The Way Out of the Squirrel Cage

By Beatrice Fairfax

All of us have seen and pitted the caged squirrel which wildly runs about its little prison and succeeds only in whirling its little wires in circle after circle leading nowhere.

course of action of some one else, simply jerk us into a little circle round and round which we travel with a vast expenditure of energy and a tiny amount of accomplishment.

The great Marcus Aurelius has said, "Nothing is more wretched than a man who traverses everything in a round, and pries into the things beneath the earth, and seeks by conjecture what is in the minds of his neighbors, without perceiving that it is sufficient to attend to the demon within him, and to reverence it sincerely."

To devote one's life to petty gossip, to carrying criticism, to scandal and backbiting and sneering and slandering, to investigation of the things that do not concern one—to all the peering and prying of which these things are but a small part—is to prison one's self voluntarily in a squirrel cage.

People and things merit veneration for their excellence just as much as they deserve criticism for their weakness. To most people we are akin in deed, action and thought. And where we differ it is hardly possible for us to judge clearly what is black and what is white.

The endless round of peering and prying, of petty criticism of life, leads nowhere. It dooms one rather to whirling about a circle. The way out of this squirrel cage is there for the taking. Stop peering and prying, stop squinting up your eyes in order to see a tiny cross-section of life.

Minding one's own business means more than ignoring the things that do not concern us. It means attending to the things that do concern us. The energy we waste in wondering about things which we are neither going to correct nor assist, the thought we put into sneering at the

The way out of the squirrel cage, the cure for traveling in a round, is simply to look straight ahead with wide open eyes, to walk straight ahead with eager feet and to swing mind and muscle straight into an accomplishment that will give you an interest in life. In action lies the key to the cage door. In accomplishment is freedom from the thrall of the circle.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."

A NEW AND GRACEFUL SKIRT

A Fashionable Model with Gathered Back.

By MAY MANTON

8556 Semi-Circular Skirt, 24 to 32 waist.

All the full skirts are fashionable and this model is especially so. It takes the prettiest and most becoming lines possible. Each portion is slightly circular and the gathers at the back accentuate the fullness. The finish can be made at the high waist-line over webbing or at the left side. The model is a good one for the street suit and for the indoor gown for the skirt of wool, or for the skirt of heavier silk, and for the skirt of washable material. In the picture, the favorite gabledine is shown, but all the spring suitings are adapted to the model. The skirt is exceptionally graceful and it is one of the few that is equally attractive in many materials. There are only two seams, consequently the least possible labor is required for the making.

For the medium size will be needed 4 3/4 yds. of material 27 in. wide, 2 1/2 yds. 36, 44 or 54 in. wide; the width at lower edge is 2 yds. 16 in.

WHERE TO FIND NATIONALLY ADVERTISED GOODS The World's Best Merchandise In and Near HARRISBURG, PA. Merchandise that will bear national advertising has to have exceptional merit. else the manufacturer could not afford to spend large sums of money for the advertising, and to attach his name and reputation to an article that was not extraordinarily meritorious, for it is the repeat sales that he depends on. It is therefore quite evident that when an article is nationally advertised and nationally sold, year in and year out, year after year, it is exceptionally good goods to stand the test and prove worthy of continued sales and growth. It is conceded by experts that when an article is advertised generally—nationally—it is the best possible product. The wise always, in consequence, prefer nationally known goods and ask for what they want by name. Read the magazines and keep posted on nationally advertised goods. The Frail of the Lonesome Pine

This Popular Book Play Comes to the Majestic Thursday This beautiful stage love story of primitive love, that is most appealing, enhanced by a wealth of scenic embellishment, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," and which comes to the Majestic Thursday afternoon and evening, enables you to realize the truth of things as they appear and are, among a people born and bred within the confines of the Virginia hills.—Advertisement.

MAJESTIC To-night, to-morrow and Wednesday, with matinees to-morrow and Wednesday—Howard Thurston, Magician, Thursday, afternoon and evening, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," Saturday, afternoon and evening, "Damaged Goods."

