FAMISHING SAILOR IS FOUND LOCKED IN CAR

Makes Presence Known by Cutting Hole With Knife and Yelling For Help... Locked in a box car, John O'Brien, aged 25, of New York, arrived in Roynton Tuesday morning after an involuntary ride from Baltimore, Md. Unable to open the door he began searching for some means of getting out of his prison. He found a small hole in the door which had been closed with a board. After some hard work with a pocketknife O'Brien managed to force the board and then called to men working on the road. The workmen came up to the car and after listening to his story released him. O'Brien then started in search of food, but had only gotten about a mile below Roynton, when Alderman J. Hovetter arrested and brought him to this city before Alderman Hovetter for a hearing on a charge of illegal freight riding. He was sentenced to 20 days in the county prison.

TAFT HAS PLAN FOR STANDARD SCHOOLS

efficiency, thoroughness and economy of the various school systems, ex-President William H. Taft, addressed the Department of Superintendence of the National Educational Association here to-day. Mr. Taft, in his address said: "The cause of free public education is more sacred and of more fundamental importance than almost any other before the people. It is one that awakens the profound interest of the people and commands the greatest and most willing self-sacrifice by the tax-paying public. The consequence of this fervor is that our school systems are not as much scrutinized as they should be. "What we need in the country is an opportunity for standardization and comparison of school systems in the different states and different cities. This, I think we might have by establishing what Washington recommended—a national university in Washington. Bureau of Education might well be enlarged into a university which should not be a teaching university but one with a corps of experts who could offer to the people of the states and the people of all local communities, the opportunity of having their respective school systems examined and reported on as to proper scope, efficiency, thoroughness and economy. The same university should hold periodical examinations in convenient parts of the country which any person might upon payment of a small fee take and if successful receive a certificate equivalent to a degree in certain established courses. Supt. Schaeffer Talks The introduction of militarism into the public schools of the United States would be "organized insanity," according to N. C. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania before the association here to-night. "When the demand is made that militarism from an integral part of vocational training, the teacher's distraction reaches a climax. If she should succeed in fulfilling this latest requirement, the public schools would develop a race of Amazons more fierce than the militant suffragettes. "The war brides need as much bodily health and vigor as the soldiers who marry them. If future generations are not to show signs of decadence, "Investigations have shown that military drill is injurious during the adolescent period, and that the gracefulness of the cadets is not the outcome of drilling or marching, but rather of the hours spent under the direction of the dancing master. "The moral drainage which results from militarism is still greater. It does not develop the sense of duty, such as the Sunday school inculcates, but justifies spying, lying, forging letters, telegrams and signals to mislead the enemy. Having been taught that it is right to suspend the decalogue for his country's sake, the pupil afterward repeats the Ten Commandments for his own sake, whenever any advantage can thereby be gained in the political or financial world. "The great Powers of Europe have come to judgment and are grinding one another to dust and ashes. Their fate should be a warning to the American people not to introduce and foster militarism in the public schools."

REDFIELD'S REPORT CRITICISED AS FARGE

Manufacturers Declare Secretary Doesn't Know What He Is Talking About Trenton, N. J., Feb. 25.—The report of Secretary Redfield, of the Department of Commerce, intimating that the "inefficiency" of American pottery manufacturers was responsible for whatever loss of business they might have suffered, was denounced here to-day by various pottery makers as "silly" and "preposterous." Some of the posters intimated that the report was a good object lesson in the inefficiency of Redfield's own department. Others said it was a "political play, pure and simple," for the purpose of confusing the people and shifting blame for the disastrous results of the new tariff law. A number of manufacturers frankly said Secretary Redfield did not know what he was talking about when he issued the report, that his men had been to Trenton and had given every facility for investigation, and that the report was a farce when actual conditions were considered. It is probable that the Redfield report will be taken up and made the basis for action by the Trenton Pottery Association. One leading manufacturer said the matter would be taken up at the next meeting of the association and that a letter probably would be sent to Secretary Redfield asking him for particulars, and especially asking him to specify how the American manufacturer was inefficient. No Feeling Against Trainmen "They hold no hard feelings against even the superfluous trainmen whose wages make an unjust, because unnecessary, charge upon transportation service. "On the contrary, and this statement can be taken as public notice of the fact, every one of the twenty-one railroads now working for repeal of the excess man crew laws, would prefer to keep employed, but in useful service, the men for whom these laws were repealed, every loyal and efficient man so laid off because unnecessary where he now is, will be considered as on the extra list and be given employment at the first opportunity. "At present many trains are manned, because of the law, in excess of any operating requirement. For example, the St. Louis Express of the Pennsylvania railroad, a train of eight cars, carries a railroad crew of six, and a Pullman crew of six, or twelve men, not counting eight men in the dining car who could be requisitioned into outside service in emergency."

