WILSON SPEECH DRAWS FIRE
 Washington, D. C., Jan. 14.—President Wilson's Indianapolis speech drew fire from the Republican ranks in the House side of the Capitol to-day. Representative Humphrey, of Washington, launched an attack on the Democratic policies generally. The tariff had thrown 4,000,000 people out of work and he declared a business depression was a "state of mind."

KING TRAVELS TO THE SCENE Railways in Stricken Section Useless and Deep Snows
 Cover Highways

London, Jan. 14, 5.12 A. M.—Several of the morning newspapers report great loss of life in the earthquake zone.

The latest Rome dispatch to the Times reports that eighty houses were destroyed in Rome. The dispatch adds that telegrams received from the province announce further damage and additions to the death roll, especially at Tivoli, where the populace is camping in the open in fear of further shocks. It is feared that serious damage has been done in the Department of the Abruzzi.

Calabria and Sicily report that the shock was not felt there.

Other special dispatches say that owing to the breaking down of the telegraph and telephone lines it has been impossible to ascertain the exact results of the disturbance.

The Daily Telegraph's Rome correspondent describes the damage done as very great, especially in the environs of Rome and in the Abruzzi, where, he says, some villages were destroyed. The correspondent adds that the number of victims has not been ascertained, but that certainly there are thousands of them.

The Standard's Rome correspondent, referring to the report that there were 8,000 victims at Avezzano, says that in all probability this report is exaggerated, but in any case the loss of life is appalling.

The correspondent of the Express in Rome in his story of the earthquake says that the shocks were felt with varying results throughout the whole district between Rome and Naples.
 "The serious loss of life occurred outside of Rome," the Express correspondent continues, "especially in the mountainous region of the Abruzzi, where entire villages have been destroyed, including Avezzano, Capelle, Scur-cola, Capelle, Magliano and Nappa-doccia. The shock was severe in Cap-pelle, but the damage is slight."
 "The heaviest casualties undoubtedly occurred at Avezzano."

"Troops are being hurried to the afflicted districts. There is need for the quickest assistance, owing to the fact that snow covers the country and blocks the roads. Communication over the entire wrecked section is exceedingly difficult."

"King Victor Emmanuel is leaving Rome at once for the afflicted district."

The railways in the stricken district are well-nigh useless, the Daily Mail's correspondent says, as the bridges and tunnels were destroyed and the tracks broken and covered with debris. The highways are impassable owing to the heavy downfall.

The officials in Rome make no effort to estimate the extent of the damage in the provinces, the correspondent says. They are bending all their energies to hasten the work of relief.

The loss of life in the vicinity of Rome, it is estimated, by the Daily Mail's correspondent, is about 100.

A dispatch from Rome to the Daily News gives the following official statement issued there regarding the earthquake:

"The district of Sulmona is badly damaged and the victims are numerous. Twenty persons were killed and many injured at Villalago. Rescue work has been started at Popoli and Pentina, where many houses are damaged."

"The damage is extensive at Aquila and Isola Dell'ri and seven other small towns in the province of Rome."

"The village of Sora has been razed to the ground."

"At Sulmona the barracks, St. Domnick's Church and many houses collapsed, while others threaten to fall."
 "Loss of life is feared at Chieti, Teramo and other towns in Abruzzi."

600 ITALIANS HERE
 FEAR FOR RELATIVES

 Salerno, 27 North Second street, has a brother who is a student in one of the universities in Rome. Mr. Salerno also has relatives and friends living in the section of the country which has been disturbed.

Many other residents of Harrisburg have brothers, sisters, parents or friends living in the zone visited by the quake.

Rodenhaver Tells of Horrors at Messina

J. W. Rodenhaver, proprietor of the Hotel Carlton, 217 Market street, is acquainted with conditions following an earthquake in Italy, he and his wife having spent eight weeks in Rome six years ago at the time of the Messina disaster when 77,000 persons were killed and a multitude made homeless. He saw thousands of refugees arrive at Rome from the southern country and has described the pitiful condition of many of them.

"Most of the refugees," he said, "seemed utterly dazed at the catastrophe when we saw them arriving at Rome. We saw men and women doing things that might have appeared comical at any other time, and which showed their inability to grasp the situation. Old men would be carefully carrying some worthless article that they had rescued in their flight—perhaps a rag doll or a dishpan which held merely a memory of the lost home.

"I suppose conditions now will be the same as then, and the same sights will be repeated. We saw many of the towns damaged in this earthquake and were in some of the buildings mentioned. We worshipped several times during our stay at Rome in the Church of St. John Lateran which was damaged according to the reports. We passed through the province of Abruzzi and stopped in the town of Avezzano, which has been destroyed. It is a beautiful country."

AMERICAN RED CROSS READY TO RECEIVE CONTRIBUTIONS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 14.—The American Red Cross announced to-day that it would be glad to receive at its headquarters here contributions for the Italian earthquake sufferers and would forward such money through the State Department to the proper officials in Italy.

There is a well-organized Italian Red Cross, it was said that the American society would send nurses or doctors unless requested to do so.
