

No "Ten-Cent Loaves" nor "six-cent loaves," nor "five-cent loaves"—just a penny, and no more, buys one of those little loaves of and remember it is the whole wheat—not just the white flour center of the wheat grain. It contains all the rich, body-building material stored in the whole wheat berry, steam-cooked, shredded and baked. By this process every particle of the wheat berry is made digestible in the human stomach and is readily converted into healthy tissue.

In a package of Shredded Wheat Biscuit you get twelve loaves of whole wheat for twelve cents. Two of these Biscuits, served with hot milk, make a warm, nourishing meal, supplying all the strength-giving nutriment needed for a half-day's work with hand or brain. Just the food for the kiddie's breakfast before rushing off to school. It is ready-cooked and ready-to-serve. Always the same price, always the same high quality. All grocers sell it.

STEELTON MAN TAKEN PRISONER BY RUSS

every courtesy and is allowed to write to any of his friends in America. He cannot, however, write to anyone in Austria. This, of course, bars him from informing his parents in Agram, Croatia, of his whereabouts.

That the Russian soldiers treat their prisoners kindly is evident from Fenic's letter. Captured in one of the engagements between the Vistula and Warsaw, during the first Austrian campaign in Russia, Fenic relates how he was taken to the interior of Russia and confined in "Barracks No. 2." He does not, however, say where "Barracks No. 2" is located nor what the postmark reveal from what part of Russia the letter comes.

Well Fed Fenic declares that he is fed well, given ample clothing and is allowed considerable liberty. Very often, he relates, he and other Croats are allowed to go into the nearby town without any guards. The German and Magyar prisoners however, do not fare so well, he avers. "The Russians don't like the Dutch and Magyars," he writes, "and they are treated more like dogs than soldiers."

Fenic relates how the Russian peasant girls bring food and clothes to the barracks and asserts that the girls show the Croatian prisoners considerable attention. They don't look at the Dutchmen, however," he declares. Fenic concludes his letter by urging his sister-in-law not to forget to write to his parents and to declare that a prisoner's life is better than a soldier's in the trenches. His letter is dated October 2, 1914—just four months ago.

Child Is Badly Burned Playing With Matches

Playing with matches at her home, 711 South Third street, yesterday, Barbara Drzenovic, 3 years old, was perhaps fatally burned when her clothes caught fire. She is now in the Harrisburg hospital with more than two-thirds of her body badly burned. Slight hope is entertained for her recovery.

That the little orphan did not burn to death immediately was due to the presence of mind of Peter Naranic, 24 years old, a boarder at the house. Naranic seized rugs and smothered the flames. He was seriously burned.

WHAT SCIATICA IS

There is something terrifying about the word sciatica. Yet sciatica is nothing but neuralgia of the sciatic nerve and neuralgia is an inflammation caused by lack of nourishment.

Application of dry heat as hot sand bags or flannel to the course of the inflamed nerve often quiets the pain but it does not feed the nerve. It is temporary relief, a good thing to know about, but not a remedy.

What causes the nerve starvation that results in neuralgia and sciatica and how may it be corrected?

The most common cause is a run-down physical system and a frequent exciting cause is exposure to cold. This blood is often at fault. It is through the blood that the nerves get their nourishment. Moral man knows of no other way of getting nourishment to a nerve. Therefore when the blood gets thin and fails to feed the nerves they show their resentment by becoming inflamed. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at this stage and see how the inflammation subsides as the enriched blood carries to the starved nerve its elements of food.

CLOTURE RULE MAY END FIGHT ON SHIP BILL

"In the last election," said Senator Walsh, "the total vote in the city for governor was 481,000 odd, so the senator means to say that there are more unemployed men in the city of New York than there are voters."

Senator Sherman, Weeks, Page and others kept up a running fire of questions with the Michigan senator relating to business conditions and the shipping bill was entirely ignored in the argument.

Senator Fletcher, in charge of the bill declared, "I am prepared to stay right here until we force a vote on this bill."

ITCHING NEARLY DROVE A WHOLE FAMILY CRAZY

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 24, 1914—"My husband had a rash all over his body, and soon the WHOLE FAMILY was in the same condition. It looked scaly and raised up on the arms and body in big lumps. This trouble burned and itched so that it would nearly drive one crazy. It was always worse at night, so we could not sleep. We all had this trouble for about two or three years, and during that time tried many remedies and prescriptions with no results. We tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap and it RELIEVED AT ONCE, and before the third jar of ointment had been used, we were all completely cured. It has been four months since we were cured, and there are no traces of the trouble."—(Signed) Mrs. S. A. Clarkson, 1529, Lawn Ave.

Advertising to Create Sentiment

A certain Municipal Rapid Transit Company engaged several prominent men of unpopularity usually falling to the lot of the American street railway.

It was hammered on all sides, and as a result many unjust burdens were imposed on it.

The managers of the railway decided to take the public into its confidence.

It began a newspaper campaign showing up the unfair taxes it was compelled to bear and how these burdens were impairing service.

The result has been a better public sentiment, the relieving of the company from many of its difficulties, and improved transit services for the people.

Advertising in the newspapers was one of the best investments this company ever made.
