GIRL KILLED, ANOTHER HURT, 2 MEN INJURED IN AUTO SMASH

Grace Maugan Meets Death When Hurlled From Machine Against Car at Front and Walnut Streets

DRIVER MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPES ALL INJURY

Dead Girl Was to Marry One of Victims; Didn't See Car, Says Driver

Miss Grace L. Maugan, aged 25 years, 310 Forster street, is dead; Miss Lillian M. Swails, aged 24 years, 1410 Green street, is in the Harrisburg hospital with extensive but not serious injuries; and T. Elder Cleckner, 1112 Green street, and Samuel Weber, 159 Sylvan terrace, are both in the hospital with slight injuries as the result of an auto-streetcar crash at 11 o'clock last night at Front and Walnut streets.

John J. Hargest, Jr., 2204 North Third street, the driver of the car, escaped without a scratch.

Hargest was driving down front street at a fair rate of speed and he says he failed to see the car coming off the end of the bridge in time to avoid a collision. When he suddenly applied the brakes the automobile slid on the icy street, the right side and rear crashing into the trolley and throwing the occupants of the back seat against the car and out onto the pavement.

Severe damage was done to the automobile, which belonged to M. H. Gettys, 1718 North Second street, and was kept at the Rex Garage, 1817 North Third street. John Hargest's father is the manager of the garage.

Miss Maugan Dies at 2:45
The young woman was taken to the hospital in the ambulance in a semiconscious condition, and the men were admitted later. Miss Maugan died at 2:45 this morning. X-ray examinations will be made of her injuries this afternoon to determine the extent of their injuries. Their condition is not regarded serious by the doctors.

The funeral of Miss Grace L. Maugan will be held from her home, 310 Forster street, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. B. H. Hart, officiating. Burial will be in the Paxtang cemetery. Her only close survivor is her widowed mother, Mrs. Cora L. Maugan.

Didn't See First Car Says Hargest, Telling About the Accident

Hargest, driver of the wrecked car, this morning declared that he did not see the car approaching which hit him until it was within a few yards of his machine. "We were returning from Dauphin where we had driven earlier in the evening," explained Hargest, "and just about three minutes before 11 we reached Front near Walnut. I saw a cross river car approaching, but it was not near the end of the bridge and I knew I could get across the tracks with plenty of clearance. There was a wagon just in front and to my right. As I passed the wagon, I was struck nearly dumb to see another car almost directly in my path. This car I had not seen, the wagon blocking off my view.

"I threw on my brakes, the machine slid ten feet or so, and then the wheels locked. The skidding threw the rear end around with a terrific force against the street car which was running fast. When I looked around, I saw the girls had been thrown out.

"Were you driving fast?" Hargest was asked. "Well, I was running at a fair rate of speed," he said. "Were you riding all evening?" "Yes," said Hargest. "I planned the trip over at the lunch house yesterday afternoon. Weber, who was to marry Grace Maugan in the Spring, suggested a little ride to Dauphin. He's always been a close friend of mine. About 5 o'clock I drove the fellows around to Grace's home and Lillian was there. We drove around

Here is seen the wrecked car which figured in the accident where Miss Grace Maugan, on the left, met death, and Miss Lillian Swails, on the right, received more or less serious injuries. Both girls are known to hundreds of people, they being waitresses in a downtown lunch room. The photograph of the car shows how the guards along the side were telescoped when the machine skipped and the rear end was thrown against the streetcar.

FOUR JOYRIDERS GO OVER RIVER BANK

Pinned Beneath Auto, but Escape With Only Slight Injuries

Four "joyriders" two men and two women, who miraculously escaped from death last night when their Ford car went over the River Bank at Front and Seneca streets, were taken to the hospital in the ambulance in a semiconscious condition, and the men were admitted later. Miss Maugan died at 2:45 this morning. X-ray examinations will be made of her injuries this afternoon to determine the extent of their injuries. Their condition is not regarded serious by the doctors.

SPEAKERSHIP STILL VERY MUCH IN AIR

Candidates All Hopeful and Caucus Vote May Be Necessary to Decide
Although less than a dozen members of the next House of Representatives are in the city, friends of the candidates for the Republican nomination for Speaker are on the job and in the next twenty-four hours things will be stirring actively. The caucus of the Republicans, which will decide the speakership, will be held Monday night and, unless a friendly will be attended by every Republican, candidates are all engaged in a friendly contest and the winner will be heartily supported. Although there are many runners in the air, the contest appears to be rather free for all to-day. At least the candidates say it is.