ORPHEUM Every afternoon and evening—High-Class Vaudeville. COLONIAL Every afternoon and evening—Vaudeville and Pictures. MOTION PICTURES Palace, 10 a. m. to 11 p. m. Photoplay, 10 a. m. to 11 p. m. Royal, 6 p. m. to 11 p. m. Victoria, 10 a. m. to 11 p. m. THURSTON, THE MAGICIAN Thurston, the great magician, will appear at the Majestic three days startling to-night with matinees to-morrow and Wednesday in his inimitable performance of magic and mysticism. He will be assisted by a company of twenty-six people in an entertainment which is recommended as the greatest of his career. Mr. Thurston will introduce here for the first time many new mysteries that promise to astound and delight among the most effective of his new productions are "The New Woman," "Noah's Vision," "The Evolution of the Negro," "Aerial Fishing," "Balsam on His Donkey," "Anaseth Sketches," "The Chocolate Soldier," and "Creation."—Advertisement.

"DAMAGED GOODS" Richard Bennett's co-workers will present "Damaged Goods," Eugene Brieux's great sociological drama, at the Majestic next Saturday, afternoon and evening, 8 p. m. a play which has created more discussion since its first production in America, at the Fulton Theater, New York, on March 14, 1913, than any other drama of modern times. As the New York Times has said, "It initiates a new epoch of civilization, an epoch that seems destined to establish a new outlook upon life, and an epoch which will mean the correction of a great social evil."—Advertisement.

ORPHEUM Girls, this is our week at the Orpheum. The latest predictions of what we are going to wear this Spring will be done by living models in a catchy musical comedy called "The Fashion Show," the new week's headliner. The playlet consists of an interesting story, sprinkled with good comedy and tuneful lyrics, the whole written, around a very "classy" arrangement of the season's ultra Parisian creations. Miss Blanche Latell, late star of "Naughty Henrietta," will be the bright light of the beauty show, while the comedy role will be taken by Erl Corr, Broadway's favorite "rube" comedian. Hugo Jansen, Europe's famous fashion designer, is responsible for the marvelous creations worn by the girls. He will also have a part in the act. Another splendid variety act that belongs in the headline class, is a comedy sketch entitled "Twenty Odd Years" to be presented by Harry Bereford and company. The sketch is artistic, even though it is a comedy, and is looked upon by vaudeville managers as one of the very best comedy sketches, the vaudeville market holds. McMahon and Chappelle are slated to present their very clever and breezy comedy, with songs entitled "Between Trains" and other fine hits will be offered by the Dancing Lavers, in modern ballroom dances; Pietro, Cavanna Duo, in songs, patter and comedy.—Advertisement.

COLONIAL Betty, the famous monkey, adopted daughter of the world famous Consul, will be the bright star of the show that comes to the Royal Theater for the first half of the week. Her act will likely prove a treat to children of all ages. Robert Henry Hodge and company will present their great comedy vehicle on this same bill. As a typical woman hater, Mr. Hodge plays a wonderful character, and the act is good for one long scream. The act more than pleased in Harrisburg before. Beatrice, the dancing violinist, and Norwood and Norwood, the blackface comedians will complete very interesting program.—Advertisement.

"RUNAWAY JUNE" AT THE VICTORIA

The fifth episode of the new serial in motion pictures will be shown at the Victoria to-day. This new work by George Randolph Chester, writer of the series of interesting fiction stories, is "Runaway June," a story of a girl who married the man she loved, but who left him two hours after she married him. He had given her some money, but the intervention of a man, who wore a black bandyke, caused her to leave him without ceremony. This man, with the bandyke saw something in "June" that he liked and consequently followed her, making her life miserable. Just what happened and all of the mystery is made clear in the pictures of this story. Norma Phillips, well remembered for her work in the "Mutual Girl," was chosen to fill the role of "June." Arthur Donaldson fills the role of the man with the black bandyke. "Runaway June" will be shown at the Victoria to-day, this offering being the fifth instalment.—Advertisement.

"RUNAWAY JUNE," ROYAL THEATER

At the Royal Theater to-day will be shown the fourth episode of the great new serial by George Randolph Chester, the first of the writer's stories to appear in the newspapers and in motion pictures. Norma Phillips, the leading role in "Runaway June," was chosen to fill the role of "June." Arthur Donaldson fills the role of the man with the black bandyke. "Runaway June" will be shown at the Royal, Third street above Cumberland, to-night.—Advertisement.
