

Faces As Fair As An Orchid

Are Possible When Stuart's Calcium Wafers Are Used After Meals to Clean Up Skin Eruptions and Discolorations.

When a face is covered with blotches, liver spots, pimples, blackheads, etc., Stuart's Calcium Wafers will act like some magical charm.

"With a Face as Fair as a Day in June."

The abolishing of all skin disorders must begin with the blood. Lotions, salves, cosmetics, etc., will do no material good.

If you really desire quick action and at the same time a common sense, natural, harmless blood purifier, then Stuart's Calcium Wafers is this remedy.

The correct and best blood purifier known to science is Calcium Sulphide. This great cleanser is contained in proper quantities in Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

Every first-class druggist in this country carries Stuart's Calcium Wafers, which are pleasant to take, harmless, and may be obtained for 50 cents a box.

F. A. Stuart Co., 175 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.—Advertisement.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and luster, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound."

Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a hair restorer, and what delights the ladies with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and luster and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Rheumatism in Joints

Pain Disappears and Swelling Vanishes in a Few Days

That is what happens if you use Rheuma, the wonderful remedy that H. C. Kennedy and all druggists sell on the "money back if not cured" plan.

Rheuma is a quick-acting prescription. You will know your rheumatism is leaving twenty-four hours after you take the first dose. It dissolves the uric acid and drives it from its lodging place.

Mrs. Alice A. Brown, Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "For seven years I suffered greatly with rheumatism in my hip; at night I was scarcely able to sleep. One bottle of Rheuma cured me. That sounds miraculous, but Rheuma does miraculous things. Fifty cents a bottle.—Advertisement.

Best For Heating and Cooking

Kelley's coal is rich in carbon. Carbon makes heat. KELLEY'S COAL is a safe investment for heating or cooking.

All sizes and kinds mixed to suit your fuel needs. H. M. KELLEY & CO. 1 N. Third Street Tenth and State Streets

Vocals

Quick Relief for Coughs, Colds and Hoarseness. Clear the Voice—Fine for Speakers and Singers. 25c. GORGA'S DRUG STORES

MILLER SERVICES WILL BE PROLONGED

Evangelistic Party to Stay at Mechanicsburg Until Sunday Night

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Feb. 19.—Mechanicsburg's tabernacle services will be prolonged to Sunday night, when Evangelist Miller will preach his farewell sermon. It was deemed advisable by the members of the executive committee to have him remain longer, on account of the continued crowds and interest.

A service of song was held as usual, after which Professor Hohgatt received the gifts and expressed the thanks of the Miller party. The last one, a wooden box, upon being opened was found to contain a number of fish which found their way from the Yellow Breeches creek. These made the professor smile and, raising one before the large crowd assembled, asked the fish to show its appreciation, which it did by moving its head.

Miss Cree sang "The Best Friend to Have is Jesus," after which the Rev. Mr. Miller announced his subject for discussion as "The Refuge of Lies," found in Isaiah xxvii, 17.

Program For Great Song Service at Tabernacle

Special to The Telegraph. Mechanicsburg, Pa., Feb. 19.—All of the best musical numbers of the entire campaign will be concentrated into one grand musical program to be given at the tabernacle this evening. All the special featured song services will be repeated, and several new ones added. The great chorus of 300 will be increased to over 400 voices and the orchestra enlarged. The tentative program is as follows:

Booster Chorus Will Make Its Initial Appearance

A big feature of the Sunday school session of Derry Street United Brethren Church Sunday afternoon, at 2 p. m., will be the first public appearance of the "Booster Chorus."

This chorus is composed of about 200 children, under the direction of Thomas Howman Lyter who has been training them for the past few weeks. Lyter, who is the son of Dr. J. A. Lyter, pastor of the church, is a graduate of Anville College, Pa., and is a musician of ability, being an accomplished trombonist and the possessor of a rich tenor voice.

"FICKLE MAIDEN KNOCKING"

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Feb. 19.—If the singing of blue birds, the cawing of crows, and the noisy honk, honk of the wild geese is any harbinger of Spring, then Mechanicsburg can rest assured that the fickle maiden is knocking at the door, for all these indications are here. The flock of wild geese which passed over this place yesterday morning before daybreak must have been an exceptionally large bunch and were probably flying in sections to their honking, which sounded every near, continued for several hours.

