ACTIVITIES IN THE LEGISLATURE

LAWMAKERS ARE UNREMITTINGLY BUSY

Talk of Fixing a Limit on the Presentation of Bills in the Lower Branch

MUCH BIG STUFF TO HANDLE

May Now Generally Looked Upon as the Time For Final Adjournment of Session

Members of the Legislature are coming back to Harrisburg to-day to prepare for the wind-up. Most of the men here are anxious for the real work to be in and there is talk among the incoming lawmakers of fixing a limit for the introduction of legislation on the ground that there will be several pieces of big legislation which will take so much time that there will be little time for anything else except the preparation of the budget.

During the week a number of hearings will be held and dates set for others. The House law and order committee, which has the local option bill in charge, will determine upon its program to-morrow. The Senate has twelve bills on third reading, four on second and eighteen on first. Among the third reading bills are those providing for additional game preserves and to expedite decisions in cases by requiring judges to file statements on the work before them at certain periods.

Special to The Telegraph. Middleburg, Pa., March 1.—Alleging that Associate Judges J. Johnson, of Snyder county, the anti-saloon forces declare that impeach proceedings will be instituted to oust the "little judges" from their office.

SUNDAY MOVIES ARE SUGGESTED

But the Bill May Not Appear Unless the Times Are Propitious For Exhibitors

WILL SEEK TO OUST BOARD

Censors Will Be Attacked in a Bill That Will Be Presented in House Tonight

A bill is now being prepared to authorize the opening of local moving picture shows on Sundays, but it is doubted if it will be presented unless its sponsors are assured that it will receive serious consideration in the Legislature. The measure would be expected to meet with the opposition of the country members and might also provoke the strong antagonism of the church element in this city. For this reason the men behind the bill are holding back until the State leaders and the Governor can be sounded out and they can ascertain the prospects for the measure meeting with success. The bill, if introduced in the House as tentatively planned, will probably be referred to the committee on law and order, which is regarded as being in accord with Brumbaugh administration. Representative A. C. Stein, of Pittsburgh, will introduce in the House a bill to repeal the moving picture censorship act. The Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of Pennsylvania is stated to be behind this move. Mr. Stein states that the chief objection to the bill is that it places full authority in the two houses to decide what are good and bad films for exhibition. He contends that the local police authorities are fully competent to act should any objectionable or improper subject matter in the same manner as the theaters are regulated to-day. The legislative committee of the exhibitors' league will meet here this week to promote the crusade against the censorship. Senator Richard V. Farley, in the Senate, to-night will present a bill compelling the installation of air elevators in Philadelphia and about 5,000 others in the rest of the State. The bill has been prepared under the direction of the Elevator Constructors' League of Philadelphia and is stated to have been assured of support by the legislative leaders.

DIG BILL'S READY FOR INTRODUCTION

Woodward Has Completed the General Appropriation Measure Based on Estimates

IT GOES IN THIS EVENING

Chairman Says That the Charges Against Institutions Will Be Promptly Investigated

The general appropriation bill to conduct the state government for the next two years is ready to go before the Legislature. It will be presented to-night by James F. Woodward, chairman of the committee, and will carry $45,000,000, in round numbers. Last session it was approved for $27,151,491.97, having been reduced by Governor Tener.

Under a constitutional provision the general appropriation bill must be presented to-morrow night and as there has been no time to get the department heads together to make cuts in accordance with the estimated revenues for the next two years the bill to be presented will carry the full amount as requested. The measure will be referred to the appropriation committee, the members of which will spend several weeks making reductions. The department heads will be asked to cut their demands considerably. Almost every department has applied for more money than they received two years ago, particularly the highway and the department of two years ago the State Highway Department received over $9,000,000 for all purposes, including road construction, State aid, township bonuses, maintenance, etc. This amount probably will be increased several million this year. It is estimated that a comprehensive scheme for road building and maintenance would cost $10,000,000 every two years. Governor Brumbaugh is on record as favoring liberal appropriations on this department.

The appropriation bill now before the House committee call for a total of more than $28,500,000 and it is believed that not more than one-half of the measures have been presented. Two years ago the Legislature appropriated $66,000,000. The committee figure that not more than $60,000,000 will be available for appropriation this year and that the legislature will keep the amount within this figure.

Most of the charitable institutions outside of Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Scranton have been inspected by the committee. The information we desire as to the needs of the institutions so far as maintenance is concerned, said Chairman Woodward, to-night, "but we propose to carefully investigate the requests for money for other purposes. Care is especially necessary this year because of the reduction in the estimated revenues and the consequent requirement for economic appropriation of State funds."

