

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

25 cent bottle of "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy and wavy

Removes all dandruff, stops itching scalp and falling hair

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time.

PHILADELPHIA VISITORS Mr. and Mrs. Winfield W. Crawford have returned to their home at Wayne City after enjoying the inaugural ceremonies and having a pleasant visit with Mrs. Crawford's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fugate of Boas street.

"BLOOD WILL TELL" The Heroes of the war

"Blood will tell" is an axiom that in all the ages has never been gained. Every man who does a brave, heroic act carries within his veins a quality of blood that urges and sustains him.

A new man can be made out of one that's "used-up," bilious and despondent. It's done by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It starts the torpid liver into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses, repairs and strengthens the system, and restores health and vigor.

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, bound in cloth, sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expenses of wrapping and mailing only. Address: Doctor Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

MRS. TENER LIKES THE SIMPLE LIFE

Glad to Retire From Executive Mansion to Her Philadelphia Apartment

Philadelphia, Jan. 21.—"My four years at Harrisburg were merely an incident in my life—a very pleasant incident, it is true—but now that they are over am looking forward to living in Philadelphia for the first time with a great deal of zest and anticipation."

The very attractive woman who was the first lady of Pennsylvania, and who to-day is simply Mrs. John K. Tener, smiled a radiant smile, which showed the ease with which she has taken the step from wife of the Governor and mistress of one of the most spacious mansions in the land to plain citizen, with a compact little seven-room apartment as her domain, and it wouldn't have taken a very keen observer to note that she was a supremely happy woman this time four years ago, when her husband, according to the gubernatorial responsibilities, she was no less so this morning.

Surrounded by a conglomerate collection of trunks, packages, boxes, electric wires, baggages and electricians, to say nothing of a new maid, Mrs. Tener, in her apartment at the Maidstone, seemed just in the element she liked best and doing things up according to her own good taste.

"I'm an exceedingly domestic person," she said earnestly, and the apron which covered her dark blue tailored frock and her sleeves rolled high added conviction to the statement, "though for four years my domesticity has been almost stifled, because when one has nine servants to keep in motion and a big mansion to oversee, in addition to the thousand and one social duties that a Governor's wife is called upon to perform, there is little time to indulge one's fondness for the household tasks dear to every woman's heart."

"Of course, there's no use denying that I'm going to miss Harrisburg at first. We made a great many friends up there, and, contrary to our three years in Washington, where many people seemed not quite sincere in their less working for their own ends, those whom we came to know best at the Pennsylvania capital were real distinquished persons and not persons who simply wanted to know us because we were Governor and Mrs. Tener."

"There are only a few disagreeable things that a Governor's wife has to contend with, and the office-seeking person and he who wants her to use her influence with her husband to get some bill through are among the most obnoxious, but, in many, many delightful features of the position entirely overshadow such unpleasant ones."

"I expect we will have good times here this winter. I'm tremendously fond of dancing," she patted the piano player at her side, "and even though I'm not going to play the piano, I will be able to manage to clean up for out for many a little informal dance. Naturally, we have a great many friends here, and, taken all in all, I am sure I am not going to play the piano, I will be able to manage to clean up for out for many a little informal dance. Naturally, we have a great many friends here, and, taken all in all, I am sure I am not going to play the piano, I will be able to manage to clean up for out for many a little informal dance."

WEAVER-ESLINGER WEDDING LAST NIGHT 'PAPA'S DAUGHTERS' WHIRLWIND OF SNAP

Pretty Ring Ceremony Is Performed at Home by the Bride's Uncle

The marriage of Miss Prudence Eslinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Eslinger, to Fred A. Weaver, of this city, was a pretty event of last evening at their home, 1729 Market street. The bride's uncle, the Rev. E. L. Eslinger, pastor of the Roaring Springs Methodist Church, performed the ring ceremony and Miss Gretta Eslinger played the wedding march.

The rooms were decorated in a color scheme of pink and white with the fluffy green of ferns and smilax as a background to narcissus and carnations. The bride, who wore a modish costume of blue crepe meteor and carried a sheaf of bride roses, was unattended. Following a trip to New York and the seashore, Mr. and Mrs. Weaver will reside at 1409 Swatara street.

Mrs. Weaver is a graduate of the class of 1911, Central high school, and has been a stenographer with the Harrisburg Typewriter and Supply Company for some time. Mr. Weaver is a graduate of the Freeburg Academy and is at present a conductor for the Harrisburg Railway Company. Immediately after the services a party of young folks serenaded the newlyweds with horns, accordions and mouth organs.
