A Trial Will Convince Anyone—The Great Kidney Remedy Makes Friends

A few years ago I was troubled with a complication of kidney and stomach ailments and although I tried two or three different doctors, I was unable to obtain a cure. Having heard a great deal about Swamp-Root, I decided to give a trial and purchased a one-dollar bottle of Mr. Alexander's drug, and myself a lot of suffering.

Had I began using Swamp-Root sooner, I would have been a few hundred dollars to the good and saved myself a lot of suffering. You may wish my testimony any time you wish. Yours very truly,

CHARLES E. HARRIS,

Marion, Iowa.

I certify that Charles E. Harris signed the above testimonial in my presence, being first duly sworn to the truth thereof, this 12th day of July, 1909.

EXTENSION BRANCH CLOSING FOR HOLIDAYS

University School Has Been Helping Scores of Young Men and Women Throughout City

PLAN BIG SMOKER-LECTURE

"Songfest" Marks Close of Fall Term; Big Time Tonight at Tech High School

After a most successful Fall term, the Harrisburg Branch of the University of Pennsylvania Extension School, will close for the annual Christmas vacation to-night.

By way of celebrating the close of the term the students will gather this evening in the Technical High School for a "songfest." There are about 150 students in the school and with the aid of a piano, donated by the J. H. Troup Music House, the young men and women will surely make things hum. College songs and informal speeches will be heard in the evening.

Professor Wendell P. Raine, instructor in business law, who saw to the preliminary organization of the school, was in the city yesterday and to-day, and he says the university authorities are greatly pleased with the work being done in Harrisburg. The local branch has by far the largest enrollment of any other school group and Professor Raine says the enthusiasm being shown here is greater than in any other school of the State where similar branches are being conducted.

Scores of young men and women from the business houses throughout the city have been acquiring technical training along business lines, the results of which, their employers say, can already be seen in the work turned out by these students. The school is exactly similar to that done in the parent school in Philadelphia.

The school has been divided into two terms. The first term will end January 21, when the "midyear" will be held. This year's "midyear" will be held, and Provost Edgar Fahs Smith, of the university, will give an illustrated lecture on "University Life." The Christmas holidays will end January 4, at 7:45 p. m., when class work will be resumed.

What Is Christmas Without Coal?

It's pretty hard to imagine a Christmas spent in a cold, damp and gloomy house.

Yet you would be surprised at the number of families this year that are not able to have coal to keep themselves warm.

This has been an exceptionally hard year for the poor people and if you could arrange to send a needy family a small amount of coal you will be doing an act of justice.

Coal for a Christmas Gift is about as acceptable a gift as you can think of.
