chicago campus. He made a place on the social committee of the freshmen class, one of the most important committees on which appointment was possible.

Gerdes has picked up weight since going west. In Harrisburg he will be remembered as one of the greatest center jumpers who ever played on a scholastic basketball team.

LEBANON COACH PICKS STAR ELEVENS

Six Harrisburg Players in Line-up Picked From Eastern Teams

Four Tech high school players, and one Central man, are included in the selection of an all-star eastern high school eleven. The choice is that of Henry I. Wilder, coach of the Lebanon high team. Coach ("Stuffy") Wilder saw in action all teams from which he picked his stars. An experience of seven years has given Coach Wilder much prominence in high school work.

On the first team, Byers of Central, and Kutz, Emanuel, Britsch and Beck are in the line-up. Norris of Steelton is selected as captain. Rote, of Central, is the only Harrisburger who is picked for a second team. Coach Taggart, of Steelton, is selected as the best high school coach. The two all-star teams follow:

- | | |
|----------------------------|------------|
| First Eleven. | Positions. |
| Elliott, Pottsville | L. E. |
| Cockill, Pottsville | L. T. |
| Byers, Harrisburg Central | L. G. |
| Norris, Steelton (captain) | C. |
| Stumpf, Lancaster | R. G. |
| Kutz, Harrisburg Tech | R. T. |
| Emanuel, Harrisburg Tech | L. E. |
| Britsch, Harrisburg Tech | Q. B. |
| Schweimler, Reading | L. H. |
| Light, Lebanon | R. H. |
| Beck, Harrisburg Tech | P. E. |
| Second Eleven. | Position. |
| Harvey, Minersville | L. E. |
| Barr, Lancaster | L. T. |
| Butts, Reading | L. G. |
| Griesbaum, Pottsville | C. |
| Hostetter, Lancaster | R. G. |
| Medlar, Lancaster | R. T. |
| E. Nagle, Lebanon | Q. B. |
| Hynson, Lebanon (captain) | R. H. |
| Bechtel, Pottsville | F. B. |
| Coach, Taggart, Steelton. | |

How He Selected the Team

In backing up his choice Coach Wilder refers to his selections as not in accordance with positions played, but on the work he has seen as it is difficult to choose between Bechtel, of Pottsville, and Schweimler, of Reading, while Rote, of Harrisburg Central, would possibly displace Britsch, of Tech, if he had played regularly. Continuing Coach Wilder says: "Emanuel is a great school-boy end and is the best for that position. E. Nagle, of Lebanon, has more possibilities than Elliott, of Pottsville, but after the Steelton game he was handicapped by injuries. His presence in the two Harrisburg games would have made a great difference to Lebanon. Harvey, of Minersville, is very fast and with more experience might win a place on the first team.

Kutz and Kutz are in a class of their own as tackles and get places with no competition, Kutz being the best. "Stumpf, of Lancaster, although playing a back this year, is known to be a good man at tackle and guard. Byers, of Harrisburg Central, has played some creditable games this year and would rank next to Stumpf. Norris tops the list of centers, but is closely pressed by Griesbaum, of Pottsville. Norris would act as captain of the team.

"Hynson is easily the best general in the whole squad and would be the best quarter if he had more speed. He would captain the second team.

Taggart Best Coach "Taggart, of Steelton, is the best high school coach in the State and it may be said that no Pennsylvania college has his equal, if we except Carlisle, W. and J. Lehigh and State. With equal material, Taggart could well hold his own in a play of tactics with any of the four great coaches of the above four teams.

"Gardner and Dayhoff, of Steelton; Smeltzer, of Harrisburg Central; Fisher, of Pottsville, with Short and Albert, of Lebanon, are fine school players."

PENN PLAYERS TAKE SHOT AT BROOKE

Elect Edward Dey Harris to Lead the Team For Next Season

Special to The Telegraph Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—When the Pennsylvania Varsity football players met yesterday and elected Edward Dey Harris captain of next year's team they also went on record as being opposed to the retention of George Brooke as head coach.

The action of the players in deciding against the man who has had charge of the team for the last two years and who is under contract for another year will probably be the means of bringing the matter to a definite decision. On top of these expressions of opinion Mr. Brooke has said that he would not resign. He desires to fill out the term of his contract so as to enjoy the fruits of his work of the last two seasons. He believes that he has laid the foundation for a successful team at Pennsylvania.

Brooke Expected It Mr. Brooke had nothing to say in regard to the action of the players yesterday more than to remark that it was not unexpected by him.

"Ned" Harris, the newly-elected captain of the team, is a Chestnut Hill lad. He is a junior in the Towne Scientific school and has played on the Varsity for two years at right tackle. He is 20 years old and stands 6 feet 2 inches in height and weighs 185 pounds. Harris is a member of the Zeta Psi Fraternity.
