STEELTON YOUTHS MAY PLEAD GUILTY

Gibb and Hagy, Charged With Highway Robbery, Expected to Ask Court's Mercy

Alfred Hagy and John Gibb, the two Steeltown youths who were arrested several weeks ago after a long-arm police chase to Youngstown, Ohio, will plead guilty in the Dauphin County Court Monday morning to charges of attacking and holding up ex-Sheriff J. F. Higgins of Austin, Pa., on the night of inauguration day.

The pair, it is charged, met Higgins in a local saloon and urged him to go to White House, near Highspire. Higgins, it is said, was obviously under the influence of liquor at the time. The trio were noticed on a late trolley car. Early the next morning a southbound trolley car almost ran upon the body of Higgins, which was stretched across the tracks near White House lane.

The man was bleeding and unconscious and was taken to the hospital where he had been stripped of all his valuables. Suspicion attached to the two young men and through the efforts of Detective James W. Haines they were located in Youngstown.

In a statement to the district attorney Hagy declared that both Gibb and himself were drunk when they took Higgins to White House. Higgins said he went along under the belief that he was being taken to an Elks' club.

Hagy and Gibb will be among a dozen defendants who will plead guilty.

F. Bowman, superintendent of public safety. The alum, water piping, valves and other supplies will be advertised for within the next week.

Great Britain Not Likely to Accept U. S. Proposals

Special to The Telegraph
London, March 4.—The order-in-council putting the English declaration against all German commerce into effect, it is stated authoritatively, will explain the details as to how the admiralty will proceed in enforcing the sweeping order. The exact text of the order has not yet been decided upon, but it will probably be published in a few days.

Great Britain has not yet prepared an answer to the American note submitted to the British and German governments looking to the withdrawal of the German submarine "blockade" and the continuance of food movements to Germany for the civil population. The publication of the text of the American note and Germany's reply in the London papers has attracted wide attention.

The English view, which will undoubtedly be embodied in the note to the United States, is that the American suggestions propose that Great Britain shall virtually concede the strength of her position due to her superior navy. In other words, Great Britain feels that Germany is trying to have the neutral States perform duties for her which she could possibly carry out had she a superior navy.

He was thus a direct descendant of William Penn and his death has therefore a special interest to our members. Joint Resolution Gives President More Power

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C., March 4.—All that was needed to-day to enlarge the power of President Wilson to prevent violations of American neutrality by vessels leaving United States ports with men or supplies for belligerent warships was the President's approval of a joint resolution of Congress.

The resolution empowers the President to direct customs collectors to withhold clearance from any vessel of American or foreign register or license which the President believes to be "about to carry fuel, arms, ammunition, men or supplies to any warship, or tender or supply ship of a belligerent nation in violation of the obligations of the United States as a neutral nation." If such a vessel sailed or attempted to sail without clearance a fine of from $2,000 to $10,000, imprisonment of two years, or both, and forfeiture of the vessel would be imposed. The President is empowered to use the military forces of the country to enforce the law.

More Bodies Are Taken From Ill-Fated Mine

By Associated Press
Hinton, W. Va., March 4.—High up on Quinimont mountain scores of anxious persons, the families and friends of the miners entombed by the explosion in Layland mine last Tuesday, still waited anxiously to-day for news from the rescue crews. They knew in a general way that the main entry of Mine No. 3 had been cleared of afterward and the rescuers were gradually working their way through cross entries and rooms in search of bodies, but with what success they were kept in ignorance.

There was a rush toward the shattered opening of the mine when word came that five more bodies had been found, and a rumor spread that other bodies had been located and likely would be brought out before evening. Eight bodies will be brought here for burial to-night.

Little hope is now entertained that any of the buried men are still alive.

HEAVY FIGHTING REPORTED

By Associated Press

EXISTENCE OF MANY PLOTS MADE KNOWN

Commissioner Wood Says Abarno and Carbone Are Not Connected With Others

New York, March 4.—The existence of many plots on which the police have been working was made known to-day in a statement by Arthur Wood, police commissioner, in commenting on the indictment by the grand jury of Frank Abarno and Charles Carbone charged with attempting to explode a bomb in St. Patrick's Cathedral on Tuesday. Commissioner Wood said that so far as this case is concerned it does not go beyond Abarno and Carbone but that there were other plots and other men which the police were watching. The commissioner indicated that Amedeo Polignani, the young patrolman responsible for the arrest of Abarno and Carbone, would have a part in exposing other bomb plots.

Justification for placing the bomb in St. Patrick's was summed up by the brief statement that "we wanted to put a bomb in some rich neighborhood so that the rich would understand the sorrows of the poor."

"I plead guilty to the act," Abarno said when asked to plead, "but I did not mean to do any harm. I was there, but it was all the idea of this other man," referring to Amedeo Polignani, the patrolman. Carbone entered a plea of not guilty. District Attorney Perkins stated today that he would move to have Abarno and Carbone tried as soon as possible. The men will be brought into court again to-morrow when their pleas will be formally entered and not made other arrangements for their defense before that time.
