The Debutantes Are in the Limelight; Miss Coe's Invitations Out

Never in the history of the city has the dance taken such a hold on social life, and the holiday season promises to be one of unusual festivity. The debutantes are in the limelight, of course, and the events are in their honor or complimentary to visitors in town.

This morning cards were issued by Mrs. William Henderson and her sister, Mrs. Sanford DeWitt Coe, for a tea, Tuesday afternoon, December 29, from 4 to 6 o'clock, at Mrs. Henderson's residence, 25 North Front street, to introduce Miss Dora Wickersham Coe to society. Miss Leavitt Wickersham, the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wickersham, of Lancaster, and a cousin of Miss Coe's, will also be a guest of honor. The tea will be followed by a dinner dance, with the Lesser orchestra playing.

COUNTRY CLUB DANCE FOR MISS CARNEY

Attractive Decorations in Holiday Style at Last Evening's Event

A wonderfully attractive decorative scheme prevailed at the Country Club of Harrisburg last evening for the dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Snow to Miss Louise Carney and the debutantes of the season.

The walls of the ballroom were hung in southern sash with brilliant butterflies, gay blue parrots and grotesque monkeys peering out from the foliage. The lights were shaded in gold, the pillars and banisters wound with the sash and the little lanterns was turned into a real pine grove with myriads of tiny trees. Outside on the window ledges nestled little trees, snow covered, in contrast to the warmth of the scene inside.

The music was most inspiring; Robert Ogelsby, of Chester, was at the piano assisted by a violinist and trap drummer, and not only all the new steps were danced but some of the older favorites as well.

The hostess was charming in gold colored satin embroidered in turquoise beads. Her bouquets were of Irish flame roses and lilies-of-the-valley caught with golden gauze. Miss Carney wore an exquisite frock of palest blue satin netting and carried an arm bunch of orchids and roses. Others in the receiving line were Miss Mary Meyers, Miss Katharine Etter, Miss Dora Wickersham Coe, Miss Frances Morrison, Miss Kathryn Jackson, Miss Eleanor Neale Clark, Miss Sara Denehey and Miss Arta Williams.
