CHARLES COMISKEY PICKS MINOR LEADER

Clarence H. Rowland to Manage The White Sox Next Season; Other Changes

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 18.—Picking Clarence Henry Rowland, manager of Peoria, Ill., a class B team, to manage the White Sox, was yesterday's sensation in the baseball world.

Many Chicago baseball followers had never heard of Rowland, but in professional baseball circles he was well known as a successful manager of minor league clubs.

The new leader left the ranks of players for his first manager's position at Aberdeen, Wash., in 1908. Thence he went to Jacksonville, Ill., and then returned to Dubuque, Iowa, where he was part owner and manager of the Dubuque Three-I League club. Last season he managed the Peoria team, in the Three-I League, taking it from last place to second.

Rowland will assume his new duties soon. His arrival will be the signal for the retirement of James J. Callahan, who has led the Chicago Americans three seasons. Callahan will be appointed to some position connected with the business affairs of the club.

The disposition of "Kid" Gleason, coach and adviser to Callahan, was not given out, but it was rumored he might be appointed manager of the New York Americans.

The shift in management with the appointment of Eddie Collins as captain in place of Weaver indicates a change in the field policy of the White Sox.

Brickley Star Point Maker; Records Will Stand Long Time

Up to Time of Illness Was Harvard's Life Saver; Best Season Four Years Ago

New York, Dec. 18.—Speaking of records and averages brings to mind the fact that Charles Edward Brickley, the captain of the Harvard University team of 1914, will leave quite some figures behind him when he is graduated next spring.

Brickley since he entered Harvard as a freshman in 1911 has piled up 287 points for the Crimson, 65 of which were made on the freshman eleven and the balance as a varsity player.

During the three years that Brickley played on the varsity eleven Harvard teams scored 588 points, of which he made 222. In view of the fact that he figured in but two of the nine games of the 1914 schedule, his record is all the more remarkable. If it had not been for his attack of appendicitis and the following operation early in October it is quite likely that Brickley would have scored more than 50 per cent of the points made by the Crimson teams of 1912-13-14. As it is, this record, which follows, will afford a high mark at which future football stars can aim:

Year.	Touch-downs.	Goals.	Field Goals.	Total
1911	5	10	0	65
1912	10	0	13	99
1913	8	0	11	81
1914	6	3	1	42
Totals	30	8	35	287

xTouchdown counted 5 points in 1911.

CARLISLE INDIANS ELECT CALAC CAPTAIN

Was a Star Fullback Last Season; Varsity Men Receive Their Letters

Carlisle, Pa., Dec. 18.—Football at the Indian School will not be any less important next season because of the retirement of Coach Glenn S. Warner. This fact was demonstrated yesterday in the annual athletic meeting.

The Carlisle Indian football wearers of the "C," in acknowledgement of the sterling qualities of and brave fight made by Peter Calac, the fullback, who led the 1914 Indian football team in the fact of tremendous discouragements, elected the plucky Mission Indian from California football captain for 1915 by unanimous vote.

Calac is a clear-cut redskin of full blood and strong personality. He is well liked by his fellow-players and believes in hard work. His academic standing is creditable and along industrial lines he is proficient as a plumber. The new captain is 20 years old, weighs 168 pounds, is 5 feet 11 inches tall and has played one year as tackle and two as fullback.

The members of the Indian team who captured their letters are Wallace, a Chippewa; Welmas, a Mission Indian; Hill, from the Tuscarora Tribe; Morrin, a Chippewa; Burch, a Pomo; Martel, a Pottawatimie; Bird, a Cherokee; Lookaround, a Menominee; Henry and Fred Broker, Chippewas; Pratt, a Pottawatimie; Ranco, a Penobscot; Hawk Eagle, a Sioux; Gillman, a Chippewa, and Captain Calac.

The guards will be Clarence Hoar of Gettysburg, the well-known football star, and George Kunkel of the Franklin-Marshall team.

GARDNER SAYS U. S. NAVY IS IN BAD WAY

Millions Needed to Put It on Real War Footing, He Tells Committee

Washington, D. C., Dec. 18.—Representative Gardner was the principal witness to-day before the House naval committee. He read a long statement in support of his proposal for investigation of the national defenses of a special committee.

"I am here to ask you to appropriate for the full number of new ships recommended by the General Naval Board for this year's construction," he said. "I am sorry to say that Secretary Daniels' in his recommendation to Congress, has cut the naval board's building program for this year almost exactly in two.

"If you gentlemen had permitted me to present as witnesses a few recently retired officers, in a single day, the country would have learned of our deplorable policy of building warships for cold storage. Out of thirty completed battleships, do you know that twelve of them are unavailable without a long delay on account of our refusal to pay the bills for manning them?"

"If we had gone to war with the rest of the first class Powers early in August, do you realize that no less than nine of our battleships would not have been ready to fight? We have fifteen cruisers, twenty-two destroyers, eighteen torpedo-boats, five submarines and perhaps a dozen miscellaneous fighting ships kept in cold storage with the battleships. Eighty fighting vessels of our modest navy are not available for battle in an emergency. I charge that our navy is 18,000 men short and a further shortage of 40,000 men is in sight.

"We have just a dozen aeroplanes in the navy. Last year the aeroplanes board recommended an appropriation of $1,300,000. Instead of that sum, according to Captain Bristol, we let the aviation service spend only $200,000 or $400,000. Rear Admiral Straus tells us that all battleships in commission now, or which would be in commission before the Nevada and the Oklahoma are completed, are equipped with a short torpedo range, which may be considered obsolete for the battle fleet."

Think Overheated Pipe Caused Masonic Fire

Fire Chief John C. Kinder to-day made another examination of the Masonic temple building. He is of the opinion that yesterday's fire started from an overheated steam pipe, which came in contact with combustible material.

Work on repairing the damage to the building and lodgerooms started to-day. The kitchen will be rebuilt with concrete flooring in and about the gas ranges. No estimate has been made as to the positive loss. Insurance adjusters will start work to-morrow taking an inventory of the damage. Damage to the lodgeroom in which the meeting of Robert Burns Lodge was held last night was found to be slight.

Don't Let This One Bounce Off

Take this straight from Uncle, it won't cost you a red cent—when you are ready for a tobacco that will absolutely satisfy that craving for a smartless, biteless smoke that smells sweet and clean and tastes good and wholesome, just you mosey around to the nearest shop where they exchange pipe food for the coin of the Republic and ask for

This is the one tobacco in these good old U. S. A. that's minus the tongue bite and broil. Why? Because they're taken out by a patented process controlled exclusively by us.

Buy a tidy red tin of P. A., 10c, or a toppy red bag, 5c, to carry on your hip for pipe and cigarette ammunition; but for home and office use buy the joyous crystal-glass humidor that comes with a pound purchase of good old P. A. It keeps the tobacco pipe-fit and in prime smoking condition down to the last pipeful. Paste this little suggestion in your hat against Christmas—the P. A. crystal-glass humidor makes a man-size gifty gift.
