Kaiser's Sea Lord Decrees

Berlin, Feb. 18. - To-day Ad-

Berlin, Feb. 18.— To-day Admiral Von Tirpitz' threat, made several months ago, that eventually Germany would find it necessary to "staro out England" will go into effect. Or at least the Kaiser's dogs of war will trp to make the blockade of English ports effective through the use of the Kiel fleet, the destroyer fotillas and the huge submarine boats of unrevealed cruising radius.

PLAN TO PRESERVE HISTORICAL SITES

$500 Given Toward Fort McCord Memorial; Recommends Purchase of Fort Augusta

What has been accomplished and what it expects to do in the way of preserving historical sites in the state is outlined in detail in the first report of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission, which was created by the 1912 Legislature. The members of this commission are Senator William C. Sproul, Chester, chairman; George P. Donehoe, Coudersport, secretary; william H. Stevenson, Pittsburgh, treasurer; W. L. Hensel, Lancaster; Hampton L. Carson, Philadelphia; Thomas L. Montgomery, Harrisburg, curator.

The Governor told the party with considerable emphasis that they could look for square dealing from him on all things.

Powell Getting Busy. — Estimated assessments which carry penalties of 10 per cent, will be begun by the Auditor General on March 1 against corporations delinquent in the filing of reports for 1914. Penalties of $500 will be imposed, as required by law, against companies delinquent for three successive years. Each company incorporated or registered in the State was notified early in November of the law's requirements, but the number of delinquents is large. An attorney connected with a Clearfield county corporation writes to the Auditor General that he is the company's only officer or director who has not sone to Europe to live in the trenches. All the others went to France when the call to the colors came and one has since been killed. The attorney cannot reach any of the others and asks how, under the circumstances, he can preserve the company's status with the department.

days that the bones were those of the Chambersburg woman who was located by Telegraph reporters last evening, but the fact that she has been found deepens the mystery still more. There is now absolutely no clue as to the identity of the girl victim and it remains for further inquiry to be made concerning the occupants of the mystery house.

County authorities say they are able to locate each family residing there and it will now be up to them to grill the former occupants and endeavor to learn a true clue which will help in running down the murderer. With the skeleton there was not the smallest trinket or article of clothing which would tend to reveal the identity of the supposedly young victim and now confronting the officers, is one of the most mysterious cases ever developed in the annals of the city.

Tears were streaming from his eyes as he declared that Plemencic was his best friend and had been his chum from boyhood days. Plemencic and a party of friends were drinking together, Krzmonic declared, in his bedroom when the shooting occurred.

Krzmonic went to his trunk, he asserts, to get a bottle of whisky. He picked up a revolver. It discharged accidentally, he alleges. The bullet struck Plemencic, who fell to the floor with blood streaming from his chest.

Withnesses say Krzmonic was the first to rush to the fallen man's side. Medical aid was summoned, but the man died almost instantly.

A postmortem examination conducted last evening by Dr. W. P. Kelley and Dr. Dickinson in the Wilt undertaking establishment disclosed that the bullet had pierced his heart.

Coroner Jacob Eckinger will hold an inquest in the office of Squire Gardner just as soon as an investigation of the affair is completed. Krzmonic is shall carry no war supplies. Hope is expressed that the American government will understand the position in which Germany has been placed and appreciate the reasons for its course. The reply closes with an expression of the hope that the United States may prevail upon Great Britain "to return to the principles of international law recognized prior to the outbreak of the war," and in particular obtain the observance of the London declaration by belligerents opposed to Germany. If this were done, the note explains, Germany would be enabled to import food supplies and raw materials. Germany would recognize in this, says the reply, an invaluable service toward a more humane conduct of the war and would act in accordance with the new situation thus created.

The text of the German government's reply to the American note follows:

"The imperial government has examined the communication from the United States in the same spirit of good will and friendship by which the communication appears to have been dictated. The imperial government is in accord with the United States government that for both parties it is in a high degree desirable to avoid misunderstandings which might arise from measures announced by the German admiralty and to provide against the occurrence of incidents which might trouble the friendly relations which so far happily exist between the two governments.

"With regard to the assuring of these friendly relations, the German government believes that it may, all the more, reckon on a full understanding with the United States, as the procedure announced by the German admiralty, which was fully explained in the note of the 4th instant, is in no way directed against legitimate commerce and legitimate shipping of neutrals, but represents solely a measure of self-defense, imposed on Germany by her vital interests, against England's method of warfare, which is contrary to international law, and which so far no protest by neutrals has succeeded in bringing back to the generally "In order to exclude all doubt regarding these cardinal points the German government once more begs leave to state how things stand. Until now Germany has scrupulously observed valid international rules regarding naval warfare. At the very beginning of the war Germany implored the American government to ratify the new Paclaration of London and took over its contents unaltered, and without formal obligation, into her prize law.

"The German government has obeyed these rules, even when they were diametrically opposed to her militants. For instance, Germany allowed the transportation of provisions into England from Denmark until today, though she was well able, by her sea forces, to prevent it. In contradistinction to this attitude England has not even hesitated at a second infringement of international law if by such means she could paralyze the peaceful commerce of Germany with neutrals. The German government will be the less obliged to enter into details, as these are put down sufficiently, though not exhaustively, in the American note to the British government dated November 28 as a result of five months' experience.

Work Is Admitted

Work Is Admitted

There is something terrifying about the word sciatica. Yet sciatica is nothing but neuralgia of the sciatic nerve and neuralgia is an inflammation caused by lack of nourlshment.

Application of dry heat as hot sand bags or flannel to the course of the inflamed nerve often quiets the pain but it does not feed the nerve. It is temporary relief, a good thing to know about, but not a remedy.

What causes the nerve starvation that results in neuralgia and sciatica and how may it be corrected?

The most common cause is a rundown physical system and a frequent exciting cause is exposure to cold Thin blood is often at fault. It is through the blood that the nerves get their nourishment. Mortal man knows of no other way of getting nourishment to a nerve. Therefore when the blood gets thin and falls to feed the nerves they show their resentment by becoming inflamed. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at this stage and see how the inflammation subsides as the enriched blood carries to the starved nerves the elements they need.

Write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schienectady, N. Y., for a copy of the booklet, "Nervous Disorders, A Method of Home Treatment." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.—Advertisement.
