NEW OFFICIALS WILL REOPEN LOST BANK

Cashier to Succeed Suicide Binner and New Solicitor Chosen by Directors

Special to The Telegraph
Schaefferstown, Pa., Feb. 19.—Steps forecasting the early reopening of the First National Bank here were taken yesterday in the selection of certain new officials, who will assume the active administration of its affairs.

The bank's president, Uriah E. Horst, announced the election of Howard C. Shirk, a Lebanon lawyer, as the bank's new solicitor. Shirk succeeds Abraham S. Brendle, of this place, who has filled the position from the time of the bank's organization, six years ago, and as a member of the directorate to-day cast his vote for the new solicitor. James Ranney, a York county bank official, is reported to have been chosen as cashier on the recommendation of National Bank Examiner Joseph M. Logan, and will take the place of Alvin Binner, the suicide cashier.

Thomas Mock, a Heidelberg township school teacher, will assist Ranney as teller, it being the purpose of the directorate to discontinue the old plan of having only one man in the bank, as was the case during the incumbency of Binner as cashier. President Horst said official announcement would be made later in the day as to the time of reopening the bank.

Morton Company to Employ 250 Extra Mechanics on Russian War Machines

Harrisburg will reap much benefit from the $1,500,000 order for motor trucks received by the Morton Truck and Tractor Company, as all the work on the machines will be done in this city, according to W. S. Morton, general manager of the company.

Part of the plant and machine shops of the Harrisburg Boiler Works at Nineteenth and Perry streets has been leased by the Morton firm for the handling of the extra work on the big order, which will require at least 250 skilled mechanics.

With these extra facilities, Mr. Morton said this morning, about fifty trucks a month will be shipped to Russia. The work will commence as soon as the amount covering the order is deposited in a New York bank by the Russian government. This is expected within a few days.

The contract calls for 200 tractors at $5,000 each of the heavy type recently perfected by the company after much experimenting. The machines are gasoline driven, 120-horsepower, four-wheel, worm gear drive, and designed for heavy service over rough roads, and will be provided with special shields of heavy plate for armament in transporting military supplies and provisions.

FUN UNDER FIRE

A number of veterans of the Civil war were swapping stories when one related this:

"A striking characteristic of my old comrade, Amos Stillman, Company A, Twenty-third Massachusetts volunteers, was bravery in actual fighting service. Another characteristic was a sense of humor which stood him in good stead even in the face of danger and contributed not a little to the gaiety of his comrades.

"At the battle of Cold Harbor, just before making the charge and while under the Confederate fire, out corporal, who was over six feet tall and scarcely bigger around than a gun barrel, became excited as the enemy's bullets plowed up the earth about him. "What kind of a place is this to keep a man in?" he demanded. "Absolutely without protection!"

"He had no more than spoken when private Stillman stuck his ramrod in the ground.

"Here, corporal, said he, 'get behind this.'"—Washington Star.

"I see that Caranza has set out to see whether he cannot find Villa." "And do you think he will succeed in not finding him?"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.
