Decrease in Contagion and Higher Milk Standard Show Results Being Obtained

Three milkmen of the city who are taking milk bottles from steps of quarantined homes are being watched by the City Health Bureau, and unless they stop removing them prosecutions will result and their licenses will be taken from them.

So declares Dr. J. M. J. Raunick, head of the bureau of health and sanitation. Similar cases to these are reported to him daily by the two city food inspectors, Dr. William Hughes and Dr. George A. Zimmerman. These inspectors were appointed about eight months ago and it is their duty to inspect all produce that comes into the city. They make many trips to outlying towns and inspect farms that ship milk, meat and other food into the city.

In many cases the health of the people of Harrisburg has been preserved because some places have been found in an unsanitary condition and as a result licenses have been refused.

Dr. Zimmerman, speaking of his trip to the farms, said today: "The people of this city pay the prices for the food that the farmer asks and it is only right that they should know what they are getting."

"We have little trouble with the places of business in the city," he went on, "but sometimes we find grocers selling impure and unsanitary kept milk, meat and other food products. If all the people of this city would report and bring to the food inspector's office the things they buy and then take the witness stand against the dealer, it would be but a short time until they could feel safe in buying anything at any place in the city."

"The big reason for impure food is the consumer who will not report and will not appear against the man who is trying to swindle them and injure their health."

Dr. Raunick, too, urged the cooperation of the public. He said: "The only way to prevent the spread of disease is to have the produce and methods used in handling it inspected, but the best results are obtained when the public co-operate with the inspectors. Investigations are made of all the reports and tests made of the questionable material. It is the duty of the consumer to report and to appear against the man who is trying to swindle them and injure their health."

INDUSTRIAL CHEMISTRY ATTRACTIVE

In this connection (domestic industries) it is well for our young men casting about for their opportunity to consider industrial chemistry. For some years certain large corporations have been establishing their own laboratories with a view to discover less expensive methods of manufacture, and improved quality, or increased production. What was a few years ago considered an extravagant expense is now justified only by such large undertakings as the Steel Company is now realizing as a profitable investment in the lines of manufacturing. Attractiveness of the salaries paid are attractive, but the best results are obtained when the public co-operate with the inspectors. Investigations are made of all the reports and tests made of the questionable material. It is the duty of the consumer to report and to appear against the man who is trying to swindle them and injure their health.

CELEBRATES FIRST YEAR

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Dec. 4.—More than a hundred men attended the social last evening in the lecture room of the Church of God to celebrate the first anniversary of the organization of the men's Bible class. The function was entirely under the supervision of the men. A very interesting program was given, which included music by an orchestra, selection by a male quartet, consisting of Frank T. Hollinger, George C. Deitz, Bernard Stansfield and Harry E. Heitzel; a vocal solo by Miss Ida Weber, and an address, "Why An Organized Men's Bible Class?" by Dr. E. E. Campbell. Refreshments were served and the following officers elected: Teacher, the Rev. Charles F. Raach; assistant teacher, W. C. Templin; president, J. S. Weaver; vice-president, J. T. Stansfield; secretary, W. O. Myers; assistant secretary, C. K. Palmer; treasurer, Charles D. Getz; librarian, George M. Meloy.

Check the Symptoms of Lung Trouble

Symptoms of severe lung trouble, such as fever, night sweats and loss of weight, etc., should be checked, or serious results will follow. Eckman's Alternative has brought about many recoveries. Read this:
302 W. Thirty-sixth St., New York.
"Gentlemen—since I was a very young woman I was a sufferer from bronchitis. I tried doctor after doctor, getting little or no benefit. Finally I had night sweats, weak spells and lost rapidly in weight, and my doctor told me if they were not checked I would have consumption. Miss Mary Korhammer, who is a friend of mine, recovered after taking your Alternative, and insisted that I try it. I am now, after two years, perfectly well, strong and healthy." (Abbreviated).
(Affidavit) MRS. ROSA VOELPEL.
Eckman's Alternative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and upbuilding the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Small size, $1; regular size, $2. Sold by leading druggists. Write for booklet of recoveries.

AMUSEMENTS

ORPHEUM

"Tricked" is the title of a comedy surprise sketch that appears at the Orpheum this week as one of the fine Keiths supporting captain Louis Sorcho and his company of deep sea divers. In the most interesting and most educational vaudeville attraction Harrisburg has seen, "Tricked" is an interesting drama that calls in three situations make "Tricked" a splendid valuable ruby in the safe of a millionaire, is accented by a man whom the burglar suspects to be the millionaire himself. After the departure of the first burglar, an attractive young woman appears on the scene, declaring herself to be the millionaire's wife. Just who is who at this point of action is a big question and the interest thickens until the plot is unwoven. Clever players, interesting lines and unusual situations make "Tricked" a splendid feature. Pretty Dolly Connelly in new songs; English and Hawthorne in original "Nut" comedy, and several other interesting attractions make the current offering an interesting and deserving one. "Pekin Mysteries," the most sensational troupe of Chinese magicians of to-day, are announced as the leading attraction of next week's show.—Advertisement.

COLONIAL

The Depace Opera Company of delightful vocalists, are presenting an artistic vocal offering at the Colonial for the last half of the week that is one of the finest things that have been seen at that playhouse. In the half light of the stage, these six grand opera trillars present a scenic and musical act that in itself is worth the time and price. However, three other Keith acts of merit are included in the line-up, not the least important of them being the clever comedy song and patter skit of Dugan and Raymond, and Kate and Gates, presenting a comedy called "The Mail Order Business," and Harold Kennedy, the eccentric song and dance comedian, complete the roster. "Blind Fates," an excellent moving picture feature in two parts, that came to the Colonial yesterday to remain during the rest of the week, was yesterday declared by many patrons to be the best feature film seen at the Busy Corner.—Advertisement.
