Pretty Blue-Eyed Baby of 10 Months Abandoned by Parents

Suitcase Full of Clothes and Youngster Shoved Into Steelton Man's Parlor

A pretty, blue-eyed, taffy-haired baby, 10 months old, was thrust into the parlor at the home of John Ludwig, 122 South Front street, late Wednesday evening and abandoned by its parents. A suitcase full of clothes was left with the infant, but no note or letter was left by which it might be identified. Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig were sitting in their dining room when they heard their parlor door opened and closed. Immediately afterward they heard the plaintive wail of the abandoned child. Hastening to the street they saw a man and woman hurrying away about a block farther up the street. Before Mr. Ludwig could follow them they had disappeared.

BURGLARS GET AWAY FROM TARDY POLICE

Woman Frightens Thieves; Escape Before Cops Arrive; Robbery Under Arc Light

By her pluck and presence of mind early this morning Miss Elizabeth Bowman, of 248 North Front street, frightened off two thieves in the act of robbing the wholesale liquor store of F. E. Smith, directly across the street from her home. But for the tardy response of the borough's police, her plucky act, it is believed, would have resulted in the capture of both men.

Miss Bowman was awakened from her sleep about 3.45 o'clock this morning by the crash of glass. Going to her bedroom window, she saw two men, one outside and the other inside the liquor store, helping themselves to quart bottles of high-priced whisky.

Going back to her bureau drawer, Miss Bowman grabbed her revolver and fired a shot from her bedroom window. The patrolman on this beat, according to Chief of Police Hiram Longaker, heard the shot. He had passed the place just a few minutes before.

In the meantime F. E. Smith, proprietor of the store, whose residence is immediately across the storeroom, sprang from his bed, dressed and went downstairs. He saw two men running up Front street. He fired a shot at them, but they made good their escape. The "cops" came.

Immediately in front of the store a large arc light burns and at this time of the morning men are beginning to travel the street. The thieves got away with six quarts of whisky.

With one hundred members and guests present, the fourth annual venison dinner of the Steelton Club was held in the big hall above the club-rooms at Front and Locust streets last evening.

Stroup, Deputy State Fire Marshal W. T. Morgan, Arthur Slicker, M. L. McNew, Clark McClure, John Fisher, R. C. Eckels and Lawrence Eckels. Germans Admit Loss of Warships in Naval Fight

Berlin, via London, Dec. 11, 8.30 a. m.—In a statement issued today, the German Admiralty makes this comment on the British naval victory in the South Atlantic off the Falkland Islands: "The British Admiralty does not say in its statement of the battle, that our squadron had been on the high seas for four months without means of communication, either cable or otherwise, and had been without any port where it could put in for repairs or supplies. Despite this it always obtained coal." In a previous official statement the Admiralty reproduced the communication of the British Admiralty regarding the sinking of the German cruisers and added: "Our losses seem to have been great. Concerning the strength of the enemy, whose losses are reported to be small, the English dispatch says nothing."

Optical Offices of Rubin & Rubin Enlarged

Having taken the large room adjoining their usual quarters, the Rubin & Rubin offices and optical parlors now occupy double the former space. This was necessary because of the steadily increasing business since this optical firm was established in 1902. Branch offices have also been established in other cities and towns throughout the State. The newly enlarged quarters have been altered and redecorated. Among the added conveniences is a testing department so arranged as to darken to the best possible advantage. The latest appliances in the line of mechanical equipment has also been installed. Levin R. Rubin has been in charge of the local headquarters ever since it was opened, in October, 1902.—Advertisement.

STATE GUARDSMEN RESENT REMARKS

The State organizations that are admittedly efficient, is undermining the confidence of many of the people in the militia. Now that's pretty strong, but I mean it. It is humiliating to the men who are interested in the service and who are performing a patriotic duty in undergoing training; devoting time and attention to the advancement of the organized militia. Further, such statements are interfering with enlistments. When you take into consideration that one man in every hundred in the 8,000,000 men in this country is doing his duty in regard to military service it is rather disconcerting to hear such things said.

