services will be the presence of the G. A. R. posts and the Spanish War veterans and all other patriotic organizations of the city. The old soldiers will assemble at the headquarters of Post 58 and march in line to the tabernacle at 7.15.

At the opening of the service last night Dr. Stough received an envelope from the Boys' Brigade of the United Brethren Church containing a five-dollar gold piece for the purpose of starting Mrs. Stough and the six Stoughlets on their way from home to spend Christmas in Harrisburg with the head of the family. Dr. Stough used the incident to make a few more remarks on the probability of the campaign extending more than the six weeks period.

Stough also made comments on the voluminous mail he is receiving every day and told of one letter asking him to try to collect some bad debts by a business man who is in despair. A bunch of chrysanthemums was sent to the platform with the compliments of the men of the Elliott-Fisher typewriter factory, who attended the service last night in a body. Miss Palmer was also given a bunch much larger than the one handed to Dr. Stough from the men of the Enola engine-house, where she has conducted several meetings.

Seventy-eight Hit the Trail The total of seventy-eight trailhitters last night was larger in proportion to the very slim audience than on any recent night.

Stough preached an excellent sermon on the fallacy of the contention of moralists that upright living and good works alone will be sufficient to guarantee salvation. He said that these things are secondary considerations and that the soul's standing on the final judgment day will depend on faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

His text was "Bless your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and pharisees ye shall in nowise enter the kingdom of heaven" and he endeavored to prove his point to the man who hasn't hit the trail. He did not minimize the practice of morality and decent living, but he declared these things without faith cannot save the sinner.

Stough based his argument on the principles of heredity and environment as they work on two children, one born in the slums and the other in good surroundings, and said that God would be unjust to hold each one equally accountable for his actions as a basis for salvation at the judgment. He said the Bible lies if there is any truth in the idea that moralists do not need the sacrifice of Christ as well as the worst worldly sinners.

Ridicules Moralists

The evangelist made little of the moralist's plea that he lives a good life, pays all his debts, treats his wife and family well and has never been in jail for any offense. He spent about thirty minutes of the sermon in describing an imaginary trip of the soul of John Jones, of Harrisburg, a moralist, who tried to gain entrance at the pearly gates, using all the facts of his upright life as proof of his fitness to enter heaven. He put all of his comedy skill into the presentation of the scene as the disappointed soul tried to pry his way into Paradise. He gave the conversations between John Jones and venous Christians who had been rescued from evil lives by faith in Christ, showing the futility of the moralist's attempt to get inside heaven, reserved for redeemed souls alone.

He told sinners that they must be saved on God's terms and not their own; that holiness is demanded by God and must be a condition of the heart; whereas morality is a condition of the outside man. "It is faith—righteousness and not works—righteousness that saves. You cannot work out your salvation, but you can believe it out. The man who depends on morality cuts out the first part of the commandment, 'Love the Lord with all thy heart and thy neighbor as thyself.'"

Indian Among Penitents

Among the trailhitters was Joe Turn, an Indian boy, whose home is in Nebraska, and who has been a football and baseball player at the Carlisle Indian School, from which he was recently expelled on account of drinking. He declared his intention of leading a Christian life and of returning to his home as soon as possible. Another man who is well known to all members of the Stough party leaped from among the trailhitters to the platform and declared that he had been a Christian, but wanted to seek forgiveness for a recent departure from the narrow path. He said he had been converted in Sunbury during the campaign and had come to Harrisburg to visit the Stough party, but he had several hours' good time, during which he made a fool of himself. He felt the necessity to hit the trail again to make himself right with God.

Urges Family Altar

There were ten married couples and many husbands without their wives. Stough told all of them it is his desire to start a family altar in every home in the city and asked them to pledge themselves to follow this practice.

Must Be Various Sects

At the afternoon service Dr. Stough spoke before a small audience of church people from the seventeenth chapter of John, the "Prayer of Prayers," in which Christ, just before his crucifixion, prayed to God to glorify him and to preserve his disciples in unity and truth. The main trend of the sermon was theological.

