ACADEMY QUINTET TRINGS METHODISTS

PAT MORAN MAKES OFFER

Would Like to Land Rube Marquard for the Phillies

Special to The Telegraph

New York, Dec. 10.—A deal was started here between Pat Moran and John McGraw that bids fair to go through before the gloom turns into dawn. Both Moran and McGraw have been flirting with each other in trying to land certain players which the other coveted and it is probable that something will actually come out of the proposition which Moran finally offered to the Giants' leader late last night.

The new Phil leader's proposition was this: He offered Honus Lobert and Charley Doolin to the Giants in exchange for five players who were supposed to be Rube Marquard and Rube Schauer, pitchers; Robertson, an outfielder, and Eddie Grant and Beatty, infielders. The deal all hinges on the Marquard case. If the Wards really turn Rube back to organized baseball as they said they would do if the Giants can show that they held a prior claim upon his services, then Moran will allow the trade to be made. Doolin and Magee will hold out until Saturday.

NERVE PRIZE FOR BRESNAHAN

Wants a Whole Team in Trade for Heine Zimmerman

New York, Dec. 10.—For unlimited nerve and colossal gall Roger Bresnahan was awarded the plum yesterday. During the powwow Bresnahan made a proposition to John McGraw, of the Giants, which caused that worthy to nearly drop on the floor. Heine Zimmerman, the unruly, and who is coveted by the Giants and other clubs, was the cause of it all from a trading standpoint. Bresnahan, knowing how much Heiney is wanted, told McGraw he would let him have the great Zim on these conditions:

"If you will give me George Burns, Larry Doyle, Arthur Fletcher, and Smith, you can have Zimmerman, and no more, and if that does not suit we will call all negotiations off."

ATTICKS SCORES 299

Bowling records this year in Harrisburg are attracting much attention in outside circles. Many new figures have been chalked up in the Casino alleys, which are registered in the National Association. Last night Atticks, a local star, fell down on his final pin, making 299 out of a possible 300 clean score. This was the highest score made in Harrisburg in many years. Trace made 286.

New From the Front in Baseball Conflict

By "Emp"

Governor John K. Tener is the commander-in-chief

Five-year contract as major league leader at $100,000 signed by President Tener.

Once more it is announced the Phillies will lose Doolin and Magee.

George Graham and Tri-State magnates reached the front yesterday, and announced there would be an eight-club circuit next season.

A rule prohibiting any manager to withdraw a waiver after once presented, until all other managers have answered is proposed.

Jack Combs has been given his unconditional release by Manager Connie Mack. He may sign with the Reds.

Brooklyn and Cincinnati have settled the Joe Tinker controversy. Price not mentioned.

Connie Mack said yesterday he would not leave Philadelphia. Over in New York the rumor will not down that he will become a part owner of the Yankees and direct the club.

It is the belief that Eddie Collins will manage the White Sox.

Bresnahan demands four players for Heine Zimmerman.

Yesterday's sensation was the announcement that the Reds would return Rube Marquard if the Giants showed a contract signed by the pitcher.

REPORTS WILL NOT DOWN

President Ban B. Johnson Names Connie Mack as Part of Deal

Special to The Telegraph

New York, Dec. 10.—Verified reports had the Yankees finally disposed of and Colonel Jacob Ruppert, the owner, yesterday, but E. B. Johnson, president of the American League, who is conducting the sale, asserted that the deal is not closed yet. A matter of $50,000 in cash is said to be holding up the transaction at present, but those involved assert that this obstacle will be overcome Saturday when, it is said, Colonel Ruppert will meet with Mr. Johnson, Charles Comiskey of the Athletics, and Connie Mack of the Phillies.

Colonel Ruppert is now in Philadelphia, where he is the import of Connie Mack being one of the quartet at the French League meeting is somewhat dubious among baseball men who were at loss to explain the sudden interest of Mack toward the Yankees. Reports from Philadelphia that Mack was considering the American League, who is owner of the Yankees were partly denied last night, but the added report that Mack had taken charge of the local team next Spring.

