

With The Telegraph's Best Wishes For A Very Merry Christmas

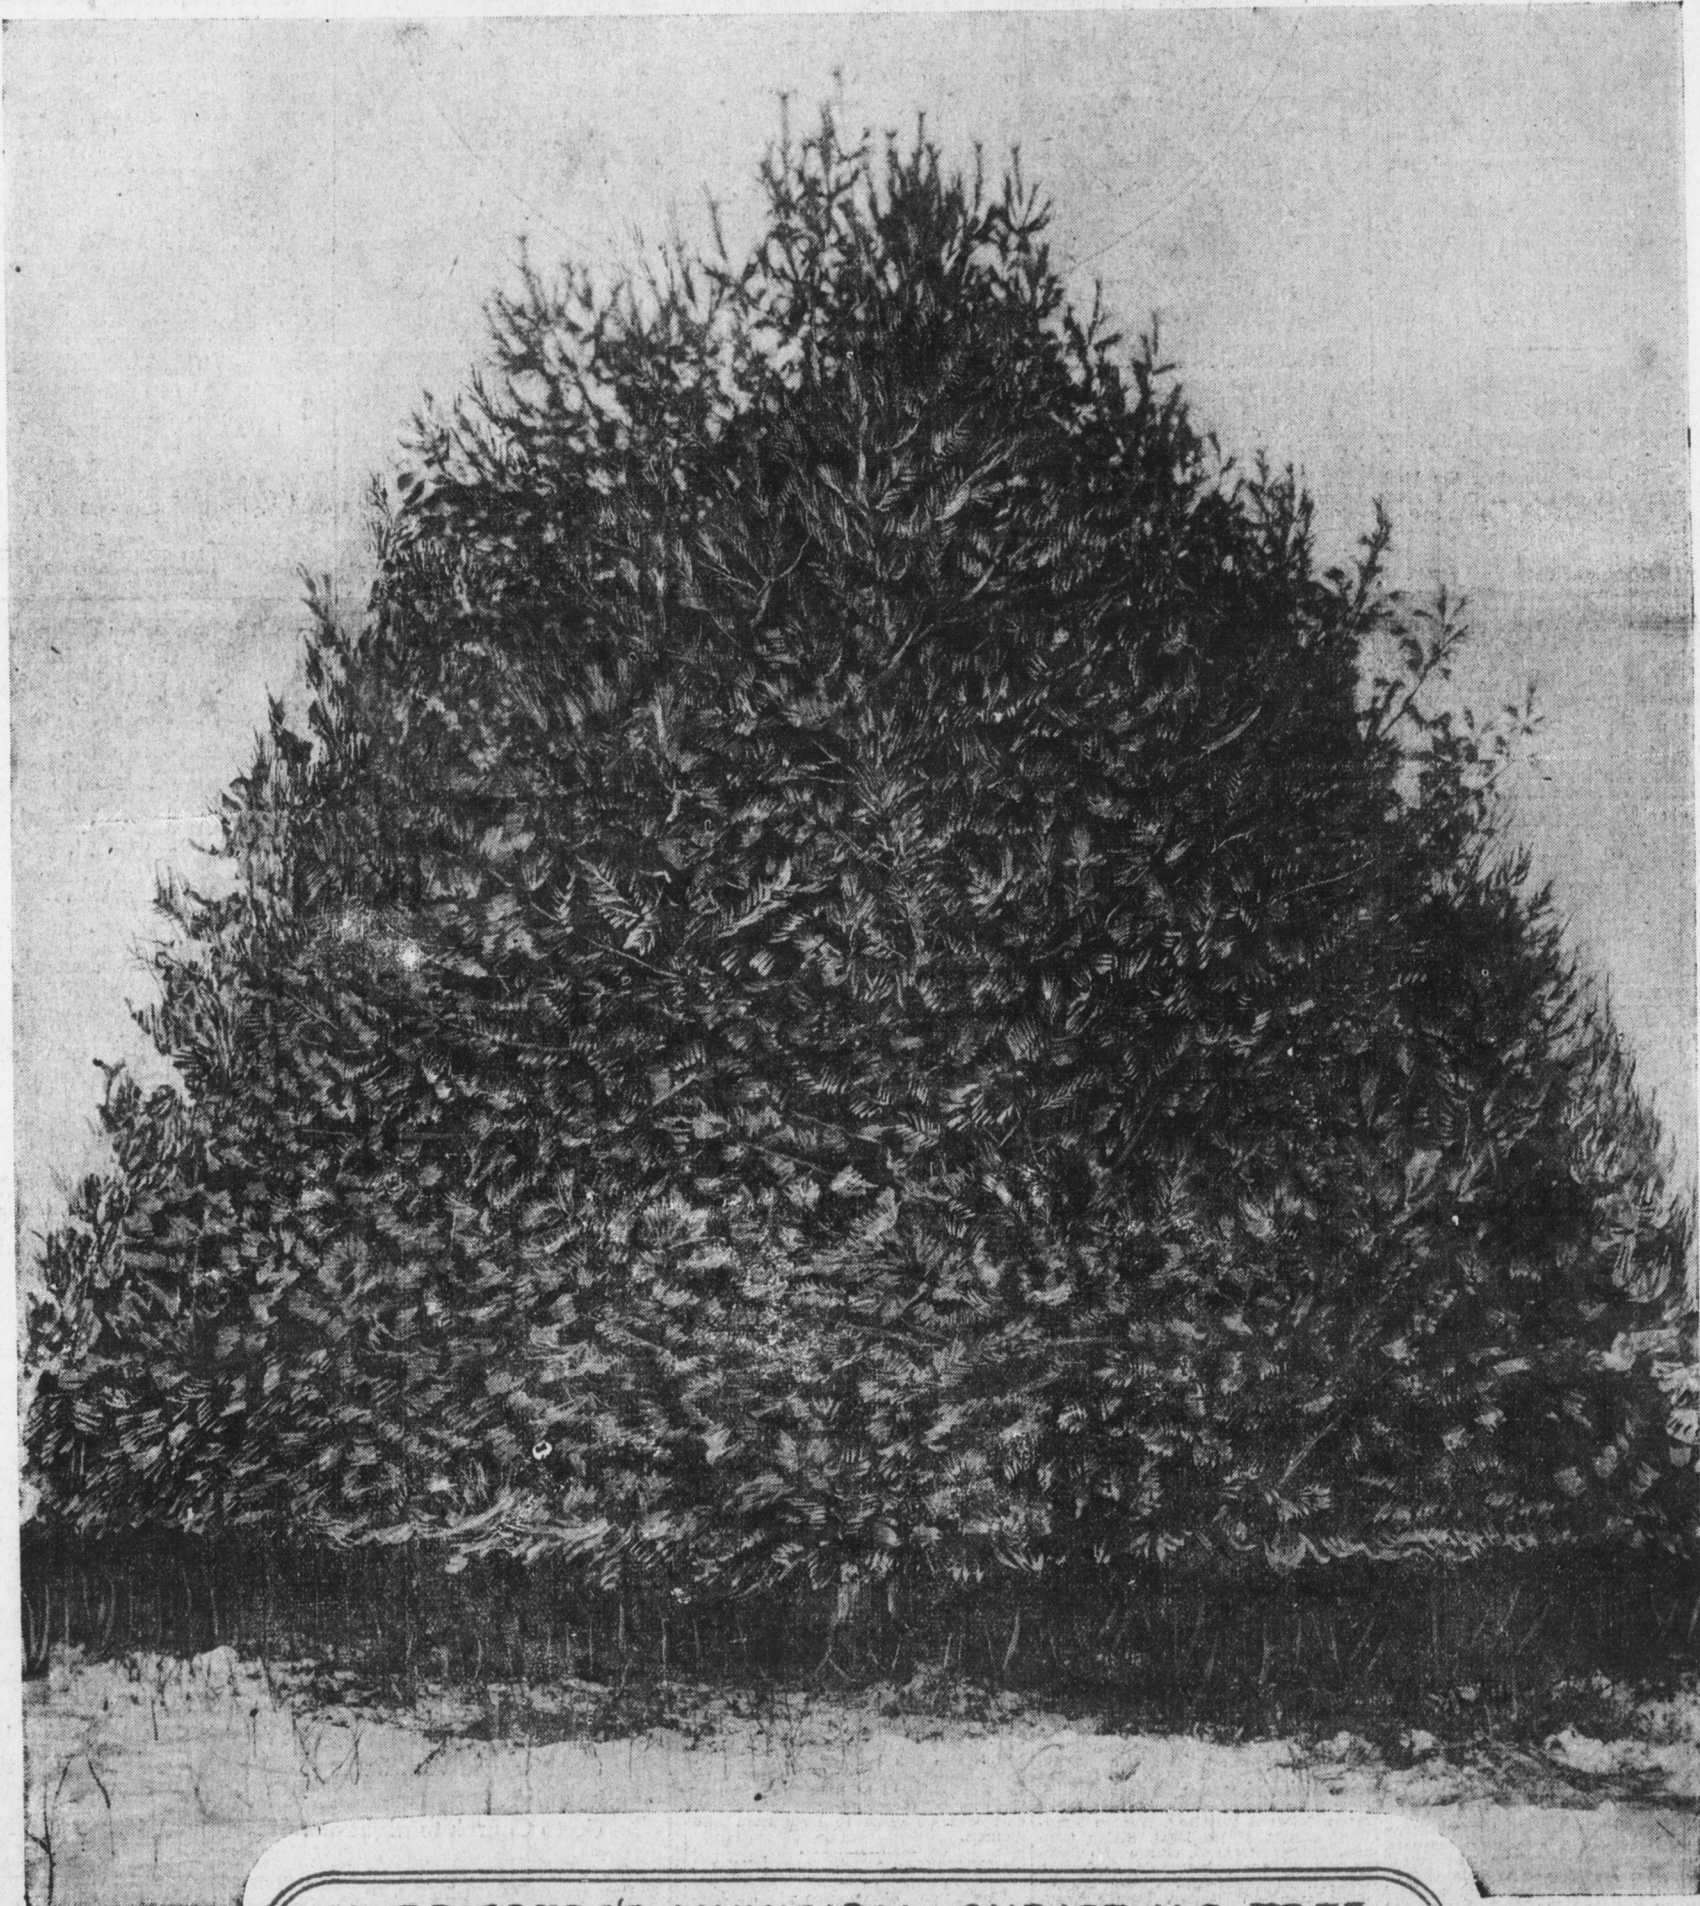

HARRISBURG  TELEGRAPH

"Peace on Earth==Good Will to Men"

It comes to us echoing faintly through the years that have passed away,
This joyous chant of the Cherubim on the Christ-child's natal day,
And a world that is steeped in bloodshed, that is weary and battle worn,
Hearing, takes heart of courage for a better and brighter dawn.

Believe! There is not a word wasted in the language of God to man,
And the promises made He has always kept since the history of time began.
We cannot fathom His reasons. We can only trust to the end.
But peace on earth MUST come at last with God's good will to men.

ANNA H. WOOD, written for the Harrisburg Telegraph.

HARRISBURG'S MUNICIPAL CHRISTMAS TREE
AS-IT-STOOD-IN-THE-FOREST.