HEAL YOUR SKIN WITH RESINOL

It Stops Itching Instantly, and Clears Away Unsightly Eruptions

If your skin itches and burns with eczema or any such tormenting, unsightly skin disease, simply wash the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, dry, and apply a little Resinol Ointment. The itching stops INSTANTLY, you no longer have to dig and scratch, sleep becomes possible, and healing begins. That is because the soothing, antiseptic Resinol medication strikes right into the surface, arrests the action of the disordered, inflamed skin, to perfect health—quickly, easily and at little cost.

Prescribed by doctors for twenty years, and sold by every druggist. For free trial, write to Dept. 8-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—Advertisement.

EXAMINITY OF PARENTS IS MORAL MENACE

Bible Contains a Rational Program of Progress and Reform Suitable to Modern Times

A GOOD MAN'S BAD SONS

The International Sunday School Lesson Is "The Death of Eli and His Sons," I Sam., 4:1-18

(By William T. Ellis) Parenthood, priesthood, piety and power are the fourfold themes of the living pictures from the old Book which will be the subject of the Sunday Lesson. One does not have to search far to find here a rational program of progress and reform for our own land and time.

The cynical proverb about "Preachers' sons and deacons' daughters" is not true, as repeated statistical showings have demonstrated. Children of the manse do not ordinarily go wrong; quite the contrary. Sufficient exceptions remain, however, to give point to the saying. The preacher's son who strays is sure to be noted because he is a preacher's son.

Some ministers are so engrossed in the larger concerns of spiritual truth and moral progress, that they imperceptibly drift into the state of mind of that statesman who said that he "had no time for individuals."

The American Father's Failure

Eli, the priest of Israel at Shiloh, was a good man and efficient priest. He was devoted to the altar and to the glory of God. He was a kindly, considerate character, as his dealings with Hannah and Samuel showed, but his love was lax in his own household, where a Thimothey hand was needed. Old Eli was a prototype of the American father, engrossed in large concerns, who lets his sons have their own way. A prominent businessman in New York said the other day "I really do not know my son. You see, he has been away at school and college, and on summer vacations most of his life. These are the home for a short time, he has evening engagements and friends at the house." That man was beginning to realize that perhaps, in spite of the success that had made him a marked personality in the great metropolis, he had not done a man's full duty by this time.

A moral menace to-day is this laxity on the part of the American parents. We are building our homes without woodsheds, and without that discipline for which the woodshed proverbially stands. The idea of law and discipline is lacking from myriads of American boys, whose parents send them off to private schools in the hope that hired teachers will make up for parental neglect. It is not uncommon for wealthy fathers to give their boys huge automobiles as toys with which to break speed and limit themselves to pedestrians. Then they wonder why the new generation is growing heedless of the rights of man and of the laws of the land.

Glass Houses

It is easier to find fault with Eli than to train our own sons. He did fall in the rearing of Hophni and Phineas, his sons. They abused their position and their opportunity, and because he was so very lenient with them, God sent them away by the lips of the child Samuel. Even then Eli was not equal to the drastic measures required, and the corrupt priests continued to flourish. The sorrow of his life in pathetic dignity, perhaps exercising the grace of resignation when he should have employed the virtue of swift, strong action.

When we are thinking about the failure of Eli with his sons, we must not forget that he also was a man to do with the rearing of Samuel, Israel's greatest prophet. It is true that Hannah helped more than a little, but it was under the influence of Eli that Samuel became a statesman of God. Let us be moved to condemn the old priest too much, we are reminded that Samuel's own sons proved unworthy.

Since we live in glass houses, let us be easy on Eli the aged. He had real nobility of character. The blow that killed him was not a personal bereavement but the news that the ark of the covenant had suffered calamity. As we look about us we cannot escape the fact that godly parents may have wasted their lives. Even the best of fathers and mothers cannot wholly determine the moral and spiritual life of their children—although the home where holiness is made attractive is the best co-operating agent that the Lord Almighty has on earth.

The Preachers and the Acid Test

Quietly and soberly as they talk by firesides and over luncheon tables, thoughtful Christian men are saying to-day to one another that the problem of the church is the problem of the preacher. This is a primary effort to shift responsibility from their own shoulders. But the proverb "Like priest like people" was never more true than now. The man who wants spiritual leadership. It is eager for tidings of truth and for a clear note of certitude from the man who speaks for God. The opportunities before the Christian ministry were never greater than in this year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifteen.

While the vast majority of the preachers of the age are men of clean life and of godliness and of self-sacrifice, there is nevertheless a lack of leadership, of vision and of power. The church is confessedly not meeting the needs of our time. Reluctantly, we are forced to say, as was the verdict of old Israel at the time of our lesson, that the weakness of the church is the weakness of the priest.

