

Blood Sufferers

Want to Know

The Light is Turned on to a Subject of Darkness.

The mere fact that S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, drives out disease is a world's story, a topic of conversation wherever men get together.

They wonder why, simply because most remedies are mythical and put before them as "discoveries." The facts are that we pay too much attention to possibilities and not enough to real, homespun accomplishment.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we eat too much and all our food is rich.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or have kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent fountain beverage, and is found in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly.

Cumberland Valley Railroad TIME TABLE

Table with 2 columns: Destination and Time. Includes routes to Martinsburg, Carlisle, Mechanicsburg, etc.

GENI HABRANT CIGAR MFG. BY C. E. BAIR & SONS

Vocals Quick Relief for Coughs, Colds and Hoarseness. Clear the Voice—Fine for Speakers and Singers.

Runaway June

By George Randolph Chester and Lillian Chester.

Copyright 1915, by Serial Publication Corporation.

Sammy O'Keefe came to the door in answer to Ned's ring, and a much wrinkled face poked itself out of the second story window.

Bye! Always Bye!

"Does June Warner live here?" asked Ned.

"No, sir."

The head in the second story window was jerked in immediately, and there was a hasty shuffle on the stairs leading to the third floor, a shuffle made by setting up the right foot first and pulling the left one up to it.

"What's the matter here, Sammy?" the Widow O'Keefe herself asked, panting considerably and holding a much warped hand over her heart, but talking shrilly nevertheless.

"Come, search the house!" she proudly dared them. "If you find hide or hair of any such two young ladies, one or either of them, I'll go to jail—if you can find an officer to make the arrest. Come on in, all of you!"

Some of them were for holding back, but Ned Warner was perfectly callous as to whether or not he took any one's word or doubted it. He meant to find his wife.

By the circumstance of bringing home a genuine gourd to little Maggie Casey, June came home around by an extremely back way and so missed the searchers.

"Search the cellar, if you please!" mocked the Widow O'Keefe, leading the way. "Maybe you'll look in the kindly bin! And here's the coal chute! Now come on upstairs! Here's the hall that you saw before, and here's my son Sammy, a fine young boy still; and this is the parlor. The organ there, sir, is not hollow, as you can tell by lifting up the lids! Open all the doors and see."

The place was vacant. No one was there. Ned Warner, puzzled and determined, inspected the third floor. No results. The Widow O'Keefe had gathered up all the clothes and belongings and put them in a sheet and poked them into Mrs. McPherson's third story window.

June Warner tripped lightly across the street, let herself in at the Widow O'Keefe's front door and trotted briskly up the stairs. She swung around the curving banister.

"Maybe you'd like to look up the chimneys," suggested the Widow O'Keefe on the third floor. Ned Warner walked toward the hall door. June Warner started up to the third floor!

SEVENTH EPISODE. The Tormentors.

CHAPTER I.

THE Widow O'Keefe stooped quickly and snatched something from the floor while five strangers peered into every absurd nook and corner of the two rooms and bath which comprised the Widow O'Keefe's top floor suit. The object was a small snapshot of June.

The deserted husband of pretty June Warner was at the hall door with his hand reached out for the knob, and in another instant Ned Warner and June would have been face to face! In that instant the Widow O'Keefe whipped the snapshot under her apron, and the very swiftness of the motion struck into the corner of Ned Warner's restless eyes. He turned, and he and the father of June glanced at each other. There was something wretched in the bent and warped and withered Widow O'Keefe and her tall slip of a son. Ned came abruptly from the door and renewed his search. At that very moment June, just outside, had paused on the third step from the bottom to retie the bow upon her saucy little slipper and to give it a vigorous pat to make it behave and stay in place.

Slim young Sammy O'Keefe walked to the window, whistling, and glanced out with an air of great indifference. On the other side of the street stood Officer Toole, and his eyes roved anxiously from window to window of the narrow, dingy slice of a house which was the Widow O'Keefe's. At sight of Sammy Officer Toole pointed energetically toward the door. He waved both arms and pointed toward the doorway.

