YEAR'S DEATH TOLL IN MECHANICSBURG

Eighty-eight Persons Passed Away During the Past Twelve Months

Special to The Telegraph. Mechanicsburg, Pa., Jan. 1.—During 1914 the death toll in Mechanicsburg was heavier than for many years past. The list reaches 88 in number, being eighteen more than last year, and twenty-two more than the previous one. Of this number, thirty persons had reached and were over the allotted period of three score and ten years.

Among the men, well known here and elsewhere in business, who passed away were: S. N. Miller on April 12, 52 years old; J. S. McCaleb, April 18, 61; Robert A. DeFrein, May 22, 58; E. R. Huston, May 26, 72; S. M. Wagener, July 12, 59; A. S. Martin, July 13, 67; S. Augustus Baschore, August 6, 75; John A. Gerhart, August 20, 22; John T. Lamb, August 28, 65; Dr. A. F. Brandt, September 7, 76.

In the death of Mrs. Julia Terrill Owen, on March 1, at the age of 77 years, the town lost one of her most estimable and beloved women. One who was interested in all benevolent and public enterprises and prominent in church work.

CELEBRATION AT COLUMBIA. Special to The Telegraph. Columbia, Pa., Jan. 1.—Ceremonies incident to the closing of the old year were observed here in an unusual manner. Services were held in a number of churches and continued into the New Year. A male chorus from Salem United Brethren Church marched through the streets singing hymns and held brief services on the street corners in the business section. There was a large assembly at the community Christmas tree, which was illuminated for the last time, having delighted spectators every night since Christmas Eve.

HUMAN BONES FOUND. Columbia, Pa., Jan. 1.—A cave-in at Ridge Avenue and Bethel street, caused by the recent heavy rains, has revealed the skulls of two human beings. They were found by Borough Engineer C. A. Hogenotger, who had charge of the work. The section of the street in which the skulls were found was formerly a part of Mt. Bethel Cemetery known as the Potter's Field.

WOMEN OF HARRISBURG--Read This

Money Saving Suggestion

This is a year of economy, when careful housekeepers make every penny count. The publishers of the Harrisburg Telegraph took that into consideration in making arrangements with The American Magazine and the Woman's Home Companion. Read this letter from one subscriber to the Woman's Home Companion:

Editor, Woman's Home Companion New York City.

Dear Editor: I figure that the $1.50 which I spent for the Woman's Home Companion a year ago has saved me nearly $30. I am not going to trouble you by sending a complete record, but I have kept it from day to day. I figure that Miss Farmer's cooking suggestions have saved me at least ten dollars on my marketing, and that we have had better meals at less cost. Miss Gould wrote me a long personal letter which told me just how to make one of my last year's dresses over into this year's style. This saved me at least ten dollars.

And your crocheting and knitting pages helped me to make Christmas presents which were more attractive than anything I could have bought in the store and saved me practically all my Christmas money. I consider that every issue of the Woman's Home Companion will save three or four times what it costs.

A year of The American Magazine means the work of the best writers and artists in America on your library table.

A year of the Harrisburg Telegraph means a panorama of the world's news and views.

You pay nothing in advance: merely telephone or write the Telegraph office.

The Harrisburg Telegraph With the Woman's Home Companion OR WITH The American Magazine BOTH For only a few cents a month more than the cost of the Telegraph alone; or both magazines with the Telegraph for a trifle extra.
