DOES COUNTY HAVE A POOR FARM? LISTEN!

Dauphin County's Acres "Over the Hills" Produced Hundreds of Bushels of Things

As farms so Dauphin county's poor farm isn't so poor at that, judging from Steward S. F. Barber's annual crop report for 1914 and passed upon to-day by the Poor Board.

Here are a few of the things that were raised: Bushels of corn, 5,500; wheat, 637; oats, 323; potatoes, 1,350; turnips 374; beans, 62; beets, 27; onions, 15; tomatoes, 95; lettuce, 26; peppers, 3; dried corn, 10; peas, 6; lima beans, 11; heads of cabbage, 12,450; stalks of celery, 1,200; barrels of sauerkraut, 13; tons of hay, 70; bunches of asparagus, 92; rhubarb, 3,020.

But that wasn't all. But this was not all the poor farm produced. Eleven barrels of soap were churned, 582 dozens of eggs were collected, 5,187 pounds of beef and 12,459 pounds of pork were killed. It was necessary to buy only 245 pounds of beef. The big increases over the preceding year were in corn, potatoes and cabbage.

Cost More Than in 1913

All this cost the county considerably more than the preceding year, however, $7,990.62 to be exact. The net cost to the county for 1914 was $1,896.56. In 1913 it was $43,905.94.

The total expenses last year including salaries, fuel, light and other general expenses amounted to $26,728.59, although building equipment and improvements cost an additional $9,517.57. Just $10,580.13 was paid out for outside expenses including $9,012.95 for outdoor and $1,567.18 for quarantine relief. The total liabilities were $1,312.43.

EUROPEAN WAR PICTURES No need for any venturesome spirit to make tracks across the sea to get to the theater of the world now raging. It is to be brought right to the Majestic, Monday afternoon and evening, where it will be shown on the screen with accurate and reliable scenes taken on the spot.

"MIKADO" One of the old-time favorites is the "Three Little Maids From School" from the ever popular Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado." It will be rendered on February 11 and 12 in the Majestic Theater, by Ada Hershley as "Yum-Yum," with a remarkably sweet alto voice, and Helen Keisler as "Peep-Bo," their interpretation of these beautiful views of a real war. The greater portion of the first section of the entertainment shows what awful havoc was wrought by the German army on Belgian towns and fortresses. The ruined forts at Liege, Namur and at Antwerp and the wrecked buildings at Louvain, glimpses into the actual life of the soldiery struggling for supremacy in the field of battle and hundreds of exciting events are shown just as they actually occurred. The pictures are magnificent and not posed for by a lot of actors.

OUCH! LUMBAGO! RUB PAINS FROM SORE, LAME BACK Rub backache away with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacob's Oil"

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness as quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.—Advertisement.

One of the most successful bits of Zieffeld's "Polles" was a comedy sketch called "The Telephone Tangle," that is being so successfully presented by Dorothy Regal and company as the leading attraction of the fine bill of Keith hits at the Orpheum this week. Here it is as successful as ever, since so if that is possible, and Orpheum audiences are just laughing themselves tired at the rich comedy lines and situations that abound throughout "The Telephone Tangle" deals with a few minutes of the switchboard operator's busiest hour. The stage setting shows Central at work. As the calls come in she makes the various connections and when the "party" answers, an illumination in the curtain, shows the various parties in conversation. (Runs Easy Corner has seen. This attraction is a gem on the line with a saucy soubrette, who wants the booking offices, and she calls him down unmercifully. Then a "nice" society couple try to make a "date" and get mixed up with Abe's "bible," of the Complex Co., who is saying pretty notions to his sweetheart. The plot thickens as the act progresses and the curtain drops at the finish with the house gasping. The Orpheum's whole bill is clever and worth while.—Advertisement.

To-night COLONIAL Store will be an added attraction to a bill that was generally conceded to be the best the Rusty Corner has seen. This attraction as usual will be very interesting, and the vaudeville show, which appears for its last engagements to-night, should not be overlooked by lovers of good vaudeville. Comedy runs rampant throughout the bill, headed off with a screaming comedy playlet entitled "Red Cross Mary," calling in the efforts of a pretty and clever girl and four comedians of the first water. The bill is excellent throughout.

A procession of the judges of the law courts of London, garbed in wig and gown, and passing through the streets on their way to open the sessions, is a striking feature of the way in which England clings to her ancient customs in all things. And showing this, as well as a beautiful cavalry drill to music, by many of the lancers now engaged in wars will be featured in Nauty's picture journey on England, Wales and Scotland at Chestnut Street Auditorium on Thursday evening, February 4.

"THE SHANGHAIDED BABY" AT THE PHOTOPLAY Jackie, the little son of Gordon and Leila Lambert, is neglected by his parents. John Manning, has been a favorite at Leila's court. One evening during a party Leila, coming to a temporary realization of the hollowness of her life, goes to the piano, where, alone, she sings "The Slimmer Boat." Upstairs, Jackie hears the song and creeps down to listen. Then he steals out to a summer house and falls asleep. Manning, dismissed by Leila in anger finds the sleeping boy. He intends to return the boy within a few days, after the mother has realized what his loss would mean. Joe, the "Bel," entering the apartment intent on burglary, and recognizing Jackie, abducts him, expecting a ransom. Dressing him as a Chinese child, he hides him in a cellar in the Chinese quarter.—Advertisement.

Probably no person in the public eye at the present time is better known or more universally admired than Crane Wilbur, the dashing young hero of "The Perils of Pauline," who will appear in person at the Regent Theater, afternoon and evening of Saturday. To-day and to-morrow this theater presents a strong drama of the well-known Paramount Program, entitled "Wild Flower," a bewildering characterization by Marguerite Clarke, supported by a most efficient corps of assistants making this an especially strong production.—Advertisement.

America's greatest four part drama is "The Will O' The Wisp" headline at the Victoria Theater, 223 Market street, to-day. Enacted during a raining flood, an all-star cast presents a story replete with thrilling incidents and breath-taking scenes. The cast includes: Henry King, Miss Jackie Saunders, Miss Madeline Pardee, Robert Grey, Charles Dudley, Miss Molly McConnell, W. Johnson.

THE WILL O' THE WISP AT THE VICTORIA TO-DAY

A coated tongue means sluggish liver and bowels—Listen mother Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; that is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels needs a cleansing at once. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has noisy stomach, diarrhoea, remember a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given. Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ill. Give a teaspoonful and in just a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food, clogged in the bowels, passes out of the system and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless fruit laxative and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on each bottle. Mother, keep it handy in your home. A little given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs." Then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no cheaper size. Don't be fooled.—Advertisement.