Dr. Stough said it is a glorious thing for so many churches of different denominations to combine in an evangelistic campaign and bring various creeds together on one level, pointing to the uniformity of religion, which is coming more and more to be the spirit of the age. However, he expressed the opinion that it would not be wise to wipe out all denominations because slight differences in opinions will always exist among thinking people.

STOUGH CAMPAIGN NOTES

The Wormleysburg male quartet, composed of H. B. Baker, H. M. Doepf, S. R. Neidhamer and E. A. Doepf, sang a selection at the opening of the services in the tabernacle last evening.

The Elliott-Fisher Typewriter Company employees' delegation, 500 strong, composed of men and women, attended the services last evening.

Seventy-eight persons hit the trail at last night's meeting. The total number of trailhitters to date is 4,254.

The Modern Woodmen of America, No. 3250, had a delegation present last night.

The ladies' chorus sang two selections, "Rock of Ages" and "He Pilots Me," last evening.

The Royal Arcanum and Artisans' Order of Mutual Protection patriotic delegations were in attendance last evening.

To-night a delegation from Dauphin, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, Sons of Veterans and the ladies' auxiliaries, will attend the tabernacle services.

High school night will be held tomorrow. Delegations from this city, Enola, New Cumberland, Steelton, Marysville and Rockville will attend and sing their songs and give yells. The Harrisburg Railways Company will also send a delegation.

Miss Eggleston held a big meeting yesterday at the Paxtang schoolhouse, where two schools were present. She spoke on the "Gospel in a Nutshell."

Meetings will be held for children at West Fairview Methodist Episcopal Church after school to-day, and tomorrow Miss Eggleston will speak to Marysville school children.

LIVE WIRE WORKERS

F. E. Fornwalt, of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, was a member of the party of seventy that merged into the "Hazleton Trippers" organization. He has been intensely interested in all of the preliminary work of the campaign. He is one of the leaders of many prayer meetings. He was one of the leaders of singing in many of the Sunday afternoon mass meetings held in this city and vicinity. Mr. Fornwalt is an efficient member of the men's work committee and a member of the campaign chorus.

Ralph E. Boswell, the chairman of the Stough campaign census committee, has been a resident of Harrisburg since 1906. In 1909 he joined the Stevens Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, Thirteenth and Vernon streets. Shortly after this he was elected secretary of the Men's Bible Class and in 1912 was elected general secretary of the Sunday school, one of the largest in the city. He is teacher of a large Bible class of young girls and the assistant secretary of the official board of the church. A year or so ago the Stevens Memorial

MERGER APPROVED BY STATE'S BOARD

New York Central Lines May Consolidate the Several Roads Mentioned in New Deal

The Public Service Commission last night ordered that a certificate of public convenience issue approving the consolidation and merger in the matter of the petition of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, the Geneva, Corning and Southern, and the Dunkirk, Allegheny Valley and Pittsburgh Railway Companies for leave to consolidate with other railroad companies into the New York Central. Substantially the same action has been taken by the Interstate Commerce Commission and by the Public Service Commission of New York State.

A protest against the merger was filed by minority stockholders on the ground that it would be unconstitutional, but the commission's inquiry developed that the consolidation is not within the language of the prohibition in the constitution, inasmuch as no corporation consolidates with or purchases the works or franchises of another corporation owning or controlling a competing or parallel line.

The commission declares, however, that the approval of the merger is not an approval of the purchase and its legality may be questioned at any time in a proper manner before a proper tribunal. The stock remains in precisely the same situation after such merger as it was before, in fact the merger is based upon a statutory right which exists even though the parties may have participated in many unlawful transactions. To refuse the merger would in no way correct the supposed difficulty. If the commission were to assume jurisdiction of this question and should find that the stock was held and is now held illegally it ought to compel a disposition of such stock, but it has no such power. In fact the contention appears to be based upon the illogical thought that if a party to a controversy has committed offenses, he may be denied by way of penalty his legal rights. This, however, is not the law. Even professional burglar may make a valid will.

The commission makes it plain that the certificate will evidence the commission's approval only of the consolidation or merger, and the commission expresses no opinion as to the effect of the ownership by the consolidated company of the majority of the stock of the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company.