RAILROAD HEADS DENY ALLEGATIONS

Issue Statement on Effect of Full Crew Law; Feel Kindly Toward Trainmen Philadelphia, Feb. 25.—Three railroad presidents and K. L. O'Donnell, chairman of the executive committee of twenty-one associated railroads of Pennsylvania and New Jersey issued the following statement to-day: "What seems to be deliberately misleading the public are being made to members of the State legislators and to others with regard to the full crew laws, which in effect are and should be called excess man crew laws. "For example, we are reliably informed that it has been asserted that repeal of the law in Pennsylvania would deprive of positions at least 300 men in Bradford county. This is untrue. There are a large number of men in that county employed by railroads, a big proportion of them in the Lehigh Valley Railroad shops at Sayre, which is also a division point on that railroad. "Statements circulated as to the hardships which repeal of the excess man crew laws in Pennsylvania and New Jersey would impose upon trainmen are intended to play upon false sentiment. The public should understand and employ should be assured that in this campaign for repeal of laws which make arbitrary employment and do violence to economic laws, the railroads do not war upon their men. No Feeling Against Trainmen "They hold no hard feelings against even the superfluous trainmen whose wages make an unjust, because unnecessary, charge upon transportation service. "On the contrary, and this statement can be taken as public notice of the fact, every one of the twenty-one railroads now working for repeal of the excess man crew laws, would prefer to keep employed, but in useful service, the men for whom these laws were repealed, every loyal and efficient man so laid off because unnecessary where he now is, will be considered as on the extra list and be given employment at the first opportunity. "At present many trains are manned, because of the law, in excess of any operating requirement. For example, the St. Louis Express of the Pennsylvania railroad, a train of eight cars, carries a railroad crew of six, and a Pullman crew of six, or twelve men, not counting eight men in the dining car who could be requisitioned into outside service in emergency."

AN ABSOLUTELY TRUE STORY Of How E. L. Marshall, of Shreveport, La., Was Cured of a Stomach Trouble That Kept Him Out of Work for Months

Shreveport, La. — "I had a bad stomach trouble for years and became so weak I could hardly walk or do any work. My appetite was very poor, then my food would not digest, I was bloated and was very weak and nervous, and it seemed impossible to get any relief. I was so bad I could not work for months at a time. I tried too many remedies to name, but without help. I saw Vinol advertised and tried it, and soon noticed an improvement. I continued its use and now my stomach trouble is completely cured. I am a well man enjoying perfect health and have gained in weight." — E. L. Marshall, Shreveport, La. The recovery of Mr. Marshall was due to the combined action of the medicinal tissue building elements of the extract of cod's livers, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron contained in Vinol, which seldom fails to strengthen and tone up the tired, overtaxed and weakened nerves of the stomach and remove the trouble. Car Movement Shows Decrease During February

Reports for the third week in February show a decrease of 242 cars in the daily average for loaded car movement. This is 1.5 per cent, as compared with figures for a similar period in 1914. During the first week of this month the decrease was 2,186 cars, or 9.3 per cent. In the second week there was an increase of 1,097 cars, or 5.4 per cent. This brings the daily average for the three weeks down to 2.2 per cent decrease. During the three weeks a total of 23,019 loaded cars passed Lewistown Junction, a computing point on the main line. In the same period during 1914 the total movement was 55,675 cars; in 1913, 76,741 cars; and in 1912, 73,489 cars. The daily average car movement to date is 5,046.

