GARRISON WANTS ARMY INCREASED

Secretary Says Forces Should Be Raised to Full War Strength

Washington, Dec. 10.—The report of Secretary Garrison, presented to the President to-day, shows that the head of the War Department is not in altogether agreement with his chief upon the subject of military unpreparedness. In the executive message of yesterday President Wilson said: "We must depend in every time of national peril in the future as in the past, not upon a standing army, not yet upon a reserve army, but upon a citizenry trained and accustomed to arms."

Secretary Garrison recommends that the army be increased immediately by the enlistment of 25,000 additional men and by the appointment of 1,000 officers, saying: "We would then be able to undertake the next necessity, which is absolutely imperative of a war."

Indeed, the strengthening of the standing army by virtually doubling available force to service in Continental United States, and the creation of a reserve army which would insure 500,000 trained and capable men for duty in the first line should military operations become necessary, is the dominant note of the report. The document, without being in any sense incoherent, is militant throughout.

Refers to European War

The report mentions the European war once, the Secretary saying that it would be premature to attempt to draw any lessons from the operations at this time.

He is thoroughly posted on school law and is regarded as an authority on questions relating to that line of education. It has been largely through his efforts that the school board has decided to spend a few thousand dollars to improve sanitary conditions around the schools.

SIGLER INCORPORATED HAS FORMAL OPENING

Piano Firm Has Grown to One of Most Important in Central Pennsylvania

The formal opening of the C. M. Sigler Company, incorporated, piano and victrola dealers, 30 North Second street, which was incorporated September 2, is being held this week.

The present house, of which C. M. Sigler, president of the Sigler Piano and Victor Company, is president, had its inception in the Fall of 1894 at 111 Market street, and was then the Sigler and Edward Company. From 111 Market street the company moved to 212 Market street. In 1905, while in this location, the Sigler and Edward Company dissolved partnership and Mr. Sigler became sole owner. In April, 1907, he moved his stock to 30 North Second street, the present location of the business. Until September 3 of last year Mr. Sigler sold sheet music, small instruments and supplies for musicians. Then he decided to handle only player pianos, pianos and victrolas. The present corporation of which he is head, was formed about this time also.

This week was chosen as the one for formal opening, and from now on the plan of the company is to handle player pianos, pianos and victrolas. The firm is Central Pennsylvania agent for the Steinway pianos and the C. M. Sigler piano-player action, which can be put in any piano to give it a player movement.

Five booths have been made for the demonstration of victrolas, and the entire store has been remodeled. An entire lot of new stock has been secured for this week.

The following are now members of the new firm: President, C. M. Sigler; vice-president, Norman B. Kurzen-

MONEY COMING IN FOR BELGIAN FUNDS

Suggestion That the Need For Contributions Has Only Commenced in the Struggle

The Telegraph will continue to receive money for the Belgian relief funds. Numerous letters have been received asking if it will still forward cash and the point is made by one writer that the relief work is not of a temporary character, but must be permanent and that people should give weekly or monthly.

The St. Stephen's Guild, through Jane B. Donaldson, treasurer, has sent $25, which has been forwarded to the committee in charge at Philadelphia and $8.61 from the Church of the Nativity a Newport, the proceeds of a special collection, has also been forwarded.

The Philadelphia Belgian relief committee urges that renewed effort be made owing to the terrible conditions prevailing.

How to Rid the Skin of Objectionable Hairs

(Aids to Beauty) A simplified method is here given for the quick removal of hairy or fuzzy growths and rarely is more than one treatment required. Mix a stiff paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every hair has vanished. This simple treatment cannot cause injury, but care should be exercised to get real delatone.—Advertisement.