It is a well-known fact that some organizations in the Guard are always maintained at a maximum of men, but some are always moving below because of expiration of enlistments, which makes the drop only temporary. No reference is made by Washington people to the fact that there are organizations of the regular army that are often times below the minimum in strength and whose officers are absent on other duty. "What is apparently a crime in the organized militia is evidently a virtue in the regular army" in the language of a man talking about it here to-day.

STATE IS READY TO MEET KING WINTER

Highway Department Prepared For Outbreak of Rough Weather on the Main Roads

Work on the highways of the State system has practically been completed and within a short time work will stop for the winter. In a few localities where weather conditions have been favorable contractors have been pushing the construction work, but otherwise the highway work is shut down. Preparations have been made by the department to handle deep snows on the State highway system and the experience gained in the heavy falls of last winter will come in valuable in organizing and pushing the work. It is the idea to resume work as early as possible in the Spring if circumstances permit.

Attorneys are getting ready for the presentation to the Supreme Court of the appeal from the decision of the Dauphin county court in automobile license revenue case and it is to be presented in January at Philadelphia. This case was continued from October.

Trying to Find Out.—State livestock officials are making an effort to ascertain exactly how many cases of foot and mouth disease have appeared in Pennsylvania and the full value of all cattle killed and men are now visiting each county to collect the information. While it is impossible to estimate the cost to the State of the outbreak it is feared by some that it will go to $400,000. The number of cases was probably five times as many as in 1908. The order which will permit admission of cattle into the state for immediate slaughter will prevent any meat famine due to the quarantine it is said. The general situation is reported as improving.

The Coal Case.—Attorneys for the State and coal companies are preparing for a battle royal in the Dauphin county court on January 4 when the appeals from payment of the anthracite coal tax will be argued. These cases involve over 99 per cent. of the anthracite coal tax assessed and the decision will govern in the tax to be assessed for 1914. An appeal to the Supreme Court will follow the Dauphin decision and it may get into the United States courts because of the interstate shipments. Lawyers for the companies contended that the coal could not be assessed when out of the State.

Basis of Valuations.—Banking Commissioner William H. Smith to-day declined to make any statement regarding the valuation of securities held by State banks and trust companies, but it was learned at the Capitol that the examiners were taking the latest quotations on sales and using them as a basis for valuations in their reports for the private information of the department. After the stock exchanges closed on July 30 the most reliable information on sales of securities at that time was taken, but since the exchanges have reopened it is understood that quotations have been taken and employed in making the estimates for the use of the department.

Goat For Mutton.—Six arrests for the sale of goat's meat as mutton in Philadelphia are included in a list of forty-one prosecutions brought by the State Dairy and Food division in the last two days. In addition to these six actions nine arrests were made in Philadelphia for the sale of eggs unfit to eat and four for sale of bad fish. The other arrests were chiefly for violation of milk laws and were in Montgomery, Lackawanna and several western counties.

Trustees for Adams.—Governor Tener to-day appointed the following trustees of the mothers' pension fund for Adams county: Mrs. W. Arch McLean, Mrs. D. P. McPherson, Gettysburg; Mrs. William Himes, Jr., New Oxford; Mrs. J. J. Hill, Littlestown; Mrs. Jacob Leschy, York Springs; Mrs. W. S. Adams, Hendersville; Mrs. William Rebert, Cashtown.

Named as Trustee.—Claton D. Fretz, of Sellersville, was to-day appointed a trustee of the Pennsylvania State Hospital for the Insane at Norris-town.

Appointed Justice.—Howard C. Oren, New Cumberland, was to-day appointed justice for Lower Allen township, Cumberland county.

Berk to the Front.—The register of Wills of Berks county paid the State $75,000 as collateral inheritance tax. This is the largest payment of this kind ever made from that county.

Going Over Plans.—Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon and Acting Chief Engineer C. A. Emerson, Jr., of the Department of Health are in Philadelphia in consultation of the plans for improvement of Philadelphia sewerage. The whole general plan is being gone over.