Richard J. Baldwin, Delaware; Henry I. Wilson, Jefferson, and R. P. Habgood, McKean, have headquarters almost beside each other in the Commonwealth, and late to-day Charles A. Ambler, Montgomery, will open his headquarters. The friends of each claim the inside track.
With Mr. Wilson are Congressman S. Taylor North and Senator T. M. Kurtz; with Mr. Baldwin a number of friends from Delaware county, and with Mr. Habgood R. J. Hoffman, former mayor of Bradford; W. A. Osterman, Smethport, his colleague, and G. Scott Smith, editor of the Kane Record, and H. E. Gaffney, Bradford. Insurance Commissioner Charles Johnson, Norristown, will look after the Ambler camp.
Mr. Habgood will have a committee of newspaper publishers here to boost his candidacy and a Delaware committee will boom Baldwin, while Montgomery will send a delegation for Ambler.

FORMIDABLE SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINE

Report Current in Paris Says Attack Was Made Near Portsmouth

Paris, Jan. 2, 2:26 a. m.—The British battleship Formidable, which sailed from the English Channel Friday morning with the greater part of her crew was torpedoed off Portsmouth by a German submarine, according to a report current in Paris.
Portsmouth is the chief naval station of England. It is situated at the southwest extremity of Portsmouth Island, eighteen miles southeast of Southampton and sixty-five miles southwest of London.
Portsmouth harbor is four miles in length, with about an equal width and its entrance is only about 400 yards across. It has been said that in this land-locked haven the whole British fleet might be held in perfect security. The arm of the English channel with

DECEMBER, 1914, COLDEST IN YEARS

Susquehanna Closed on 15th, Still Locked From Shore to Shore
December, 1914, was one of the four coldest Christmas months in Harrisburg and vicinity experienced in the whole twenty-seven years' history of the Weather Bureau.
That the final month of 1914 was a mighty cold month the charitable inspectors of the board of the Associated Charities could readily attest by a glance at their records. And if they were closed to a sufficient extent to permit the skaters to get busy and it has remained locked in the grip of winter since.
On only three other occasions since 1876 has the river been frozen over earlier—on December 16, 1878, on the same date in 1880 and on December 8, 1882, the stream was locked from shore to shore at this point.

Citizens Object to Head of Pig as Emblematic of Chicago's Industry
By Associated Press
Chicago, Ill., Jan. 2.—The head of a pig as emblematic of Chicago's industry would be resented by Chicagoans, according to a letter which a committee promoting the International Christian Endeavor convention, to be held here next July, mailed to-day to a New England badge company.
The committee has advertised for designs and bids for the convention medallions and the eastern concern's design had in the center of the bar on the badge the head of a pig as emblematic of Chicago's industry.
The badge was rejected and a letter sent to the company says:
"We take exception to the fact that you have placed in the center of the bar on this badge the head of a pig, merely because, as you say, Chicago lends the world in the meat packing industry. We suggest that you learn that Chicago stands for something besides pigg and packing."

NO ELECTRIC LIGHTS FOR RIVER PARK IN WEST END
Electric lighting for the river park between Reilly and Connelly streets will not be provided for the coming year according to city Commissioner M. Harvey Taylor, superintendent of parks to-day.
Sixteen of the standard lights had been considered for the upper park, but the commissioner of parks said today that not sufficient money is in the treasury for this section at the present time. The standards for the river park between Iron alley and Paxton street will be provided, however. So will the new lights at the Twelfth street playgrounds.

PART OF MAN'S BODY FOUND IN BURLAP BAG

New York Police and Detectives Search Marsh Near Coney Island For Other Portions

TORSO IS EMBEDDED IN ICE Special Discovery Being Made to Locate Head So Identity Can Be Established

By Associated Press
New York, Jan. 2.—Examination early to-day of the torso of the human body discovered last night imbedded in the ice in a marsh near Coney Island led the police to believe it was that of a man. The torso was wrapped in two burlap bags and patrolmen and detectives searched all night in the Long Island meadow where the two bodies were found in the hope of locating the missing parts of the body. The police were especially anxious to find the head that the identity of the supposedly murdered man might be established.
The discovery of the dismembered body recalled to the detective bureau the finding of the mutilated body of Anna Amuller who was murdered by the Rev. Hans Schmidt and the fragments were especially near the Jersey shore of the Hudson river.
The discovery of the bags was made by a boy who was passing near the spot, he led a detective to the place, who ripped open the exposed top of one of the bags. It contained the mutilated upper part of a human body from which the arms had evidently been removed. Lower parts of the torso were in the second bag.