TOWNS FIGHTING TO GET IN TRI-STATE

President Graham Looking For Material; League Meets Here in January

Special to The Telegraph

New York, Dec. 10.—George M. Graham and the Tri-State League broke into the game here yesterday. The activity of the Tri-State magnates in looking for material is causing much favorable comment. When President Graham counted noses and wired to Harrisburg for a proxy he called a meeting.

At this session plans for next season were discussed. President Graham says Jack Deal wants to put a team in Lancaster. Buck Freeman is after the leadership of York, and Easton is begging for admission. It is the belief that with Jake Weitzel out of the game and all contests played at Lane Park, Reading businessmen will back a team. There has also been talk that Williamsport and Altoona are getting the baseball fever.

The Tri-State will meet in Harrisburg in January. Everybody here to-day believes that next season will be a record season for the Tri-State League.

NO BASKETBALL SATURDAY AT CHESTNUT AUDITORIUM

The Harrisburg Independents will be prevented from playing basketball at the Chestnut street auditorium Saturday night on account of the poultry show which is being held there all this week. This will be the only break in the independent schedule as they have secured the hall for every Saturday night until April 1. On Saturday night December 19, the Independents will meet the Wilkes-Barre team.

Manager Hammond will announce his completed schedule in the near future. It includes every team in the Eastern League, the best local region fives and several quints which have never appeared in Harrisburg.

Famous American Naval Author Dies Suddenly

Admiral A. T. Mahan, who for many years has had an international reputation as a writer on naval subjects, died suddenly in Washington. His work as naval commander did not bring him much prominence, but his book "The Influence of Sea Power Upon History" made him known over the world. The admiral was born Sept. 27, 1840, at West Point, where his father was a professor and an expert on mathematical and engineering subjects. He was appointed to Annapolis from New York in 1856, and he graduated in time to serve through the Civil War.

His books on naval strategy, history, and his opinions on international politics made him influential throughout Europe, and his criticisms of the British naval policy were closely studied by the admiralty.

WAR DECLARATION MAY COME TODAY

Player Limit Rule Arouses Managers; Marquard to Be Returned

Special to The Telegraph

New York, Dec. 10.—Declaration of war by the National League against the Federal invaders may be given stronger endorsement at to-day's sessions of the major body. While there are some representatives of the national body who favor a settlement, the opinion prevails that Governor John K. Tener will name the terms, and the Reds will have to accept or fight.

One sensation was recorded yesterday. Announcement was made that the Federal League president had sent word to Manager "Mugsy" McGraw that they would return Marquard if it was proved that the New York Nationals owned Marquard by contract. Indications are that Marquard will be returned to New York, and the $1,500 advanced to the pitcher by the Federal League, on advice of Marquard's attorney, will be returned.

To Rescind Limit Rule

The new player limit rule may be rescinded. Managers claim they cannot do business with twenty-one players. John McGraw was especially bitter against the rule. He said that he had signed forty-four players for next year, sixteen of them to long term contracts, which left him only a leeway of five players to pick from the next to impossible for him to select the five best from the army of others in so short a time as the rule allows.

At present the National League has signed 272 players of which New York has 44; Pittsburgh, 45; Boston, 29; Philadelphia, 28; Brooklyn, 32; Cincinnati, 30; Chicago, 35, and St. Louis, 32. This will mean that on May 1 eight clubs will have to get rid of 104 players. Where these men will go is very doubtful, as the minor leagues are retrenching to the limit and have come out flatfooted for smaller salaries, such money in fact that erstwhile big leaguers will hardly be attracted.

"Billy, the Kid," by Joseph Santley and Walter Woods, is undoubtedly one of the best plays of its kind, and is now in its eighth season. It is a melodrama, but it tells a concise and powerful story, with a due regard to sequence so often missed by melodramatic writers. The negro orderly of the anecdotal days attached to his old character is one of the many clever characters in the play. All of the types are exceptional and well drawn and the play is replete in human interest. "Billy, the Kid," will be seen at the Majestic to-morrow matinee and night.—Advertisement.