FURLOUGH EXTRA FREIGHT MEN

The regular men are making poor time and stop off only on account of sickness. The men furloughed are from Harrisburg and Enola pools.

SUPERVISORS URGE TO FORM STATE BODY

Road Experts Point Out Benefits at Annual Session of Dauphin County Association

BENEFITS TO TRAVELERS Importance of Maintaining and Building Highways Theme of Interesting Talks

The importance of amalgamating all the county road supervisors' associations into one great State organization for the mutual advantage of the farmer particularly and the public generally who travel the roads and for the county and the State from the viewpoint of economy and efficiency was the keynote sounded by all the speakers at the annual session of the Dauphin County Road Supervisors' Association to-day in the grand jury room of the Courthouse. The question of combining for co-operation and efficiency has been advocated for months and the movement is heartily supported by the State Highway Department. In many of the counties the supervisors have already organized. Several experts on the various phases of highway construction and maintenance connected with the State Highway Department were among the speakers. For instance, he talks the answered questions on the subjects under discussion. Among those who talked were: Thomas H. McDowell, superintendent of the bureau of township highways, who discussed the maintenance and repairing of roads, and C. A. Hardt, assistant engineer in charge of District No. 2, of which Dauphin county is a part. He, too, pointed out the advantages to be gained by keeping the highways in proper shape. The county association elected officers last year and the question of whether or not the new year should be started to-day by electing new officers or whether the old incumbents should hold over for the year was discussed. The officers are: President, E. D. Messner, Upper Paxton; first vice-president, C. F. Harman, Wayne; second vice-president, John K. Zoll, Hersey; secretary, L. E. Bunker, Speezyville, and treasurer, George Aungat, Lower Paxton.

Jury Awards $300 Less Damages in Trespass Suit Than at First Action

Damages amounting to $300 less than the sum awarded by the jury at the first trial, more than a year ago, were granted Mrs. Mabel Lerch and Harry Lerch, her husband, to-day in their trespass suit against the Hummelstown and Campbellstown Trolley Company. Mrs. Lerch was injured when she fell from a car, negligently started, she contended. The Dauphin county Common Pleas jury allowed Mrs. Lerch $2,000 and her husband $550. Other cases disposed of included the assumpsit action of Nellie Blessing against Adam Rudy for a book account of $48.67, in which a verdict for the plaintiff was returned; Como Company against Sides and Sides, suit for recovery of a bill for postcard advertising, which the defendant contended was not up to requirements, in which a verdict for the defendant was returned. The trespass suit of Jacob Judy against Philip Muto, growing out of injuries Judy claims to have received during a quarrel with Muto, will be tried to-morrow. The twenty-year-old assumpsit action brought against the State by Robert Stewart, a colored resident, for an unpaid bill for sodding on the Capitol grounds, was given to the jury this afternoon.

FREIGHT SITE MORE THAN HALF FINISHED

Worked and carted away via horse and motor drays. Unless the weather interferes the job can be completed, it is figured, before April 1. Working Under Difficulties The unsatisfactory condition of the ground due to the frost and the occasional spells of rain, however, makes the big work tedious and in some instances it is necessary for the contractors to construct temporary roadways of cinders or planks and to use additional teams of horses to draw the loaded wagons to the top of the slopes. From Meadow Lane to a line a short distance from Mulberry street the earth has been scooped out and as soon as the weather will permit the foundations for the big concrete retaining wall, that will extend from Third to Second street, will be started. Hundreds of feet of sewer will also be placed as soon as the ground permits. To Open Subway For Travel While the Brown-King Construction Company is busy with the big stretch of ground east of Second street, the Stucker Brothers Construction Company is finishing its work on the subway excavation. Not more than 4,000 or 5,000 yards of earth remain. Some grading of the alleys will be necessary, however, although it is figured that the whole job should be completed within a week.
