THURSDAY EVENING,

IMPRESSIVE SCENE AT MILLER SERVICE

Open Bible Illumined in Darkened Tabernacle at Mechanicsburg Last Night

Special to The Telegraph

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Jan. 21.—Large delegations of visitors at the tabernacle last evening lent a special interest to the meeting. Milltown came in large numbers; Bowmansdale was represented; the Rev. Mr. Raach's Bible class of the Church of God came in a body, and the businesswomen of Mechanicsburg had a reservation. Previous to coming to the tabernacle a luncheon was served to the latter in the Presbyterian Church, where about 150 women gathered and enjoyed a social hour with entertainment by the Miller party. A Bible reading was given in the afternoon by Mrs. Bowman at the home of Miss Ree Zug to the unemployed women. At the tabernacle in the evening a pleasing feature was the presentation of a huge bunch of pink carnations by employes of the shirt factory to the evangelistic party. Before the sermon prayer was offered by the Rev. E. J. Huggins. "Jesus at the Door Knocking' was the theme of the Rev. Mr. Miller last evening and in response to his appeal pentents came forward until thirty-six had confessed their desire to lead a new life. Cheers went up from all parts of the house when H. A. Baum, who superintended the building of the tabernacle, pushed to the front and grasped Mr. Miller last evening and in response to of "Lead, Kindly Light," with the building in darkness save the illumination of an open Bible on the pulpit draped with the American flag. These songs, arranged by Professor Hohgatt, with electrical displays, are new and beautiful effects. A big time is in prospect for this evening's service. Proof of a Great Kidney Medicine

Several years ago I was taken violently ill. My trouble began with a pain in my stomach, so severe that it seemed as if knives were cutting me. I was treated by two of the best physicians in the country, and consulted another. None of them suspected that the cause of my trouble was kidney disease. They all told me that I had cancer of the stomach, and would die. I grew so weak that I could not walk any more than a child a month old, and I only weighed sixty pounds. One day my brother saw in the paper, your advertisement of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy. He bought me a bottle and I took it. They could see a change in me so they obtained more, and I took in all thirty bottles of Swamp-Root. That may seem a great deal, but I spent more than the cost of thirty bottles of Swamp-Root for doctor's medicine, and it did not do me a particle of good. I was so weak and run down that it took considerable to build me up again. I am well now, thanks to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and weigh 148 pounds, and am-keeping house for my husband and brother on a farm.

STORY RITEN'

By the Messenger Boy

Tuesday by contrack begun, Jan. 19, 1915, Inogyouration Day, for a story every day for three years, and then I get a job on the Telegraph at $4 a week if I make good and satisfy the editer; which will make me a reporter a year before Gov. Brumbaugh gets out the brownstone house at Front and Barbara ave, to make room for his successor the same as John Tener did yesterday.

I told the editer I didn't see how I could write a fresh story every day and he said the town's full of cm, and if you don't know anything new just write any old thing the same as we do here. I haven't any story to-day as this is my first, and I haven't time yet to think, so I'll just fill up the told me; but I'll try to think something for to-morrow after I get to bed to-night.

After I left the office yesterday, I couldn't think of anything. The first thing I slipped on the pavement going out the Telegraph side door on Court alley and banged my nose on the curb so it bled like a stuck pig and I went back down in the sellar to the sink and began to wash it when the janitors chunker came in and without askin' what I wanted he kicked me out and up the steps on the street; so I haven't got a story to tell to-day, but I hope to to-morrow.

COCOANUT OIL FINE FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two tenspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.