The Educator Shoes for Men and Boys Is Built to Conform to the Shape of the Natural Foot

United States army tests prove that 20 per cent. or more of bodily efficiency is lost through narrow, pointed shoes. Such shoes bend and crumple the bones, causing corns, callouses, ingrowing nails and falling arch—and in a short time the whole system is affected. A shoe, on the other hand, that is built to conform to the shape of a natural foot without extra looseness, will permit the foot to grow as it should and it will correct bent bone troubles that have not gone too far. Such a shoe will restore energy. That shoe is the good looking, roomy-toed Educator. Made for men, women and boys. In tan, Willow calf, gun metal, calf and black vici kid, blucher lace style, with wear-resisting oak leather soles. Your money back for the asking if a pair of Educator fails to give satisfaction. Price, $4.50. Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart, Street Floor.

HENSEL FUNERAL WILL BE TOMORROW

Many Prominent Men Pay Tributes to the Former Attorney General of State

The remains of Willis Uhler Hensel, former attorney general, arrived at his home in Lancaster yesterday and the funeral will take place to-morrow from the First Presbyterian Church. Many prominent men will attend the services, including people from Capitol Hill.

Mr. Hensel's death has called for many tributes to him, men of all political parties and in all walks of life uniting in words of appreciation of his life work. Among the tributes paid to Mr. Hensel when the news of his death became known were:

Governor Brumbaugh: "The death of W. U. Hensel is a distinct loss to the Commonwealth. He was a learned and skillful lawyer, a profound and enthusiastic historian, and a loyal and lovable friend. He was a gentleman and a citizen. He was one of Pennsylvania's most worthy sons." Ex-Governor Stuart: "I had known William U. Hensel personally upwards of thirty years. He was one of the most companionable men and truest friends I ever met. He was man of great industry and intellectual vigor and no man of my time has left his mark as a great Pennsylvanian to a greater extent than William U. Hensel. He was thoroughly conversant with the history of the Commonwealth and its people and what he talked about the Germans, the Quakers or the Scotch-Irish who were among the early peoplers of Pennsylvania, he was at home; and what he either said or wrote was absolutely correct and authoritative. While he will be remembered always as a great and typical Pennsylvanian, as an editor and afterwards as a lawyer of great force and ability; after all he will be remembered more strongly and dearly by his friends as Hensel the man."

Ex-Attorney General Todd: "William U. Hensel was a gentleman of the very highest personal and professional ideals. He was one of the great leaders of the Pennsylvania bar and a broad-minded, public-spirited citizen who did his duty in his day and generation. Socially he was a delightful companion and a lovable friend." Attorney General Francis Shunk Brown: "In the death of Mr. Hensel the Commonwealth has lost one of its most distinguished citizens. As a man he enjoyed the respect and high regard of all who knew him or of him, as a lawyer he was among the leaders, not only of the bar of Pennsylvania, but of the Union. As attorney general he reflected luster upon the office and is a worthy exemplar for his successors. His genial personality, his general learning and professional ability, devoted and received the respect and admiration of all who knew him, and the love of all who knew him well. His death is a positive loss to the State and country."

TWO COUNTIES MAY BE "DRY"

Special to The Telegraph. Sunbury, Pa., March 1.—"Some courts take the position that in the case of a hotel providing lodging and food, a license should automatically go with conducting the enterprise. Other judges differ, and I agree with them," said Albert W. Johnson, president of the Anti-Saloon League, here. Anti-saloon workers declare that this statement spells the end of the liquor business in the two counties. Judge Johnson failed to concur in the granting of four liquor licenses in Snyder county yesterday. He also has been instrumental in reducing those in Union county to two hotels since he has been on the bench.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM PROSPEROUS

South Bethlehem, Pa., March 1.—The first year of South Bethlehem as a city has been a financial success, for according to statistics furnished by Adam Brinker, Superintendent of Accounts and Finance, the treasury has a balance of $6,949.42. This is a record that the old borough had been unable to equal for years.

Hold Up Improvements; Await Full Crew Repeat

Special to The Telegraph. Osceola, Pa., Feb. 29.—The published announcement by twenty-one railroad companies of Pennsylvania and New Jersey that the repeal of the full crew law now operative in those States would release for improvements and increased facilities approximately $2,000,000, which now is being paid yearly to trainmen whose services are unnecessary, and consequently a drain on the companies' resources, has won many converts to the railroads' cause in this town. It is estimated that this money would build two hundred new station at an average cost of $10,000 each. One is badly needed here. It is understood that the Pennsylvania railroad management has under consideration the proposition of a new station at Osceola as one of the systems improvements to be made just as soon as the directors feel that the expenditure can properly be made.
