IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water seals and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.

AMUSEMENTS

MAJESTIC To-morrow Afternoon and Evening—"Twin Beds." Tuesday Evening, January 12—Lecture by Armgaard Karl Graves, the superman. Friday Evening, January 15—Ethel Barrymore, in her new play, "The Shadow." ORPHEUM Every Afternoon and Evening—High-class vaudeville. COLONIAL Every Afternoon and Evening—Vaudeville and pictures. ARMGAARD KARL GRAVES

Armgaard Karl Graves, called by the British press to be "the greatest spy of the century," and whose knowledge of military conditions in Europe is conceded to be greater than that of any other person in the country, will be at the Majestic on Tuesday evening, talking on the Secret Service and the part it is playing in the great European struggle. Mr. Graves for twelve years was a confidential agent of the German emperor and as such was called upon to perform some exceptionally delicate missions. Graves knows the inner workings of military Europe and will base his talk upon the facts and incidents leading up to the big war. His address will be absolutely impartial, but full of gripping and sensational facts which every one interested in the conflict will be anxious to hear.

ETHEL BARRYMORE In the course of the theatrical season no announcement emanating from managerial headquarters is more welcome than that of the coming of Miss Ethel Barrymore. This most popular of American actresses is to be seen here in her new play, "The Shadow," by Dario Niccodemi and Michael Morton, at the Majestic Theater for one performance, on Friday evening, January 15, her local engagement being one of a few preliminary to her New York winter season at the Empire Theater. "The Shadow," under its original French title of "L'Ombre," was written for Madame Rejane for production in Paris, but was obtained by Charles Frohman and receives its first performance in this country owing to the war conditions now prevailing in France. Dario Niccodemi is the author of several of Madame Rejane's earlier successes and Mr. Morton is most easily recalled as the author of "The Yellow Ticket." Charles Frohman has surrounded Miss Barrymore with a distinguished company. Bruce McRae, recalled for his association with Miss Barrymore in many of her earlier successes, portrays the leading male role, and other characters are in the hands of Grace Elliston, Ernest Lawford, Edward Fielding, Amy Veness and Vera Pole.—Advertisement.

TO-DAY AT THE PALACE—"THE TEST OF MANHOOD"

"Fired" from his father's ranch for drunkenness, young Harry Wentworth ships board a typical "wind jammer" as able seaman. Life aboard ship, under the tyrannical rule of a bullying captain, does much to bring out his latent manhood. He becomes involved in a fight with the captain and with two friends escapes from the ship after a sensational "scrap" in which the whole ship's company is engaged. A long swim to the shore and the three friends set out for the elder Wentworth's ranch, where they arrive just in time to prevent the seizure of the old man's property by a rascally lawyer. A tender little love story adds interest to a tale crammed full of action and excitement.—Advertisement.

"FATTY AND MINNIE HE-HAW"

"Fatty and Minnie He-Haw" is the title of a ripping two-reel Keystone comedy which heads to-day's bill at the Victoria Theater, 223 Market street. The film is one continuous laugh from beginning to end wherein Fatty, as Cupid's unwilling captive, breaks all previous records for fun making. It is exceptionally funny in every detail. "The Face on the Ceiling," in two parts, is another header for to-day at the Victoria. The program is concluded with "The Pathe Daily News" and "The White Rose," in one reel each.

January Reductions On Suits and Overcoats

It is one of our fundamental principles in this store to keep our clothes selections up to full selling strength, filling up the gaps as fast as our racks are emptied. The result is we enter the New Year with an unusually complete line of fresh winter styles in suits and overcoats. But now the time for drastic action has come. Every garment on hand must go ---and we are prepared to make the sacrifice necessary for a rapid, decisive clearway.

In Considering these price reductions, keep in mind that the garments involved are no tag-tags and left-overs---no nameless merchandise orphans with a past and without a future. They are clothes of unimpeachable integrity---clothes that are members of our first families---clothes fresh and new from the modern tailoring shops of such institutions as

NEW LAWS BURDEN PEOPLE, SAYS OLIVER

Senator Tells Credit Men Legislation Increases High Cost of Living

Special to The Telegraph Pittsburgh, Jan. 8.—The high cost of over-legislation cry was sounded by United States Senator Oliver here yesterday in an address at a luncheon of the Pittsburgh Association of Credit Men. Like the high cost of living, he said, the burden falls upon the ultimate consumer. To the heavy expense entailed on railroads by the enforcement of the interstate commerce law, the senator declared, "is largely due the fact that you now pay $22.50 for a mileage book which you formerly purchased for $20." So the new federal banking system, operated, he said, at an enormous cost, will be finally reflected in higher rates of interest to those who are com-pellated to borrow money. He added: "It is the same with restrictive State laws. No matter how worthy their object, we should not lose sight of the fact that they all cost money. Paper drinking cups, individual towels, ultra-sanitary plumbing and the thousand and one other luxuries which modern legislation enjoins must, in the end, be paid by the man who uses them, in the shape of high hotel bills, increased house rent or advanced prices for the things he buys."

TEACH ENGLISH TO FOREIGNERS To procure funds for the Maru Rosu—a cultural club designed to instruct Roumanians in the rudiments of the English language, American history and laws—an entertainment was given at White's Hall last evening. Officers of the club, who desire to get in touch with philanthropists, are: George B. Resendean, president; Teeder Macavel, secretary; and Lazar Sumandan, treasurer.

WAR DOESN'T PUT CRIMP IN FRENCH POSTAL SERVICE That postal facilities in France have not been disturbed by the war is demonstrated by the return of a postal card to William S. Miller of Shiremans-town, which he had sent to Grant Wellman, at Paris, last September. Because of the war Mr. Wellman, whose home is in Lebanon, was unable to reach Paris. The card arrived at the American Consulate and when unclaimed was returned by the French authorities.

FAIR WARNING The lanky youth who occupied a seat in a passenger coach persisted in sticking his head and shoulders out of the window. The brakeman was passing through the coach and he touched the youth on the back. "Better keep your head inside the window," advised the brakeman. "I kin look out the window if I want to," answered the youth. "I know you can," warned the brakeman. "But if you damage any of the ironwork on the bridges you'll pay for it." DOES SEEM USELESS "Do you send out your bills on the first of January?" "Yes; but I don't see much use of it. Everybody is broke after Christmas."
