NEWS OF THE RAILROADS

BUSINESS SHOWS BIG DECREASE

Furlough Extra Trainers Because of Slump in Traffic; Less Coal Shipments

February freight business on the Pennsylvania Railroad according to the Division records made public today, was 4,900 cars less than during the same month last year.

The total car movement over the Middle division during February was 140,490. Of this number, 83,793 were loaded cars and 56,697 were empty.

Because of the decrease in freight business eighteen extra freight trains were furloughed yesterday. The decrease in freight business is said to be due to the falling off in coal traffic.

Between Front and Second streets, a distance of 225 feet. The above jobs were paved between the rails with sheet asphalt, the same material as used on the balance of the street.

In Front street, between Highland street and the old eastern borough line, a single track distance of 6,162 feet was laid. The track in this section is located on the south side of street, a distance of three feet from the southern rail to the curb along the old Pennsylvania canal.

Track Work in Middletown. "Owing to an extension of the plant of the Middletown Car works, and the borough abandoning portion of streets to accommodate the same, an agreement was entered into with your company and the Middletown, Highspire and Steelton Street Railway company, to reconstruct and partly relocate what is known as the Middletown loop.

Car Barns and Repair Shop. No additions have been made to the car barns or the repair shop, and with the exception of a few minor improvements they are the same as at the close of the year 1913.

Track Work in Fourth Street. It was necessary to do considerable reconstructing of track work during the year, the different jobs being enumerated as follows:

Track Work on Derry Street. This work between Thirteenth and Eighteenth streets was necessary on account of the poor foundation of the track, the work having been done originally in the winter, when the soil was frozen; and in addition, the modern method of concrete support for the track was not used at that time.

Replacing Curves. "The worn out curves were renewed at Capital, Broad and Margaretta streets.

Track Work in Steelton. "On account of the borough of Steelton paving some streets on which your company has tracks, it was necessary to reconstruct the tracks as follows: In Harrisburg street, between Pine and Lincoln streets, a distance of 1,050 feet; in Second street, between Chestnut and Chambers streets, a distance of 3,900 feet; in Chambers street,

CHIEFS WORKING TO ASSIST GOVERNOR

Keeping Close Tab on Legislation That Affects the State Government in Any Way

Governor Brumbaugh's recent letter to the heads of departments to communicate to the general their views on any legislation which may be introduced into the assembly which would affect their departments has resulted in such an overhauling of bills as the Hill has not known in many a day and if there is any bill with a slant touching a branch of the State government that has not been "spotted" it is not talked about.

Attorney General Brown has already received a number of letters from departmental chiefs telling him their views on bills and it is said that there is now closer co-operation on legislation between the departments than known for a long time and measures which might slip through with provisions that would make trouble or even lead to a veto are now being checked up.

Pure Food Arrest.—Twenty-seven of the eighty arrests made in February by the State dairy and food agents were for violation of the State laws governing milk and cream in Philadelphia, Allegheny, Washington, and Berks counties. Thirteen of these cases were of cream low in butter fats. Sixteen arrests were also made for the sale of milk and cream products marked as such. Smelts, fish, eggs and other things were sold as fresh when they had just come out of storage.

Lebanon Bills.—Senator Gerberich today presented bills for $46,000 for the Home for Widows at Lebanon and $20,000 for the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Hearings On.—The Public Service Commission is giving a hearing on the Chester Water Company rates and on the Hattboro passenger service complaint.

Bill Revived.—The bill to restrict imprisonment for failure to pay verdicts, which was defeated some time ago, was revived in the House today. Changes will be made to it.

Wilson in Chair.—Henry I. Wilson, of Jefferson, presided in the House today for a time. He was congratulated on the way he handled things.

To Amend Bill.—The trading stamp bill is to be redrafted and when completed will be given a hearing by the municipal corporations committee of the House.

Attending Funeral.—Commissioners Pennypacker and Brocht are attending the funeral of William U. Hensel at Lancaster today.

Mr. Allen Here.—W. H. Allen, of Warren, former attorney of the Railroad Commission, is here today. Governor at Lancaster.—Governor Brumbaugh is attending the funeral of ex-Attorney General W. U. Hensel at Lancaster this afternoon.

Arguments Presented.—Attorneys for the manufacturers of York today, Lancaster are presenting arguments to the Public Service Commission this afternoon in the coal rate case. This involves charges of discrimination in rates of coal carrying from the Clearfield region to those cities. It has a wide effect and much interest is being taken.
