East End Republican Club Is Expanding

The East End Republican Club is expanding rapidly. The Republicans of the Hill section appreciate that they have in their club a live, active and aggressive Republican organization, which has been established four years, and he is now entering upon its fifth year full of ambition. Its members propose to make it an organization to which every Republican who is a resident of that section, and is interested in the welfare of the party may belong. The club especially commends itself to Republicans of all beliefs, because of the fact that it is constructed on entirely different lines from other similar clubs. It is the intention of the club to take a very active part in the very important political campaigns of the coming summer and Fall. This organization has on its roster the names of many of the prominent and active Republicans of the East End and promises to have as members in the near future all good Republicans of that section. The entrance fee is $2; dues, twenty-five cents per month. The

FEARING LOSS OF LICENSE HOTEL CALLS OFF DANSAITS
Special to The Telegraph
Reading, Pa., Feb. 10. — Evidently taking the hint from the Court's announcement in granting several transfers of liquor licenses Monday, that dancing would be sufficient cause for revocation, the management of the Berkshire, Reading's new $500,000 hotel, yesterday announced that the dansaists which have been especially popular

since the hostelry opened had been discontinued.

Judges Endlich and Wagner have been bitterly opposed to dances at hotels, and have publicly notified landlords upon several occasions that violation of the rule against their being held would result in licenses being taken away. The hotel clientele is composed of Reading's most exclusive society.

Stough tabernacle was added yesterday when Lawrence P. Ressler, proprietor of the Lauer's Park Hotel, urged the local committee to erect the house of worship on a vacant lot adjoining his property.

The hotel proprietor cheerfully admitted that his invitation was prompted by the belief that "business" would boom in consequence. Dr. P. T. Cartwright, Stough's representative, stated that he was averse to accepting the invitation, because the lot was owned by Frank P. Lauer, a well-known brewer, and he thought Doctor Stough would not feel comfortable in attacking the saloon interests on the property of one of their number.

HOTEL MAN WANTS TABERNACLE NEAR HIS BUSINESS PLACE

Reading, Pa., Feb. 10. — A unique development in the controversy regarding the location of the proposed