The sons of Eli had corrupted the people. Their self-indulgence had made a scandal of religion. They stopped at nothing in the way of shameless, open sin. They were not ministers, but were ministered unto. The old epigram is recalled, "Once the church had golden bishops who were wooden croziers and then the shepherds fed the sheep. Now we have wooden bishops with golden croziers and the sheeps fed the shepherds." Worship at Shiloh had been profoundly impaired by these sinful sons of Eli. Their evil had eaten like a gangrene into the life of the people.

SEEKING TO REFORM

J. D. CAMERON DEED

Want Trustees Empowered to Assume His Obligations as Endorser of Notes

Special to The Telegraph. Philadelphia, Feb. 19.—The deed of trust made by Pennsylvania's former senator, James Donald Cameron, son of the famous Simon Cameron, which controls all his real and personal property, except his home in Harrisburg, is sought to be reformed by proceedings instituted in Court of Common Pleas No. 5 yesterday. The trust, which was created by Senator Cameron on October 31, 1914, is sought to be changed so that the trustees may be empowered to assume the obligations of the former senator as indorser of notes of the Elliott-Fisher Company, aggregating $285,000.

Cameron was interested in this company to upward of $700,000. Through an oversight or inadvertence there was no provision put in the deed of trust authorizing the trustees to grant extension and renewals of the Elliott-Fisher Company notes. The proceedings were brought in the name of Andrew C. Gray, who has no real or substantial interest in the matter, but assumed the nominal position of a straw man so that certain conveyances incident to the creation of the trusteeship of all the Cameron estate could be properly made. Besides James Donald Cameron himself, the other trustees of his fortune are James M. Cameron, J. Gardner Bradley and the Fidelity Trust Company of this city.

Because of his advanced years and impaired health, Mr. Cameron in the fall of 1914, it is explained, concluded to create the trusteeship for all his estate. He desired to be relieved of the trouble and worry of his administration and at the same time to protect himself during the remainder of his life and secure the benefit of his estate after his death to his children and descendants.

The fame of the God of the Hebrews was in all the land, and the Philistines were scared when they heard of the approach of the Ark. They expected to be routed by this supernatural ally. Nevertheless, when the shouts of the expectant Israelites rolled over to their camp as the Ark drew near, the Philistines were afraid and cried: "God is come into the camp. * * * Woe unto us! who shall deliver us out of the hand of these mighty gods? These are the gods that smote the Egyptians with all manner of plagues in the wilderness." Nevertheless, they were not craven, were these Philistines, and they exhorted one another to the battle. "Be strong like men, O ye Philistines, that ye be not servants unto the Hebrews, as they have been to you: quit yourselves like men and fight."

Tragically, the Ark proved impotent. To the amazement of everybody, the victory remained with the Philistines. Thirty thousand of the children of Abraham fell before the valiant swords of their foes. The Ark came upon the battlefield mid shoutings of joy and hope; it left in the hands of the foe, amid the wailings of the wounded and the prisoners. The symbol of the Presence had been ineffective. The calamity of calamities had fallen upon Israel. Its religion could not make good in the supreme test.

Of course the significance of the story is plain to our day. The outward forms of religion are not enough. Signs and symbols are insufficient. The church and power are not necessarily synonymous, as we know to our sorrow. The presence in the most famous for its churches. Unless the symbol is supported by a pure priesthood and a consecrated church, the Presence which it is supposed to represent is invoked in vain. The church falls when it relies on its churchliness. Ecclesiasticism is mighty to-day. It has money and brains and social prestige. But it has no power. The Christian church has twentieth century ingenuity but it has not first-century victories. From the battlefield of Aphek let us learn the great lesson that the church is powerless, except, she be true to God and His law.

SAYS CARNEGIE IS NOT COMING TO BANK'S AID

Unintown, Pa., Feb. 19.—Persistent reports that Andrew Carnegie is coming to the aid of Josiah V. Thompson, banker and coal baron, whose bank is closed and whose personal business affairs are in receiver's hands, are branded as absurd by ex-Judge Edwin H. Reppert, one of Mr. Thompson's chief lawyers. It is declared that Thompson has had no dealings with Mr. Carnegie, and contemplates none.

STRUCK BY HAMMER

Sunbury, Pa., Feb. 19.—G. Rothermel, an employe of the Pennsylvania railroad, was injured at the Northumberland yards yesterday when a hammer in the hands of a fellow workman slipped and struck Rothermel in the head, cutting a deep gash. He was removed to the Mary M. Packer hospital at which the Jordan had parted, the symbol of the presence, of Jehovah.

