and the latest German proclamation is expected to cause a redoubled effort of all the neutrals for measures to protect themselves.

Statement Not Received. Neither the State Department nor the German embassy had received the latest Berlin admiralty statement today and it was said at the German embassy that the Berlin Foreign Office probably would deliver copies to diplomatic representatives in Berlin and regard that notice as sufficient. Yesterday's proclamation is an extension of a former one delivered by Ambassador Gerard, applying to the north and west coasts of France.

There is no precedent in dealing with the question, because heretofore submarines have played no important part in warfare and all of the rules of international law are framed with special reference to ordinary ships. The ordinary practice in taking prizes and dealing with the merchandises of an enemy which it is not feasible to take as prizes are clearly set out and established by long usage. The merchantmen must be halted, boarded and either made a prize or sunk. But in the latter case, crew and passengers must be taken off.

While it was noted that the proclamation was directed against "enemy ships" and applies to neutral ships only when the attacks "were meant for enemy ships" through suspicion of misuse of neutral flags, officials expressed grave concern over the implied threat to sink merchant vessels probably without warning or taking off noncombatant passengers and crews.

During consideration of the subject by the State Department American mariners probably will be expected to heed the German warning and enter forbidden waters only at their own risk, precisely what they have been doing in the North Sea since notices several months ago from both the British and German governments, that owing to the planting of mines, it would be regarded as within the war zone.

England Is Stirred by Germans' Declaration

Special to The Telegraph

London, Feb. 5, 12.45 p. m.—Although referring sarcastically to Germany's threat to bottle up the British Isles by means of submarines as a "paper blockade," England is stirred today by this latest development in the marine situation as she seldom has been since the outbreak of hostilities.

The press unanimously subordinates all other war news, not excepting the Turkish halt at the Suez canal to give prominence to the dispatches from Berlin while the foreign office statement following quickly the publication of the German threat as one requiring a prompt counter stroke. As the statement says, the authorities are considering "more stringent measures against German trade." The ministers are treating the subject as of particular urgency and a full official statement as to the attitude of Great Britain published.

Some English newspapers declare today that the German announcement will benefit England in that it rightfully entitles the British government to declare contraband all foodstuffs destined for Germany.

HOTEL INSPECTION TO FEATURE TRADE TRIP

hotels and that they need not be restricted to metropolitan cities.

Four hundred tickets to the "Making Good in Business" talks of Frank Jewel Raymond to be given by the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce on February 19, 23 and 25 were taken at a meeting of the committee in charge of the matter yesterday afternoon.

The talks will be given in the auditorium of the Technical High school, as they are of an educational nature. Never in the history of Harrisburg, according to the leading merchants who heard Mr. Raymond on January 28, has the business public been given such an opportunity to get inspiration and effective business advice.

The chamber desires to make plain it is not necessary for a man to be a retail clerk or salesman to benefit from these talks. Any employee or business man who comes in contact with the public and has to depend for advancement upon his ability to make others acquainted with his proposition can benefit.

Every branch of business and industry of the city was represented at the meeting on the twenty-eighth, which was addressed by Mr. Raymond and all of them stated that they would benefit them and their people. For instance, the Moorehead Knitting Company has engaged Mr. Raymond at their expense, to give a special talk to suit their line of business.

The new Credit Rating Bureau being installed by the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce is thoroughly explained to the membership by a letter and forms received in the mail by the members to-day.

A. D. MacMillan, the expert who is looking after its installation is at the headquarters of the Chamber of Commerce and calling on those members who desire personal advice and suggestions in regard to the matter.

FORESTRY BOARD SEES GOVERNOR

Executive Asks the Members to Submit Their Ideas on Forestry Service to Him

Governor Brumbaugh to-day discussed the State forestry service and enlargement of the State Forestry Commission and asked for the views of the members of the State Forestry Commission on the subject of reorganizing that branch of the government. The commissioners held their monthly meeting here today and invited the Governor during the afternoon, urging that appropriations be made to extend the reservations and for the organization of a fire service that would be adequate.

The Governor has been asking many questions lately regarding the State forestry service and the work of the game and fish departments, which also have wardens. Some time ago there were suggestions made by people interested in outdoor life that they should be consolidated in a department of conservation. The Governor will leave for Philadelphia late to-day and will return on Monday to meet the Republican platform committee on legislation and to discuss the workmen's compensation and other acts. He also plans to visit some of the details of his proposed reorganization of the Department of Agriculture.

Moyer Was Here.—Gabriel H. Moyer, former member of the House from Lebanon county, was to-day visiting friends on the "Hill."

List Stays Closed.—The State Board of Pardons to-day closed its list for February 1915. It with twenty-eight cases to be heard. No further cases will be added. The list will close and stay closed hereafter.

Governor Dined.—Governor Brumbaugh and his party dined at the Harrisburg Club last night, the other guests being the Public Service Commissioners.

Greeted Governor.—Governor Brumbaugh was called upon to-day by a number of the State school directors. Many of them had met in his campaign and he had met them at all.

Held Over.—The application of the Reading Railway for approval of two grade crossings in Avon was held over by the Public Service Commission yesterday.

Counties Heard From.—The State Highway Department is commencing to hear from counties throughout the State which have approved under the State aid plan. Instead of this idea losing its popularity it is surprising how many applications of the kind are made.

No Spread of Smallpox.—State Health Department officials say that there has been no spread of smallpox in Bedford county and that the other outbreaks are under control by local boards.

Charter Issued.—The Hamilton Land Company, of Pittsburgh, was chartered to-day with $10,000 capital. It is expected that the company will file the report of its investigations next Tuesday or Wednesday. The prediction is general that there will be some changes recommended in the periods for storing articles and that administrative details will be perfected.

Went to Reading.—Members of the Central High School were turned left to-day for Reading where they will make a number of inspections of conditions along the Schuylkill river.

Lock Man in Room, Then Fire His HOME

When Fire Chief Shupp investigated he found that the firebug had secured the door of the stairway with a certain pole torn from his fastenings and it was across the door with curtain ropes. A five-gallon can of kerosene and a two-gallon can of gasoline had been emptied over the door, and the fire chief, there is no clue to the identity of the culprit.

Right on His Heels.—That the Goddess of Fortune is following Ostoch is evident from the fact that just after the burglar had left from a second story window while walking in his sleep and escaped serious injury.

It was just a few weeks ago, too, that the Ostoch home was robbed. On this occasion Ostoch trapped the burglar in his kitchen as he was making away with several pairs of trousers and a gold watch. The burglar, however, surprised Ostoch by drawing a revolver and later forcing Ostoch out of the room at the point of the gun, made his escape.
