FEDS AGAIN BUSY; SIGN CHARLEY DEAL

Plan Big Meeting in the East With the Minor League Owners

Special to The Telegraph
New York, Jan. 30.—President J. A. Gilmore, of the Federal League yesterday held a long conference with R. E. Ward, president of the Brooklyn Federal League Club. Later on he met Charles Deal, third baseman of the Boston world's champions and announced that Deal had signed a two-year contract to play with the St. Louis Federals.
Charles Deal won fame in the world's series last fall by stepping into the breach at third base after Smith was injured and made the jump because of a disagreement over salary. Manager Stallings set the price he thought Deal was worth, naming a slight advance over his salary of last season, and President Gaffney said he would not increase it. It is understood Deal was told every club in the National league had waived claim to his services.
The case of Leslie Mann, outfielder, is similar to that of Deal. He is dissatisfied with a proposed increase in salary, and a few days ago told President Gaffney he would join the Federals.
Gilmore stated that his trip East was principally for the purpose of attending a meeting of club owners and other interested parties in New England which will be held at New Haven tomorrow for the purpose of establishing a Federal minor league.

FRATERNITY MAKES KICK

Not in Favor of Making American Association Major Body
Special to The Telegraph
New York, Jan. 30.—President David L. Fultz, of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, announced last night it was not likely that the organization of players would approve of the promotion of the American Association to A. A. major league standing by dropping the draft rule.
Mr. Fultz pointed out that if the American Association clubs could sustain a major league standard and pay major league salaries there would be no question about the matter. But if they were not able to keep up a major league standard, which is hardly probable, it would mean that the players would be scattered up in the league, with no chance of advancement to the major leagues.
President Fultz said that if the draft rule is suspended the clubs would be at liberty to sell any of their players they saw fit, and this condition would not be popular with the baseball public in the different cities.

RELEASE "JOSH" DEVORE

Special to The Telegraph
Boston, Mass., Jan. 30.—"Josh" Devore, termed the "luckiest man in baseball" because of his connection with the New York Giants and later with the Boston Braves when each team won the world's championships, was given an unconditional release by the Boston Nationals to-day. A desire to allow him to sell his services in the best market was given as the reason for the release of the little pitcher. Devore has played also with Cincinnati and Philadelphia teams of the National League.
The Boston club received word that Walter Traubner, a catcher, who was with the Birmingham, Southern League team last year, had signed a contract with the Braves.

MAY TRANSFER ST. PAUL FRANCHISE

Special to The Telegraph
Chicago, Ill., Jan. 30.—Although the American Association has been promised a major league classification and will rearrange its circuit with a view of dropping one or two of the present cities, it will not invade Chicago at this time, Thomas M. Chivington, president of the association, said yesterday.
President Chivington said that it was possible that the St. Paul franchise will be assigned to a larger city and that another important change was contemplated.

STUDENTS UP IN ARMS

Special to The Telegraph
Lancaster, Pa., Jan. 30.—The students of Franklin and Marshall College so bitterly resent the suspension of Captain Myron Jones and Renzi Dichi, of the basketball team, by the college board of athletic control, on the ground that they had violated the rule forbidding playing on teams other than those of the institution, that they are preparing a petition asking for the men's reinstatement. Last week they played with a Lutz team after Coach Deal said he saw no objection to their doing so. The petition will say that the students will abide by any future decision in these matters, the present trouble being due to a misunderstanding.

PHILADELPHIA AFTER BIG BATTLE

Special to The Telegraph
Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—Since the announcement made by Jack McGugin, manager of the National A. C. Club, that Kid Williams, bantamweight champion, and Johnny Kilbane, holder of the world's featherweight title, would box six rounds at the club on February 24 for a purse of $5,000, the Olympia A. A. has offered the two autocrats of boxing a purse of $7,000. Despite the fact that he had already agreed to meet Kilbane at the National Club for the $5,000 purse, Kid Williams, through his manager, Sam Harris, would change his mind now and accept the Olympia's more liberal offer.