EXPECT DEADLOCK OF DIRECTORS TO END

o'clock the situation will stand as follows on the choice for the presidency for the ensuing year: For Mr. Boyer—Directors Boll, Fohl, Kennedy and Saul. For Mr. Houtz—Directors Boyer, Werner and Yates. For Dr. Yates—Directors Bretz and Houtz.

Boyer Followed Old Custom
Dr. Yates was not nominated as a regular candidate, Messrs. Bretz and Houtz having cast their votes for him. President Boyer has consistently voted for Mr. Houtz, in accordance with the usual parliamentary reciprocity custom whereby candidates usually exchange votes with each other.

Several reports in connection with the possible outcome of the meeting were current in school and city circles to-day. One was to the effect that some taxpayers contemplated mandamusing the directors into court to show why they should not be ousted and a new board appointed in order that an election of a president and other officers necessary to completed the school board organization might be named. One director said he heard such a rumor, but didn't place much faith in it. He did say, however, that he believed the school code provided for no such contingency as the present deadlock and that the law made mandatory the election of a president on the first Monday of December.

In the Fight to Stay
Another rumor was to the effect that President Boyer had been asked to withdraw his name. This he admitted to be true.

"But you certainly can say that I have no intention of doing anything of the kind," said he.

"I'm in the fight to stay—and," he concluded smilingly, "I don't intend to vote for myself either."

Five votes will be necessary to reach a choice. As Dr. Yates really isn't a regular candidate, it is believed that the problem will be settled by either Mr. Fretz voting for Mr. Boyer or by Mr. Houtz returning his own fellow-candidate's complimentary vote—or by Messrs. Bretz and Houtz both turning in for Mr. Houtz.

The kindly feeling which the teachers of the city have for Mr. Boyer was never more heartily or significantly expressed than last evening when he entered Technical high school, a forum to attend the lecture to more than 300 school instructors delivered by Dr. J. Leonard Lewy, rabbi of the Pittsburgh Temple. The teachers, as thus quoted in a dispatch published by the Matin. The quotation continues: "The Rumanian nation, democratic and liberal in its culture, must not commit such a crime. The war offers a unique opportunity for it to realize its program without endangering the independence of its liberties of the kingdom."

SAYS NATIONS KEEPING OUT OF WAR COMMIT SUICIDE
Paris, Dec. 11, 4.30 a. m.—"Any nation keeping out of the present struggle commits moral, political and economic suicide," Take Jonsenev, Rumanian Minister of the Interior, is thus quoted in a dispatch published by the Matin. The quotation continues: "The Rumanian nation, democratic and liberal in its culture, must not commit such a crime. The war offers a unique opportunity for it to realize its program without endangering the independence of its liberties of the kingdom."

HEARD ON THE HILL
—Secretary of the Commonwealth McAfee has returned to Pittsburgh. He is still suffering from a severe cold.

—Dr. B. F. Royer, chief medical inspector, will go to Philadelphia to-night to attend a dinner.

CONGRESSMAN PAYNE DIES IN WASHINGTON

because he had apparently been in the best of health and was in his seat in the House as usual yesterday.

Mr. Payne died without friend or relative near. His body was found shortly after 11 o'clock lying on the floor of his apartment beside the telephone which he had but a few moments before used to ask the house clerk that a physician be sent for. The coroner pronounced death as due to heart failure, complicated with organic troubles.

The body will be taken to his old home at Auburn, N. Y., for burial.

Committees from both houses of Congress will attend the funeral.

Announced Officially
Mr. Payne's death was announced officially in the houses of Congress to-day. Following the usual custom, resolutions of sympathy were adopted and committees appointed to attend the funeral.

Mr. Payne's death removes a notable figure from the House. He served in that body for more than a quarter of a century, during which time he had taken a conspicuous part in the framing of tariff measures, having been recognized as one of the foremost authorities on the subject. Mr. Payne was elected to the Forty-eighth Congress and was returned thereafter to every Congress except the Fiftyeth.
