Be sure you get what you ask for.—Advertisement.

EASILY ACCOMPLISHED
 One afternoon an elderly woman, who was not accustomed to traveling, boarded a train for a short run to the adjacent county, and when her destination was eventually announced she nervously called to the conductor. "What can I do for you, madame?" asked the conductor, stepping to her side. "Oh, Mr. Conductor," she exclaimed, "here is the town where I am going, and I don't know exactly which door to go out!" "You may go out by either door, madame," gently instructed the conductor. "The car stops at both ends."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

IT WAS THE SEASON

He had toiled and scraped and saved for years, and the other day he bought "that little farm" in the country, relates the Pittsburgh Dispatch. He was not quite settled yet when he called on his neighbor to say: "Of course, I never farmed much." "Of course," replied Uncle Rube, with a smile. "So I shall have to ask for advice." "You shall have it." "You see, I have got five acres of woodland." "I do." "I shouldn't have bought the farm but for that woodland." "No." "It has been one of our dreams for years past to make our own maple sugar." "Yes." "And now that we are here at last I want to ask you if this is the season for tapping the trees?" "Why, yes, this is the season, all right, but—" "But what?" "But you haven't got a durned maple tree on the farm, and there ain't one within five miles of us!" $30,000,000 Heiress, Only 18, Is Engaged

MISS CATHERINE BARKER
 Chicago, Jan. 22.—Miss Catherine Barker, aged eighteen, heiress to a $30,000,000 estate of John H. Barker, her father, who made a fortune as a car manufacturer at Michigan City, Ind., is engaged to Howard H. Spalding, Jr., of this city. Miss Barker is a student at the Finch School in New York. The wedding will not take place for some time as the girl has yet to make her debut, and expects to make a year's tour of Europe before her wedding.

MILITARY TOUCH IN WINTER STYLES
 In the February Women's Home Companion, Grace Margaret Gould, fashion editor of that publication, calls attention as follows to the military touch in the winter styles: "The influence of any world-stirring event is bound to be reflected more or less in our clothes. A strong note of 'war' runs through this winter's designs; braids and buttons predominate. The severe military touch may be seen in a collar, a braid-trimmed pocket or cuff, and in the perky little hat with military cockade or upstanding cluster of lustrous cone feathers that completes the costume so effectively."

COMPROMISE IN SHIP FIGHT NOT IN SIGHT

Democrats Will Continue Wrangle to End of Session Regardless of Consequences

ANOTHER CAUCUS TONIGHT

Administration Leaders Determined to Put Bill Through Despite Opposition Against It

By Associated Press.
 Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.—Republicans and Democrats in the Senate faced each other again today in their uncompromising fight over the passage of the administration ship purchase bill. Advocates of the bill, aroused by the determined Republican opposition set to work to put the measure through despite the formidable line up against it. The Democrats settled down to a renewal of filibustering tactics with the avowed intention of fighting the bill until March 4 or in an extra session, should one be called. Decision of the Republicans to continue their opposition to the bill was reached at a formal party conference held late yesterday. Administration senators, aroused over this action, met the Republican attitude by declaring that the measure would be kept before the Senate regardless of consequences. The Democrats, spurred up by the action of the Republicans, were making active preparation to-day for their fifth caucus to-night when it is hoped to complete the work of perfecting the bill. A feature of the Republican fight to-day was a long and vigorous attack by Senator Cummins upon President Wilson's influence upon legislation and upon the sentiment expressed in the President's Indianapolis speech.

Duchess of Richelieu, American Girl, Ill

THE DUCHESS OF RICHELIEU
 Baltimore, Md., Jan. 22.—Relatives of the Duchess of Richelieu, the former Miss Eleanor Douglas Wise, of this city, are perturbed over her condition in sommers. France. She has been ill for two months. There is some mystery regarding her ailment and she is believed to be in a grave state. Her English nurse has written her relatives here asking them to send some member of the family to her bedside. The Duke of Richelieu, a namesake of the famous cardinal and descendant of one of the oldest families in France, sailed from here on August 1, to join his regiment. The Duke married Miss Wise on February 8, 1913. Cardinal Gibbons officiated at the marriage. The Duchess is beautiful and was a society favorite in this city. She is a daughter of the late Commander Frederick May Wise, U. S. N., who took part in the Civil war and the Boxer uprising in China. The Duke is half American, his mother being Alice Heine, daughter of a New Orleans banker. After the death of her husband she became the wife of Prince Albert of Monaco.

Miss Fairfax Answers Queries

SEEK AN EXPLANATION
DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
 Am a young man, 28, and deeply in love with a young girl. The other afternoon this girl's older sister waited for me outside a theater where I play as a musician, and abused her sister to me. Do you think she is trying to keep out of my way because she feels ashamed to recognize me? —JACK
 By all means go to the girl you love and talk the matter over with her. Convince her that nothing said about her could cause you to lose faith in her, and that you want the same loyalty from her.