AMUSEMENTS

Miss Adelyn Bushnell, Leading Lady in Next Week's Stock Company

MISS ADELYN BUSHNELL
Like a refreshing breeze from the west comes Miss Adelyn Bushnell, a winsome miss who will be seen in the leading feminine roles as leading lady to Arthur Chatterton in the several plays to be presented at the Majestic theater next week. In Chicago and all the cities of importance between there and the Pacific coast Miss Bushnell is recognized as one of the most popular of permanent stock stars. She has held engagements at Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City and St. Louis, and it was while filling the position of leading lady in the stock company at Lincoln, Neb., that the story of her wonderful charm came eastward and she was immediately engaged by Nathan Appell as leading lady for the Chatterton company.
Miss Bushnell has made quite a name for herself by her convincing and consistent portrayal of emotional parts. Although very young, she has acquired an ability that comes usually only with long years of work, and sometimes never comes at all. She is rather small, of excellent figure, possesses a round, rich, sympathetic voice which is always under perfect control. Her well graduated tones go far toward creating that indefinable something called atmosphere.
Miss Bushnell will be seen in the leading feminine roles in all of the plays presented by Mr. Chatterton and his company next week. She will introduce some new dance steps along

NOTHING DOING IN TRI-STATE; HOLD UP CONTRACTS FEW WEEKS

Harrisburg Fans Will Learn About Next Season's Plans After the League's Meeting in Philadelphia

Failure to have the necessary dress rehearsals will prevent the opening overture in the Tri-State League to-day. News from Harrisburg fans will not be shown on the screen before February 17. One day earlier the censors of the Tri-State will meet with the chief censor, George Graham, to arrange for distribution of real news.
To-day is the day for sending contracts to all players on the reserve list. In view of the uncertainty as to the salary limit, Tri-State owners are not quite ready to make offers to players. It is understood that the time for sending out contracts will be postponed until February 20. The Tri-State owners are not interested in the proposed plan of the Federal League to establish farms in the minor leagues. It is not likely that any effort will be made on the part of the Feds to purchase the local franchise. Any sale must be approved by the league. As it has been announced that none of the Tri-State owners feel kindly toward the Feds, the outlaws are not expected to break into the game here.

HOWES TRAVEL FESTIVAL
Howe travelers at the Majestic this evening will visit what, at first sight, might well be regarded as a governmental edifice, museum or university. In reality it is the plant of the National Register company in Dayton, Ohio, and the innumerable processes, operations and machines employed in manufacturing the product shown in this reproduction are of absorbing interest. Native life in the Philippines is another feature of remarkable interest showing the strange customs of different tribes and how these same tribes have been civilized by Uncle Sam. One of the great personal risks, showing the last head-hunt which ever occurred in Bontoc, this portion never has been and never can be duplicated as head-hunting has now ceased.—Adv.

WE ALL HAVE OUR FAVORITES

This applies to every walk of life, be it professional, artistic or commercial. So when it is announced that next week we have favorites as guests at the Majestic, we are all interested. The guests are: Manning, William J. Porter, William McCarthy, Harold Clavin, Antoinette Rochet, Mae McCaskey, Dorothy Beardsley and the winsome little leading lady, Miss Adelyn Bushnell, will be in the support of the celebrated young romantic actor, Arthur Chatterton, the younger grows apace. Then there is the list of plays which every lady posted on the theater recognizes as composed of Broadway successes. These are promised with every accessory that's so important toward giving that delightful atmosphere so characteristic in original productions. In short, theateurs are fully justified in the assumption that every day of the engagement of the Arthur Chatterton company will be a red letter day of genuine treats at the Majestic.—Advertisement.

NAUTY'S PICTURE JOURNEYS

Those who adore the charm, interest and customs of foreign lands will find delight in a series of Thursday evening picture journeys to be presented by William Nauty at the Chestnut Street Auditorium. The first tour, on Thursday evening, February 4, will be through England, Wales and Scotland. Odd places, brimming with interest, are brought to view by superbly colored views and motion pictures. Every view has been made within the past ten months, showing the tight little life of each village just before the great war broke out.
Mr. Nauty uses his own views exclusively and carries his hearers through the streets of London, showing spots most familiar to all through the lives and achievements of our greatest men.
Waverleishire, Oxford and quaint Cotswold are visited. Tudor estates, preserved through centuries, unfold their luxuriant gardens. The charm which pervades the Lake region is rendered, Scotland, the wonders of the Firth of Perth and the little empire of Bobby Burns provide delightful moments in the evening journey.

Water From City Mains Bottled and Sold as "Pure Mountain" Water

Special to The Telegraph
Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—Bottled water exploited as "pure and sparkling, from mountain spring and babbling brook, far from mill and factory, sewer terminals and other sources of contamination," but obtained in Fairmount Park or drawn from the city mains, is being supplied to families and office buildings in Philadelphia. This use of the excellence of the city water supply for appealing to the vanity or prejudices of persons who revel in the imported was disclosed by Chief C. B. Carlton, of the Bureau of Water, to the Business Science Club yesterday at its luncheon at the Adelphi Hotel. "Much of the so-called mountain spring water sold here," he said, "is taken from springs in Fairmount Park. Some of it is drawn from the city mains and boiled and labeled Spring water."
