COLONIAL

COLONIAL The splendid juvenile act called "Va-cation Land." that is one of the best school comedies local vaudeville audi-ences have seen, will appear at the Busy Corner for its last engagements to-day. Pretty girls, clever comedians, loads of hilarious school pranks and tuneful songs, make this a very at-tractive playlet. Also Mr. and Mrs. Mark Murphy, the local comedy favor-ites, will appear for the last time at the Busy Corner in their great laugh-ringing sketch called "Clancy s Ghost." Two other clever attractions combine ty audeville shows that patrons of the Colonial have seen.—Advertisement.

MINISTERS AT CEREMONIES

"DAMAGED GOODS"

"DAMAGED GOODS" So skeptical were theatrical man-agers concerning the reception which would be accorded this sociological drama, which comes to the Ma'estic this evening, that when Richard Ben-nett arranged for its production in New York City three owners of thea-ters refused to allow the play to be presented in their houses when they learned the nature of its subject mat-ter, They overlooked the fact that the play was not vicious, but on the con-trary taught a tremendous moral les-son. William Harris, the owner of the Fulton Theater, finally came to Mr. Bennett's aid and offered the Fulton, not only for the public performances, but for all rehearsals.-Advertisement.
