

PERFUMES POPULAR GIFT, DESPITE TAX

Dealers Sell Hundreds of Boxes to Christmas Shoppers; Foreign Supply Nearly Gone

The demand for perfume and sachet has not decreased since the war tax was placed on this line of goods. The Christmas shopper need not worry about the imported lines because France is still sending a sufficient supply to the New York importers for distribution over the United States.

The foreign supply is not expected to last over the holidays and this will give the American manufacturers an increase in business. Many of these firms are busy now getting ready to supply any demand for their perfumes.

Among the many beautiful ways in which these luxuries are sealed for delivery are the quaintly shaped vases impressed with holly and mistletoe decoration, clouded jars, which break up the color of the perfume into a dozen shades, and silver stoppers which give the last touch of elegance to the interesting Christmas displays.

Tree "Trimnings" Are Needed at Dispensary

Christmas tree "trimmings" tinsel, vari-colored balls and baubles, chains and things that help make the Yuletide tree worth looking upon, are needed at the State dispensary for the treatment of tuberculosis, 196 North Second street.

The staff of the dispensary will provide the tree, and it is said that special arrangements have been made between Santa and the doctors and nurses, to furnish a tree that will be some tree. But necessary trimmings are lacking and so the dispensary authorities have appealed to Harrisburg folks for donations in that line particularly. Dr. C. R. Phillips is in charge of the celebration.

So, if in addition to clothing and toys and things, you have some trimmings for the tree that you do not need, just call up the dispensary and someone will call for the donation, or better still, send 'em around yourself.

Christmas Trees Go Up in City's Firehouses

Yuletide will be observed by nearly every fire company in Harrisburg. Trees trimmed with sparkling tinsel and electric lights will stand in many a fire house.

Members of the Citizen Fire Company will start work to-night trimming the tree. Members of the Washington Fire Company say they will have the largest and most complete tree in the city. "Washy" members have been celebrating Christmas annually. The Paxton and Reilly Hose Fire Companies will also observe the holidays by erecting Christmas trees.

EXPRESS BUSINESS HEAVY

Christmas business is taxing the Adams Express Company. Local forces will be doubled between now and Christmas. To-day a dozen more employees were put on at the main office and substations. Four more wagons were put on. On Monday three automobiles will be placed in service.

Edward E. Sanford, general agent for the Adams Express Company, reported to-day that express business is far ahead of that of last year. Deliveries and collections will be made night and day throughout next week. Extra express cars have been added to all trains. The company has also established a branch agency at 44 North Third street for the convenience of shoppers.

ELECTRICITY IN HOTELS.

Use Fluid For Elevator, Lighting and Cooking, Heating Services in Hosteries.

Hotel service would be vastly different from what it is without electricity. One large New York hotel is equipped with 1200 small motors which are used throughout the building to do the hardest work, formerly done by servants. This number is exclusive of the 1000 small motors used to drive ceiling, desk and bracket fans. The coal and ashes are conveyed by electricity; it pumps the water, drives a complete machine and repair shop, and the motor power is extensively used in the kitchen for peeling vegetables, chopping meat, for vegetable mashing, for soup straining and mixing, for turning roasting spits, for dough mixing, for ice cream freezing, for crumbing bread, for grinding coffee, for polishing silver and for dish washing. Motors also operate the machinery in the laundry, and convey the food from kitchen to serving rooms. Even the heating system is operated by motors which circulate the warmed air to all parts of the building.

The main use of electricity in hotels is for illumination. Electricity is also used in cooking in hotels. A few hotels and large restaurants are now equipped with complete electric kitchens where all the cooking is done by electricity. A number of heating and cooking devices, such as electric toasters, percolators, grills, etc., are extensively used in most hotel kitchens as auxiliaries to the gas and coal ranges.

HOW TO SAVE ELECTRICITY.

A Few Simple Rules for Householders whereby They Can Save on Their Electric Lighting Bills.

An illuminating engineer of the General Electric Company, in a recent discourse, gave the following helpful rules for caring for electric lights in the house to secure the best light efficiency at the smallest expense: Dust lamp globes and shades as often as the furniture is dusted, or at least once a week. Keep a supply of unused Mazda lamps, of various sizes, in the house. Don't wait until the lamps are broken or burned out before securing new lamps. Don't keep empty lamp sockets about the house, cap all sockets filled with proper sized lamps. Don't use light absorbing shades just because they look pretty. Use reflectors made purposely to direct the light as necessary. Don't use focusing reflectors where a diffusing reflector is proper. Use small 19-watt lamps for
