Enos Russell, Custodian of Capitol Flag Room, Dies at New Cumberland

Special to The Telegraph
New Cumberland, Pa., Jan. 26.—
Enos Russell, for more than 28 years custodian of the flagroom at the State Capitol at Harrisburg, died at his home on Eighth street, at 5.25 o'clock this morning from a complication of diseases. Mr. Russell was 74 years old and has lived in New Cumberland about 14 years. He served in the Civil war, enlisting in 1861, and had a leg shot off in the battle of Lookout Mountain. After recovering from his wounds he re-enlisted without it being known that he had an artificial leg, and when that was discovered he was placed on duty as a dispatch bearer and served the enlistment. He was a member of Post 58, Grand Army of the Republic, of Harrisburg, Baughman Memorial Methodist Charch of New Cumberland and of several lodges. He is survived by his widow and three daughters, Mrs. Frank Kepner, of Harrisburg; Mrs. Henry Bowman, of Speceeville, and Mrs. Samuel Fralich, of Harrisburg. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. J. V. Adams officiating. Burial will be made in Paxtang Cemetery.

HOW SOLDIERS LIVE AND FIGHT IN THE TRENCHES

London, Jan. 26.—When it rains the trenches are half filled with water. The cold is always of the damp, penetrating, dreadful kind that chills to the very marrow. Hot food is served three times a day to the men in the trenches by other soldlers, who scurry like rabbits through long uncovered tunnels running back from the works concealing the guns.

These men in the trenches must have good food in order that they can have good blood, and if they have good blood, they have good courage, they keep warm because their circulation is good and their extremities are warm from exercise. Many men are invalided, however, because their blood and their stomach were not right to withstand the awful hardships of this winter campaign.
