

"Are You Afraid of Me?"

Mark Said to

DIANTHA

Diantha is the most lovable heroine of the year—the heroine of one of the four serial novels to be published this year in the

Woman's Home Companion

One of
James Montgomery
Flagg's
Illustrations for the New Diantha Novel
in the
Woman's Home Companion

TO THE PEOPLE OF HARRISBURG

The Harrisburg Telegraph, the Woman's Home Companion, and The American Magazine are to be offered to the people of Harrisburg in the most remarkable combination ever announced in this city. This offer is made possible by an arrangement just completed between the Harrisburg Telegraph and The Crowell Publishing Company, publishers of these two magazines.

The Telegraph has entered into this arrangement because these two magazines represent the best in American magazine-making, and because it believes that the people of Harrisburg appreciate and want the best.

Do not confuse this opportunity with the cheap magazine combinations frequently offered by newspapers. The Woman's Home Companion and The American Magazine sell for 15c. each—$1.50 a year. They are never included in cheap magazine clubs. Compare this offer of the Harrisburg Telegraph with any other similar offer you have ever seen.

The Woman's Home Companion

Nearly one thousand pages of novels, short stories and money-saving suggestions.

The Woman's Home Companion is more than a mere magazine.

For the woman who is interested in fashions it is a monthly trip to Fifth Avenue. There she sees all the latest gowns from great designers, and with Woman's Home Companion patterns she can duplicate them for herself at less than half the store-cost.

For the woman who loves good stories, there are four novels each year—each one sold afterward in book form for $1.50.

For the woman who is a mother, the Better Babies Bureau of the Woman's Home Companion offers throughout the year the guidance of one of the notable baby experts in the United States—an expert whose regular charges for consultation are ten times the cost of the Woman's Home Companion.

Every subscription to the Woman's Home Companion pays the subscriber over and over again in money saved in the household.

The Harrisburg Telegraph

WITH THE

Woman's Home Companion

OR THE

American Magazine

For only a few cents a month more than the regular cost of the Telegraph alone or both magazines with the Telegraph for a trifle more.

A Home is Judged by the Books and Magazines That Are in It. The Best Homes Have

THE BEST MAGAZINES

"The most carefully edited magazine in America—full of good fiction, laughter and the joy of living."

The American Magazine

Six big man-size stories every month by the most popular short-story writers.

Stories of outdoor life—read Stewart Edward White's adventures in the African jungle.

Stories of business life—a big new series by Ida M. Tarbell.

Laugh with the foremost American humorists—George Fitch, Stephen Leacock and F. P. Dunne—this is the kind of a magazine The American Magazine is.

Send No Money; Merely Telephone the Telegraph Office or Clip the Coupon

No such combination has ever been offered in Harrisburg at these prices. You are paying 15c. each a month for the Woman's Home Companion and The American Magazine now; by accepting this offer you have either one or both, with the Harrisburg Telegraph. To secure the best daily paper and the best national magazine, clip the coupon, or telephone the Telegraph office. Pay the collector at the end of the month.

Get These Two National Magazines With the Telegraph, While You Have THIS Chance--for Only A Few Cents a Month. Send No Money. Merely Telephone The Telegraph Office or Clip the Coupon.

The Harrisburg Telegraph

with the
American Magazine } 30 Cents a Month
OR Woman's Home Companion }
American Magazine } Both for 35 Cts. a Month
And Woman's Home Companion }

The Harrisburg Telegraph Harrisburg, Pa.

I am interested in your special offer. Please send me further details.

Name

Address

NOW →