BE PATIENT
DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
 I am a girl 17 and go to business as a stenographer. My parents are very strict, and when I ask them if I can go out they say no. I cannot go to parties or speak to boy friends. —HEARTBROKEN
 Are you sure you have done nothing to cause your parents to distrust you? A girl of 17 is really young enough to wait a few years for society. Suppose you devote the next year to winning your parents over to absolute faith in you. You will find this an absorbing and interesting task. And at the end of that time you can surely win such confidence that they will feel safe to let you take any pleasure that appeals to you.

THE HONORABLE THING
DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
 Am 18 and am going out with a young man five years my senior. The first time I went out with him he told me that he was engaged, but the girl did not treat him well. Now he asks me to go about with him, and in time said he would break off with the other girl. Please advise me. —S. H. L.
 Don't permit yourself to be drawn into this affair. If the young man cares for you and feels that his fiancée is not treating him fairly he should break with her and then seek your society. That is the only honorable course.

FAVORS BRUMBAUGH CHILD LABOR POLICY

Prominent Shoe Manufacture Congratulates Governor on His 16-Year Stand

Governor Brumbaugh to-day received a cordial letter of support for his child labor law policy to-day from John Lindner, former candidate for Congress and one of the prominent shoe manufacturers of the State. The letter expressed hearty congratulations and is as follows: "Carlisle, Pa., January 20, 1915. "Hon. Mark G. Brumbaugh, Governor of Pennsylvania. "Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. "Dear Governor: I noticed in the morning papers that you oppose the employment of children in our industries and that you favor the 15-year limit. If this be the case, permit me to extend to you my heartiest congratulations. "About a quarter of a century ago, we made it a rule to employ no one under the age of 16. Ten or twelve years later, we employed a few young people over 14, providing they continue their school work. About a year ago,

DON'T TAKE CALOMEL

Instead of dangerous, salivating Calomel to liven your liver when bilious, headachy or constipated, get a 10-cent box of Cascarets. They start the liver and bowels and straighten you up better than nasty Calomel, without griping or making you sick.—Advertisement.

I made a personal investigation in our establishment to inquire into the causes that compelled these young people under 16 years of age, which number about ten or twelve, to work, and found that the majority were compelled to seek employment on account of loss of a parent or parents, but principally on account of drunkenness in the family, which naturally causes poverty. If the heads of these families must have beverage, could there not be a way to prevent them from the excessive use of same and to prohibit them the use of drugs, which also cause poverty? "Sorry I did not see you yesterday. I wish to congratulate you, and hope you will have a most successful career as Governor of our State, and trust you will enjoy at all times the best of health. With best wishes, I beg to remain "Sincerely yours, "JOHN LINDNER."

KINDNESS

"What is the real good?" I ask in musing mood. Order, said the law court; Knowledge, said the school; Truth, said the wise man; Pleasure, said the fool; Love, said the maiden; Beauty, said the page; Freedom, said the dreamer; Home, said the sage; Fame, said the soldier; Equity, said the seer; Spoke my heart full sadly, "The answer is not here," Then within my bosom Softly this I heard: "Each heart holds the secret— Kindness— the word." —John Boyle O'Reilly.

MODISH FOUR-PIECE SKIRT.

Four-piece skirt of modish design, having the yoke and front cut in one piece. It is very smart developed in broadcloth.

The well-dressed woman cannot have too many separate skirts. This model lends itself to development in broadcloth, serge, silk or linen. The front and front yoke are cut in one piece and the closing is effected on the left side. The waist-line may be high or low, and the length regulation or shorter. It requires 2½ yards of 64-inch material to make the skirt. Cut the front gore and front yoke on a lengthwise fold of the material and arrange the pleating for back gore, back gore and back yoke on a lengthwise thread. To make the skirt, slash left side gore on double "oo" perforations for opening. Join gores as notched and pleat, creasing on slot perforations, bring folded edges to corresponding lines of small "o" perforations; stitch and press pleats. Join front and back yokes (on right side), edges even. Turn under edge of front yoke (on left side) on slot perforations, tap on back yoke to double "oo" perforations for closing. Sew to upper edges of side and back gores, notches and center-backs even. Adjust a webbing or a straight strip of canvas two inches wide to position underneath upper edge of skirt for a stay; stitch upper edges together. There are many methods to be employed in the further decoration of this skirt. Fine soutache or rat-tail braid may be used to outline the yoke and repeated on the hem of the skirt. Wider bands of plain or fancy braid sometimes form a heading for the pleated flounce where it is attached to the yoke. If one has the good fortune to be preparing the spring and summer wardrobe so early this model may be carried out in linen.
