

MESSIAH OLD FOLK COLLEGE SUPPLIES

War Sufferers Will Receive Carefully Made Clothing Through Home and War Relief

"God bless the ones that get these things." Scrawled in a wavering hand, that benediction was written across the top of a big box of supplies which the patient old folk at the Messiah Home made and sent to the Home and War Relief Committee yesterday.

The Mrs. Henry McCormick Sewing Circle met today at the home of Mrs. McCormick, 301 North Front street, and made big headway with its volunteer work on supplies for the suffering and needy. The circle will meet each Tuesday at 10 o'clock at Mrs. McCormick's home.

To date 240 families have received aid from the supplies which, in the form of money paid for sewing work on clothing for the sufferers. More than 5,000 garments have been made, of which quite a number have been given to needy persons in this district through the Children's Aid Society, the Visiting Nurses and the Associated Charities.

Governor Blease Disbands South Carolina Militia

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 12.—Governor Blease yesterday signed an order disbanding the organized militia of South Carolina. The order is effective immediately.

Approximately 3,000 men are involved, including about 600 of whom the Governor had refused to muster out of service upon their request about eight months ago from the chief of the Federal Division of Militia Affairs.

Governor Blease explained his action in the order, stating that the differences between the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy and State Adjutant General Moore on one side and himself on the other prompted him to take the step. The differences, he said, resulted in serious breaches of discipline in the militia corps.

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST. So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that the fermentation in the place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only natural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, a tender, bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acidity, which is known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M.
