RING CHAMPIONS TO HAVE A BUSY YEAR

Jack Johnson Returns in Defense of His Title; Featherweights Meet This Month

Special to The Telegraph. Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 12.—Two classes in ring battles are scheduled for a busy year. After a long wait Jack Johnson will try to hold his title against several newcomers. These clubs, the Olympia and National, of Philadelphia, and the Empire A. C., of New York, are now bidding for the Kilbane-Williams bout, to be fought next month. The offer from McMahon brothers, who control the Empire A. C., came yesterday. It was in the shape of a bid or $3,000 as Kilbane's end, whereupon Manager Dunn wired back he preferred that Johnny go on under a percentage basis. It is expected that while Dunn and Kilbane are in Philadelphia between January 18 and 22 they will complete the arrangements for the Williams go and accept one of the three bids.

TRADE PLAYERS FOR DOGS

Startling Statements Affidavits of Federal Owners Include. Chicago, Ill., Jan. 12.—Affidavits that two ball players under contract under the national agreement were traded for dogs were among the documents filed yesterday in the federal court in support of the Federal suit against organized baseball. Mordecai Brown, former Chicago Nationals pitcher, submitted an affidavit concerning the dog transactions. "Joe Cantillon, manager of the Minneapolis club of the American Association, at one time traded a professional ball player for a bulldog," Brown swore. "Your affiant also believes that Roger Bresnahan, white manager of the St. Louis club of the National League, traded a professional player, a pitcher named Hopper, to Richard Kinsella, then manager of the Springfield, Ill., club, in the Three-League, for a bird dog."

DICK NALLIN WILL WORK IN BIG LEAGUE

Former Harrisburg Outfielder Receives an Appointment From Ban Johnson

"Dick" Nallin, one of the most popular baseball players who ever wore a Harrisburg uniform, will be on the American League umpire staff next season. Ban Johnson, the president, has named Nallin to succeed Jack Egan, who, it is said, has gone to the Reds. Nallin was an outfielder and at times twirled some puzzlers from the pitcher's mound. Because of a difference as to remuneration he decided to be an umpire. He tried his ability in several lower class leagues and his work won a place in the New York State League. Later he was taken by the Internationals. That he will make good in the American League is the hope of his many friends in Harrisburg.

Diminick Mullane, of Jacksonville, Fla., is another umpire who will be with the Americans and with whom Nallin may be assigned to special duty early in the season. Other American umpires are Billy Evans, Tommy Connolly, Silk O'Leighlin, Bill Dineen, George Hildebrand and Ollie Chill.

PINK SLIPS FOR WHITE SOX

Chicago, Jan. 12.—That the unwelcome rattle of the tinware must be heard by no less than eleven members of the White Sox, possibly before the start of the 1915 baseball championship in the American League, is a startling revelation of which some of the athletes drawing pay checks from Charles A. Comiskey may not be aware. Whether Ed Walsh and Billy Sullivan, the old guard of the Sox batteries are to go to become managers of minor league organizations is one of the problems involved in the new player limit soon to be adopted by the American League.

TRENTON TEAM TO PLAY

The Trenton Eastern League team will be the attraction at Chestnut street auditorium Saturday night, January 16. One of the fastest games of the season is looked for. Trenton has been playing their best game of late. Last week Trenton defeated the Hazleton team, breaking a series of fifteen straight games which the Hazleton team had won in succession. Captain McCord has the independent team at practice each day and will try and keep up the winning streak of the team. The game will be called at 8 o'clock and will be followed with the usual dance.

HERE ARE SOME ELECTRICAL FLASHES YOU MAY NOT KNOW

Electric lighters are made for gas stoves. A belt line electric railway will circle the ancient walls of Peking, China. Electrically operated locks are now used on automobile doors. Pressing a button opens the door. Wireless telegraph waves are propagated along the surface of the earth with a velocity slightly less than 186,000 miles an hour. Experiments with electric plowing in Italy give the cost as follows: Animals, $5.30 to $5.75 per acre; steam, $4.30; electric power, $2. The General Electric Company built and installed a total of fifty-eight electric locomotives for the various railroads of this country during the year 1914. An appropriation of $150,000 has been voted by the board of education of Richmond, Cal., for equipping the domestic science departments in the new school buildings with electric heating appliances. The equipment to be installed includes twenty-six disc stoves, two electric ovens and an electric circulating water heater. At Bangkok, Siam, there was recently completed a municipal electric power plant with three 1,000-kilowatt Curtis steam turbo-generators. Paddy husk, a byproduct of rice milling, is the chief fuel, though facilities have also been provided for using fuel oil, coal or wood. A large 110-cell storage battery is part of the electrical equipment installed.

LOCAL PLAYERS TO PLAY IN TRI-STATE

Low Salary Limit May Also Cause a Run on the Central Pennsylvania League

Reduction of the Tri-State salary limit will bring to the Graham circuit many husky youngsters, including a number of stars from the Central Pennsylvania League. Amateur players who were prominent in good work with local independent teams will also get into the professional game. Many inquiries are being made regarding local players and those who figured prominently in the Central League. Players who are anxious to make good will have an opportunity to be looked over by the major league scouts.

Among those who may be found in the Tri-State are Eddie Rote, Ducky Rhoades, Tom Lyter, Sam Hocker and Buck Gilday, who are likely to receive offers within the next four weeks. A list of players in the Central League, with their averages, has been forwarded to George Graham, president of the Tri-State, and he will add the managers in locating good material.

