Counsel For Bridge and Railroad Companies Fix Rental Price at Sunbury

Special to The Telegraph Special to The Telegraph Sunbury, Pa., Dec. 2. — By agreement of counsel, the Sunbury Bridge Com-pany, operating a toll bridge across the Susquehama rise here, and the re-ting the second state of the susque-hama Railroad Company, have decided that the trolley corporation shall pay $1,500 yearly rental for using the struc-ture.

that the troley corporation shall pay s1.500 yearly rental for using the struc-ture. In 1969 a rental agreement of Body yearly was entered into. Then can be proposition in the State Legis-nature that the State take over all toll bridges. The same forces controlled the trolley and bridge corporation, and a secret agreement was entered into whereby but $1,000 was to be paid, it appearing that the management be-lieved it sufficient rental when the State became the owner. The bill was vetoed and the trolley corporation went into receivers' hands. They found the $1,000 rental agreement, of a later cate, and refused the $3,000, when de-manded by the bridge management. T. Larry Eyre, of West Che $10 wont into court, as vider company, and show that the $1,000 contract be de-chard void, as it was made without the knowledge of all of the bondhold-court, and its decision has been pend-ing for several months.

YOUNG WOMAN DESERTED Traveling Man Takes Her to Hagers-town and Then Rums Away Special to The Telgraph Hagerstown, Md., Dec. 22.—An at-tractive young woman, who said her home is in McConnellsburg, Pa., was deserted in this city by a man whom she claims brought her here under promise of marriage. The couple were in a taxicab and the driver, Fred Rohrer, had orders to take them to the Western Maryland depot. After arriving at the depot the man leaped from the taxicab and boarded the 12.40 a. m. train as it pulled out. Realizing that she had been deserted, the girl, who refused to give her name, wept piteously and asked the driver to take ther to some safe place. Rohrer drove with the girl to his home and his mother gave the distressed young wo-man asistance. She said her com-panion was a traveling man and that she left home on a promise made by him to marry her.
