TALL MEN CALL ON BARNEY DREYFUSS

President John K. Tener and Tommy W. Leach Transact Business With Chief Pirate

Special to The Telegraph. Pittsburgh, Feb. 18.—Two extremes in the baseball world dropped into the offices of the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday. One was John K. Tener, president of the National League and ex-governor of Pennsylvania. The other was Thomas W. Leach, who received his unconditional release from the Chicago Cubs a few days ago. President Tener stands six feet, six inches tall, but beside Leach he looks to be fully seven feet in stature. Tommy the Wee, in reality is five and a half feet in height, but when the two are together the little ex-Pirate star doesn't appear to be much bigger than a minute. Tener is transacting some private business in and about Pittsburgh. He dropped in for a little chat with President Dreyfuss, but said he had nothing at this time to give out concerning baseball matters. The ex-governor will leave shortly for California, where he will represent Pennsylvania at the Pan-American exposition. Leach's object in calling at headquarters was to see about a berth in Cincinnati. The Reds are in need of an outfielder and Tommy has been one of the greatest players the national game ever possessed. He still has a lot of baseball in his system. The Federal League is negotiating to secure his signature on a contract. The National does not like to see the little star drift out of organized ball. Leach, therefore, was asked to call at headquarters. He kept the appointment. President Dreyfuss, it is said, was asked by August Herrmann, head of the Cincinnati club, to get into touch with Leach if possible and endeavor to arrange with him to consider an offer from the Reds. It is understood that Tommy agreed to negotiate, expressing a wish to accept the best proposition he might receive.

Home Run Batsman Quits Baseball Game

Nothing stirred the baseball world more than the announcement made last night by Connie Mack that his home run hitter, J. Franklin Baker, had retired from the national game. Baker believes that he can do better on his farm. He has two more years to serve and is still a young man.

LEAGUE GAMES FOR HARRISBURG; NEW BASKETBALL PROBABILITY

Before the basketball season ends, Harrisburg fans will see every team in the Eastern league, and some teams more than once. Back of this series of games is a desire to feel the patrons on a league team for Harrisburg. This, it is said is a next season probability. Games played to date gives the Harrisburg Independents the right to be in a class with Eastern league teams. The attendance has proven that a league team would pay. There are some doubts as to patronage at mid-week games and for this reason leading will be offered as an attraction Tuesday night, February 23. On Saturday night Greystock will be here for a second game. This team gave Harrisburg one of the hardest fights of the season two weeks ago. The Independents have been practicing hard. McConnell will be in the game and plenty of excitement is promised.

Army-Navy Game Plans; Play Game in New York

Special to The Telegraph. New York, Feb. 18.—All arrangements were completed here to hold the Army-Navy football game of 1915 at the Polo Grounds, the home of the New York National League Baseball Club, on November 27. The arrangements for the game provide that West Point and Annapolis will divide 25,000 seats, while the New York club will give 24,000 from its receipts to the army and navy charitable institutions which annually get the proceeds of the game. Secretary Foster, of the Giants, said that with the temporary seats put in at the Polo Grounds about 40,000 persons were seated at the 1913 game, but the club contemplates installing extra seats for next Fall's game, so that about 45,000 may be accommodated.

HARRISBURG ANXIOUS FOR TRI-STATE BALL

Urge Purchase of Local Franchise If It Is Offered For Sale; Emerson For Manager

Harrisburg fans want league baseball. They would also like to see "chick" Emerson manager. Encouragement came to-day in the announcement that there are backers in Harrisburg ready to take over the local franchise if it is offered for sale. Due to the fact that Harrisburg fared well financially last season, a general opinion prevails with local fans that there is no argument against the Tri-State game. That if it was a paying investment last season, it certainly ought to be the coming season with lower salary limit and an eight-club circuit. Local officials are of the opinion that the trouble will be to find eight desirable towns. York looks favorable if a $1,200 limit is adopted. There are doubts as to Lancaster, and Jale Weitzel, of Reading, is knocking the Tri-State proposition in his home town. President George Graham of the Tri-State will make a canvas of several towns to learn conditions.