TOTAL OF 1,441 CASES CONTAGIOUS DISEASE

Report of City Health Bureau Shows Increase of 271 Cases Over Preceding Year

One thousand four hundred and forty-one cases of communicable diseases were reported to the City Health Bureau during 1914, of which 32 were nonresident, according to the figures in the annual report. This is an increase of 271 cases over the record of 1913, but the reason given by Dr. M. J. Raunick, city health officer, is that mild epidemics in several minor diseases prevailed. Sixty-three cases of typhoid, of which 26 were nonresident, were recorded. Eleven resulted in death, causing a resident death rate of 13.88 per cent., a decrease of more than 12 per cent. on the figures of 1913. In that year 241 cases of diphtheria were reported, against 184 cases last year. Eight of these resulted seriously, making the rate more than 4 per cent., a small decrease over the record of the preceding year. Four cases of smallpox, three of which were in one family, were reported. All of the cases were traced to outside sources, in which the victims contracted the disease while out of the city. The complete list follows: Typhoid fever, 63, of which 26 were nonresident; scarlet fever, 76; smallpox, 4; chickenpox, 192; diphtheria, 184; measles, 160; German measles, 200; whooping cough, 103; pneumonia, 19 cases reported and 7 deaths; erysipelas, 54, 2 causing death; mumps, 150; infantile paralysis, 1; scabies, 5; ophthalmia, 24, 2 nonresident; impetigo, 10; tetanus, 7, 4 nonresident; tuberculosis, 190. Dr. Raunick said this morning in regard to the increase in cases: "While our communicable disease record shows a general increase over that of last year, this is accounted for by mild epidemics of scarlet fever, German measles, mumps and chickenpox, which, fortune would not affect the death rate, as might have been the case had epidemics of the more serious communicable diseases prevailed."

Bantam and Featherweight Champion to Box

POSES OF KID WILLIAMS, THE BANTAM CHAMPION. The two have very different styles of fighting. Williams is a strong built along his lines. He is a clever development. Kilbane is not a youngster who depends on his trimer boxer, who relies more on his brains to win. He would have difficulty in holding off Williams.

Baseball Diamond Romance Will Terminate in Wedding

MISS HAZEL MEYERS JOHN MASCHEN

Special to The Telegraph. Anville, Pa., Jan. 12.—A romance, which began on the baseball diamond at the University of Georgetown, will terminate this summer with the marriage of John Maschen, a student at Lebanon Valley College, whose home is in Waynesboro, and Miss Hazel Meyers, of Baltimore. The engagement was made public at a dinner party given by Miss Meyers at her home, in Baltimore, during the holidays. When Lebanon Valley's baseball team played her Southern schedule, Georgetown University was the third contest on the list. Maschen, who is a star player, covered the shortstop position for the team. He did not know that Miss Meyers had suddenly changed her cheering from the home team to the Lebanon Valley nine. That which followed is now a happy history.

REDEEMER LUTHERAN ELECTS. George Lebo was elected trustee of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer at the annual congregational meeting last night. Grover Wolf, David G. Garman, George Lukens and George Witmer were chosen deacons. Treasurer Erb read a report showing a good balance in the treasury. The Rev. E. Victor Roland, pastor, announced that almost one hundred new members have been received into the church during the past year. HOW TO MAKE HOME-MADE PASTE. In the November Woman's Home Companion appears a department called "The Exchange"—a department in which household suggestions are contributed by various readers. An Oregon woman tells as follows how to make home-made paste: "An inexpensive paste is made of one small potato grated fine. Add boiling water enough to make it clear, and boil five minutes; this is much better than flour or corn starch paste for all kinds of pasting."

COMMERCE BODY PLANS TRADE TRIP

Will Travel Through the Susquehanna Valley on Next Extension Tour, in February

Intense interest in the next trade extension and "get acquainted" trip of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce was shown at the first meeting of the committee in charge, which was held at noon to-day at the Harrisburg Club. Those present were Charles W. Burnett, chairman; Brook Trout, Stanley Jean, Carl W. Davis, J. A. Grieshaber, Joseph Kilmindist, A. E. Buchanan, Henderson Gilbert, president, and E. L. McColegin, secretary. Roughly the route agreed upon for the next trip will be up the Northern Central to Sunbury, along the Susquehanna probably as far as Wilkes-Barre, returning via Hazleton, Pottsville and Reading. The trip will be made on February 10 and 11. The committee and officers of the chamber desire to have it clearly understood that in addition to promoting business, the great benefits from the trip are in the way of better acquaintance among those who participate, a knowledge of what other Pennsylvania cities are doing and general advertisement of Harrisburg as a live city; that does not entirely rely upon business people coming to it, but that goes out after it. It is part of the chamber's general advertising and selling campaign of the city's advantages in order to capitalize Harrisburg.

WARSHIPS FOR TAFT AND T. R.

Ex-Presidents Will Be Invited to Opening of Panama Canal. Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—A number of distinguished guests, including men not now holding official positions, will be invited to attend the official ceremonies in celebration of the opening of the Panama Canal if Congress provides sufficient funds for the execution of the tentative plans of the committee in charge. Ex-Presidents Taft and Roosevelt will be invited if Congress makes an adequate appropriation for the entertainment of official guests. In that event a battleship will be placed at the disposal of each for the trip. Most of the other guests will be accommodated on Panama Railroad Company steamships.
