Movement Points to Accumulation of Week-end Buying

New York, Dec. 14. — Business on the Stock Exchange to-day opened with every outward indication of a restoration of normal conditions. The general rise in prices which marked the resumption of operations last Saturday was continued, though fewer issues were traded in during the first haif hour. During that period trading was limited to the Copper group, which hose 1 to 2½ points. Reading, Lehigh Valley, Erie and St. Paul also materially extended last Saturdays gains. Atchison and Fennsylvania were smoothation. The movement pointed to an accumulation of week-end buying or short contracts.

Transactions in the first hour were 40 per cent. in excess of that period last Saturday. Although realizing for profits was general, it failed to check the further advance. Coppers continued to climb, their movement being at a tributed to a combination of better trade considerations, relative cheapness and speculative possibilities. In the railway group Pennsylvania recovered. At the Clearing House United States Steel sold at 50%, 1½ under July 30 closing, with Union Pacific at 1.8%—an advance of 13 Canadian Facific was 15%, bid, offered at 188.

NOTICE — Letters Testamentary on the Estate of Mary E. Winters late of

W .L. GORGAS, Cashier,

Coach Robert Zuppke Never Played in a Football Game, Nor Earned a Letter

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 14.—That a coach need not have had active experience to be successful, has at last been proven. The University of Illinois eleven won the western championship this season with the aid of Robert Capaches.

proven. The University of Illinois eleven won the western championship this season with the aid of Robert Zuppke, a coach who never played in a game. Zuppke gaduated from the University of Wisconsin without even winning his "W."

When a student at Madison, Zuppke showed his football brains by watching the Varsity from the side lines and storing his mind with improvaments in the work of the eleven, by which its efficiency might be increased. Finally, he mustered up courage to impart several of them to the head coach, who was sufficiently broad-aminded to see the good in them; after that, Zuppke's advice was freely sought in tactical matters.

After graduation he went to Musketon and coached the team there into the championship. His work was so good that Oak Park High School, in Chicago, offered him a position at a good salary. He developed a joke team into a worldbeater among high school elevens. Zuppke taught Ghee, the Dartmouth quarterback, the rudiments of football. He taught Pele Russell, the Chicago quarterback. He runed out Macomber, one of the best halfbacks in the West, and he turned out a score of others who since have made their marks in college football. There were some among the Illinois athletic authorities who were against giving Zuppke the job, on the ground that he never had played on a big college eleven. But the majority favored Zuppke's apolitment. In his first speech to his new charkes Zuppke said:

"Boys, we will have a motto, and that motto shall be, 'We don't get hurt'. And, in the second place, we will play along the theory that there isn't a football eleven in the world that can beat us. In the third place, boys, when you go against a team that outweighs you, don't worry. Use your brains. Where brawn and bulk are lacking, brains will turn the trick."
