BRUMBAUGH GUEST AT TESTIMONIAL DINNER

John Wanamaker, Mayor Blankenburg and Others Pay Tribute to Governor-elect

Governor-elect Martin G. Brumbaugh was the guest of honor last night at a testimonial dinner at Philadelphia, given by the citizens of Philadelphia and members of several educational bodies with which he has been affiliated, as a tribute to his efficient work during the last eight years as superintendent of schools in that city.

JOS. D. BRENNER
Diamond Merchant and Jeweler
No. 1 North Third St.

More than 600 persons attended. John Wanamaker, in a few terse phrases, expressed Philadelphia's attitude toward both Doctor Brumbaugh and the "political generals" who endeavor to influence the action of executives. Mr. Wanamaker and Mayor Blankenburg headed a list of speakers, including men prominent in various phases of public endeavor, who joined in congratulating the educator on his record of brilliant achievement as superintendent of schools and wishing him equal success in his building career as a statesman.

Speaking of Doctor Brumbaugh in terms of warmest praise, Mr. Wanamaker said: "He was elected by the people. He belongs to the people, and to the people of Pennsylvania, over and above all parties, he must render his final account.

"Illustrious as have been his predecessors in the gubernatorial chair, he can be no common or perfunctory governor to simply execute the mandates of political generals. The federal patronage has no right to claim control of the State, or city offices. Each branch of the government has its own proprietary rights."

Those who supplemented Mr. Wanamaker's words with sincere praise of Doctor Brumbaugh for his past work included ex-Judge Dimmer Beeber, Henry Houck, Provost Edgar Fahs Smith, of the University of Pennsylvania; President Joseph Swain, of Swarthmore College; Mrs. Edwin C. Grice, president of the Home and School League; Otto T. Mallory and Franklin Spencer Edmonds.

Mayor Blankenburg predicted a splendid era for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania under the administration of Doctor Brumbaugh, whom he said would always be remembered as a great public teacher, no matter how many governorships or even higher offices he might occupy.

In the course of the dinner John Wanamaker made a plea for America to work for peace.

"It is incredible," said Mr. Wanamaker, "that this country ever should permit the exportation of guns, of powder, of shot and shell and the other munitions of battle to any of the belligerents, when it means only a prolongation of the bitter strife, with all the suffering it inevitably must inflict upon every nation involved.

"Far better that we, the beneficiaries of peace and happiness, should unite to cast our whole strength and our whole effort, to accomplish an adjustment which may restore the tranquility and the safety of the thousands of men, women and children whose whole future now is at stake."

ADMIRAL CHARLES S. BADGER
Recently retired commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, who told the House committee on naval affairs that our navy should have at least forty-eight first-class dreadnaughts in the first line, 100 submarines, ample air craft of the various types and an adequate number of auxiliaries. Admiral Badger is now a member of the General Naval Board.
