

For Christmas--- A Wardrobe For Dad

You know how often father has said he only wished he had a place to hang his clothes. Mother uses all the closet room.

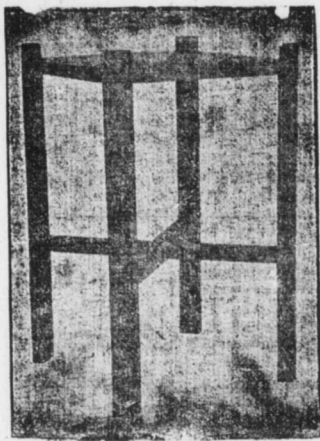

Why not give him a cheff-robe this Christmas and pay for it a trifle at a time

Or perhaps there is something else in the way of furniture, rugs and housefurnishings that you want for your home. Why don't you all combine this year and give the home a present—something that you'll all enjoy?

We'll gladly have you come and open a charge account for a single piece or for furnishings for an entire home. There's no red tape, and we give you a long time to pay in trifling weekly or monthly amounts.

For instance: $50 worth of goods costs but $4 monthly; $100 worth but $8 monthly.

All prices plainly marked. No club fees, no interest, no extra charges. Until you have visited our big store, you can never realize what a large assortment of the furniture we carry or how reasonable are our prices.

NURSES SELL SEALS TO MUSIC OF BAND

Two Dozen Girl "Volunteers" to Assist at Mystic Shrine Red Cross Christmas Benefit

If the Red Cross nurses who will serve at the Zumbo Band and Patrol concert and drill Tuesday evening ever really do duty afield, the chances are that lots of mere menfolks wouldn't care how soon they'd have to go to war.

Now that the secret's out, the secret of one of the features planned in connection with the Mystic Shrine's Red Cross Christmas seal sale benefit in Chestnut Street Auditorium next Tuesday, perhaps it would be just as well to go into details. Here they are:

That the Zumbo Band and Patrol concert and drill are to be well worth going to hear and see is pretty generally appreciated; a crowded auditorium last year testified to that to the extent of some hundreds of dollars. This year represented the result of the sales of seals.

At last year's Zumbo affair members of the patrol went about the hall and sold the seals, while the orchestra and band were playing. This year, however, the plan is to be worked on next Tuesday evening only "nurses," just two dozen of 'em in all, will sell the Red Cross seals. Here are the two dozen:

The Red Cross Nurses
Misses Katherine McCloskey, Fannie I. Hoy, Margaret Bacon, Mary Roth, Ann Fissel, Ann Fogarty, Maudaline Shoaf, Margaret Shoaf, Irene McCalley, Marie McCalley, Katherine Thorne, Mary Frances Ebel, Eleanor Copelin, Marie Melville, Dorothy Black, Emma Morrow, Ella Morrow, Mary Koons, Esther Adams, Helen Roberts, Esther Hutmam, Hilda Fohl, Ruth Kirkup and Laura Miller. Capped, gowned and aproned in the regulation white and flaming arm-band cross of the service, the "volunteers" will add to the color scheme of the hall with the scarlet and white and gold and blue of the Zouave uniforms of the Zumbo Patrol as the background.

Captain Frank H. Hoy, Jr., commander of the patrol, has worked out an elaborate program for the march of the patrol and the nurses, and Director Shoaf and his band will make the whole affair foot-tling by producing some of the kind of music that has always made the Zumbo Band concerts under his direction so famous.

The Way to Tipperary
While 8 o'clock is the hour fixed for the start of the exercises, it is probable that the concert will not begin until 8.30. At 8.45 the patrol will start its drill. Following this the "nurses" will go about in the audience selling the seals. After the concert the band will play for dancing.

Besides the nurses and the brilliant uniforms of the Zouaves the far-flung battle lines of the allied armies in Europe will be suggested in another way. A feature of the program will be the selection that is being sung to-day throughout London, "The a Long Way to Tipperary!"

Has Honor of Playing Before Rafael Joseffy

Newell Albright, pianist, of this city, has just returned from New York, where he had the honor of playing before Rafael Joseffy, at his home in Washington Heights, N. Y. Joseffy is probably the greatest resident pianist this country has ever had. He is a pupil of Liszt and Tausig, renowned as an interpreter of Chopin and teacher of the famous Rosenthal.

Mr. Albright gave a lecture-recital a few days ago at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Lucas, Carlisle, to forty members of the French and art classes of Wilson College, chaperoned by Dr. Anna McKeag, delighting the audience with an unusual program.

Mr. Albright will give his first winter recital here early in January.