AUSTRIANS MEET ANOTHER DEFEAT; SERBIAN CAPITAL BOMBARDED BY WARSHIPS

British Battleship Formidable Sunk Off Portsmouth, England's Chief Naval Base; German Attacks in Poland Reported to Have Been Repulsed; Russians Capture 3,000 Austrians, According to Petrograd Dispatch

The Russian War Office announces that another defeat has been inflicted upon the Austrian forces in Galicia, whose advance from the Carpathians recently was checked with serious consequences to them. It is asserted that fortified Austrian positions near Gorlice were destroyed and that 3,000 prisoners were captured. The Russian statement says, however, that the victory was won only after a hard battle, and that fighting still continues, indicating that the Austrians are still capable of offering determined resistance.

In Poland the German attack apparently has shifted to the southward. The Russian statement mentions fighting of particular intensity at Rawa, which is thirty miles south of Sochaczew, the recent center of German activity. German attacks there, as well as in East Prussia and in the region of Masuria in Poland near the East Prussian border, are said to have been repulsed.
Austrian warships have bombarded Belgrade, the Serbian capital, from which the Austrians were driven shortly after they had occupied it. Some damage to property was caused by the bombardment, but so far as is known no lives were lost.
According to a report current in Paris the British battleship Formidable was sunk off Portsmouth, England's chief naval base. The destruction of the Formidable is believed to have been the work of a German submarine.

ALLIES ON DEFENSIVE
The German attack in France and Belgium, initiated in reply to the offensive movement of the allies, has developed to such a point that the allies now are on the defensive along the great part of the line. The extent of the German movement is shown by to-day's French statement, which speaks of a series of night attacks against the allies along the front. These onslaughts apparently were not in great force, however, and the assertion is made that they were all repulsed with ease.
As to the results of recent fighting in Alsace and the Argonne, along the

DR. BRUMBAUGH FOR AMBLER
Philadelphia, Jan. 2.—Governor-elect Brumbaugh today announced that he is in favor of Charles A. Ambler, of Montgomery county, for speaker of the House of Representatives. The Governor said: "I agree with Mr. Lane that the speaker should be in sympathy with all the measures to which I pledged myself in the primary and final contest. Mr. Ambler is such a man. His long consecutive service and his clean Republicanism appeal to me and I am for him for Speaker." Mr. Lane referred to by the governor-elect is David A. Lane, of Philadelphia, a local leader, who had made a statement that Ambler typified everything that Mr. Brumbaugh stood for and had had his support.

"MYSTERIOUS VOICES" ARE ALL SILENT NOW
Director Walters in Peace; Blames Both Democrats and Republicans
"Mysterious voices on the 'phone' have quieted both President Harry A. Walters about jobs on the Dauphin county poor board.
The clerkship of the board and the stewardship of the Almshouse, held respectively by Guyer and Spenser F. Barber, seem to be no longer worth "attempts to bribe."
Wednesday the Poor Directors will meet for an organizational session, and if any changes are to be made it will be at next week's session that such substitutions, alterations, etc., in the little Democratic organization naturally would be made.
And as the time drew near the "voices" became a little more insistent, even persuasive in a way, until the president of the board became indignant and issued a statement to the newspapers about his stand on the matter.
The statement in effect was that insofar as he is concerned, there will be no changes—that both Guyer and Barber can have their jobs for another year. Furthermore, Mr. Walters took occasion to deny that he had agreed with Thomas H. Manning, the minority member of the board, on a plan to oust the clerk and the steward from their jobs.
Ever since Guyer, who is a Socialist, was named for the clerkship the president of the board became party man surely should have had that part of the spoils, was their contention.
Up until just recently, when Mr.

When Richard J. Baldwin and Henry I. Wilson, Speakership candidates, were informed of the action of Dr. Brumbaugh, they declared that they would remain in the fight, and so advised the people at their headquarters. R. P. Habgood, another candidate, said he would make no statement until he saw the form of Dr. Brumbaugh's declaration. Wilson said that he was sorry Dr. Brumbaugh had indicated any preference, and Baldwin declared that the declaration would not have any effect on his canvass.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Former President Taft late today told the Senate committee the Filipinos were not in position to govern themselves at the present time. "I believe Mr. Roosevelt is the same opinion," said Mr. Taft, "but of course, just now, I am not in his confidence."