DON'T TAKE CALOMEL

Instead of dangerous, salivating Calomel to liven your liver when bilious, headachy or constipated, get a 10-cent box of Cascarets. They start the liver and bowels and straighten you up better than nasty Calomel, without griping or making you sick.—Advertisement.

HURT IN RUNAWAY

Waynesboro Man Has Bad Accident Special to The Telegraph. Waynesboro, Pa., Feb. 19.—Howard Carson, employed as a clerk in the store of B. Davis, came near being killed yesterday. He was delivering groceries about town and his horse became frightened at two automobiles and started to run away. Mr. Carson pulled on the line to check the animal and the bridle broke. He then attempted to stop the horse by crawling out of the vehicle on the animal's back. He was thrown off and fell to the ground. The wheel of the vehicle ran over his head and he was rendered unconscious. He is seriously hurt.

FLORIDA ORANGES AND GRAPEFRUIT

Ripened Under Nature's Smiles

Citrus fruits came first to Florida of all America—were the heritage of the State from its Spanish discoverers. In no part of the world have oranges and grapefruit attained the perfection they have reached in their adopted "Land of Flowers." The soil and sunshine—the ocean breezes and the summer showers—develop and ripen the fruit in Florida as nowhere else. Every Florida orange and grapefruit which ripens on the tree is filled with citric acid, which has been tempered, sweetened and enriched to a most delicious flavor. The progressive citrus fruit growers of Florida work together in a co-operative organization for the mutual protection of themselves and the consumers of oranges and grapefruit. This is known as the CITRUS EXCHANGE.

Bought in boxes on which the above mark is branded in red, Florida oranges and grapefruit will be found heavy with juice, delightfully sweet and delicately flavored. Only tree-ripened citrus fruits are good and wholesome—hence Exchange growers do not ship their crops to market until fully ripe. In season Florida Citrus Exchange fruit can be secured from most dealers—yours will get it for you if you insist.

There are many ways of serving oranges and grapefruit. They are both food and drink and may be used in confections and cookery. Booklet containing scores of recipes for the use of citrus fruits mailed for 4 cents in stamps. Address, Florida Citrus Exchange, 625 Citizens Bank Bldg., Tampa, Fla.

Every Wife in Harrisburg Wants Her Husband To Make More Money. To live in a better house: to wear better clothes—to dress her children better: to educate them. And she can tell him how. Fifty other wives did by new ideas—not theories, but actual ideas, and all as simple as A, B, C. These wives are telling how they did it in the great series, "How I Helped My Husband to Make More Money": six of them in the March LADIES' HOME JOURNAL. On Sale Tomorrow Fifteen Cents a Copy, of All News Agents Or, $1.50 a Year (12 issues) by Mail, Ordered Through Our Subscription Agents or Direct Boys Wanted to Deliver on Routes. Apply to Our Sales Agent R. BRINSER, 102 S. Second St., Harrisburg, Pa. THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY Independence Square, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Florida Oranges and Grapefruit Ripened Under Nature's Smiles. Citrus fruits came first to Florida of all America—were the heritage of the State from its Spanish discoverers. In no part of the world have oranges and grapefruit attained the perfection they have reached in their adopted "Land of Flowers." The soil and sunshine—the ocean breezes and the summer showers—develop and ripen the fruit in Florida as nowhere else. Every Florida orange and grapefruit which ripens on the tree is filled with citric acid, which has been tempered, sweetened and enriched to a most delicious flavor. The progressive citrus fruit growers of Florida work together in a co-operative organization for the mutual protection of themselves and the consumers of oranges and grapefruit. This is known as the CITRUS EXCHANGE. Bought in boxes on which the above mark is branded in red, Florida oranges and grapefruit will be found heavy with juice, delightfully sweet and delicately flavored. Only tree-ripened citrus fruits are good and wholesome—hence Exchange growers do not ship their crops to market until fully ripe. In season Florida Citrus Exchange fruit can be secured from most dealers—yours will get it for you if you insist. There are many ways of serving oranges and grapefruit. They are both food and drink and may be used in confections and cookery. Booklet containing scores of recipes for the use of citrus fruits mailed for 4 cents in stamps. Address, Florida Citrus Exchange, 625 Citizens Bank Bldg., Tampa, Fla. Drink the Juice of These Real Oranges. Eat These Grapefruit—Nature's Favorite Tonic.