RAILROADS MUST RENDER SERVICE

Important Stand Taken by the Public Service Commission in the Berlin Case

ESTABLISHES A PRECEDENT

Adams County Line Must Run Trains or Surrender Rights to the Commonwealth

By a decision in an Adams county case to-day the Public Service Commission practically decided that a railroad is bound to furnish reasonably adequate service on its line until such time as the duty imposed upon it by its charter shall have been surrendered and the surrender accepted by the Commonwealth. Daniel E. Brandt and other residents of East Berlin complained to the commission that the East Berlin Railroad Company refused to furnish to the public either freight or passenger service over its line, which extends from East Berlin to Berlin Junction in Adams county.

At the hearing before the commission it developed that this railroad began operation in 1876 and continued until September 9, 1914, when a receiver who had been appointed by court of common pleas for Adams county sold the franchise to William G. Leas. There was no dispute between the parties as to the fact that the operation has been a financial failure, and the respondent contended that for this reason the company had a right to cease exercising the franchises conferred upon it by the State. The commission points out that the granting of the charter to the company did not give it a mere license which it can surrender without the consent of the State. When a railroad charter is granted the company secures the right to construct the line mentioned in the charter, and when it has exercised that right it enters into a contract with the State to operate the line until such time as the State has authorized it to discontinue the operation. It is true that the State may look upon a non-user as a forfeiture of the rights granted and proceed to declare the franchise null and void, but until such action is taken the company is bound to perform the service which it undertook when it constructed its line under the powers given it by its charter. In other words, until either the State has forfeited the charter or the company has surrendered the same the contract between the State and the company must be carried out according to its terms. The order of the commission is that the East Berlin Railroad Company shall, on or before February 1, 1915, resume service over its line until such time as it shall be relieved from that duty in accordance with the laws of this State.

AGRICULTURE IS TO BE THE THEME

State Board and Allied Organizations Begin Important Meetings Here Tomorrow

Prominent farmers, land owners and men interested in the development of the agricultural resources of the State began to arrive in the city this afternoon for the opening of the thirty-eighth annual meeting of the State Board of Agriculture and the coincident meetings of the organizations affiliated with it.

The State Board of Agriculture will begin its sessions in the Board of Trade at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning and the State Poultrymen and the Poultry Breeders will begin their sessions in Chestnut Street Hall at the same time. The Dairy Union and the Stock Breeders will begin work in the afternoon, meeting at the Board of Trade, where the Holstein-Precisian Association will meet.

Half a dozen notable addresses and demonstrations are scheduled for the meetings, two of which will relate to agricultural matters which have been carrying off cattle and one of which will relate to soil fertility. Much attention will be given to agricultural conservation and it is possible that Governor Martin and G. Brumbaugh may speak if his duties permit. In all probability resolutions will be passed in regard to the State taking advantage of the federal aid for agricultural instruction and the highway, soil conservation, rural school and other problems of interest to men in the country and state reimbursement of farmers for cattle destroyed because of disease. These meetings afford legislators an idea of what the farmers want in the way of bills and this year because of the notices given to agricultural affairs by the new Governor and the cattle conditions the discussions will be doubly interesting.

Tuesday the State Board, the Poultry Society and Poultry Breeders' Association will hold meetings, commencing bright and early. Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon, State Veterinarian C. J. Marshall and other state officials will speak. Professor Harry R. Lewis, of the New Jersey agricultural station, is also scheduled. At night with E. S. Bayard, of Pittsburgh, presiding, Dr. H. D. Gill, New York, will discuss bovine tuberculosis. Wednesday the State Board will hear reports by various state officials and experts and committee chairmen. Dr. C. E. Thorne, Ohio agricultural station, will talk on soil conservation. The Pennsylvania Breeders' Association, State Dairy Union, Pennsylvania Holstein-Precisian Association and Associated Poultrymen will also have meetings and Professor W. H. Tomhave will give a demonstration of meat cutting.

Thursday committees will report and resolutions on legislation adopted and the foot and mouth disease discussed by Dr. Marshall. Plant as well as cattle breeding will be themes of papers.

For Agonizing Corns You Can't Beat It

Certainly not, "Putnam's" has 'em all beat a mile. It's a marvel on corns and foot blisters, acts like magic. Why for nearly fifty years Putnam's Extractor has been the standard remedy, the dependable one, the sure kind that never disappoints. It's painless too. Think of it! Paint it on to-night, in the morning the little corn has disappeared. Small wonder the sale of Putnam's Corn Extractor is so large, 25c at dealers everywhere and at C. M. Forney's.—Advertisement.