Sammy then slipped quietly out of the room. June! The listless Sammy used the next quickest method to wireless. With one noiseless spring he straddled the banister rail, whizzed around the curve and down to June, who was halfway up the stairs, jumped off with a footstep as light as a feather, grabbed the astounded girl by the wrist and dragged her down the steps at the risk of both their necks. Sammy shoved June into the second floor closet and stuck the key in his pocket and set the springs in his thin legs to work and was sitting lazily on the top step, bored and whistling softly, when Ned Warner and Mr. and Mrs. John Moore and Bobby and Iris Blethering came out, Bobby extremely dejected and Iris explaining volubly that it was all a mistake. June couldn't possibly have been here. But she must have been, after all, because— Still, how could it be?

June in the dark closet, shut off from all light and sound, stood bewildered, her eyes distended in the darkness, while Ned stood not two feet away from her. He had paused before that very door, as if some delicate magnetism had caught and held him there. No trace of her anywhere; no trace of Marie, the French-Canadian maid with the high cheek bones; no trace of the mysterious black Vandyked man, whom none of them had cared to mention to the Widow O'Keefe. Gilbert Bye! Ned clinched his fists, and his brow grew black as his mind filled with the image of that dark, handsome face with its glowing eyes and suave smile. That image had never been absent from Ned's mind since the disappearance of his beautiful bride. A thousand times that succession of incidents had flashed upon his memory with vivid clearness—June asleep in the Pullman drawing-room on their honeymoon trip, while he, up forward, happily smoked; the finding her gone after the train had left Tarnville; the discovery that she had been helped by the black Vandyked man to board a local headed to New York; Ned's chase after them in an express train, and his train pulling alongside them in the approach to the Grand Central station; the sight, through the windows of the parallel cars, of that suave stranger bending over June with his infernal smile, and her smiling up at him; Bye following June's taxi in another from the station, and Ned's fruitless pursuit in a third taxi; the chase out to Brynport that same night, when June had stolen her clothes and Marie; the return chase, where Ned had seen June and Marie step into Bye's luxurious limousine and whirl away with him! Everywhere that Ned had found a trace of June he had found a trace of Gilbert Bye, and he wished to live for one thing—to meet Bye face to face and with his bare hands strangle that scoundrel to death!

Ned became aware of the Widow O'Keefe eyeing him from midway of the stairs. She was a frail looking old woman, with her gnarled hands clasped before her, but her beady little eyes were as sharp as the unexpected fires from dull javelins, and there was not one move of Ned's party which escaped her. Sammy, still whistling with overnonchalance, was so persistently not gazing at the closet door that it was a wonder no one asked for the key.

See Runaway June in motion pictures every Monday at the Victoria Theater. The pictures each week portray the episode published in the Telegraph the week previous.—Advertisement.

Runaway June will be shown in motion pictures every Monday at the Royal Theater, Third street above Cumberland. Be sure to see them.—Advertisement.

Runaway June will be shown in motion pictures every Monday at the Victoria Theater. The pictures each week portray the episode published in the Telegraph the week previous.—Advertisement.

Runaway June will be shown in motion pictures every Monday at the Royal Theater, Third street above Cumberland. Be sure to see them.—Advertisement.

Runaway June will be shown in motion pictures every Monday at the Victoria Theater. The pictures each week portray the episode published in the Telegraph the week previous.—Advertisement.

Runaway June will be shown in motion pictures every Monday at the Royal Theater, Third street above Cumberland. Be sure to see them.—Advertisement.

Runaway June will be shown in motion pictures every Monday at the Victoria Theater. The pictures each week portray the episode published in the Telegraph the week previous.—Advertisement.

Runaway June will be shown in motion pictures every Monday at the Royal Theater, Third street above Cumberland. Be sure to see them.—Advertisement.

Runaway June will be shown in motion pictures every Monday at the Victoria Theater. The pictures each week portray the episode published in the Telegraph the week previous.—Advertisement.

Runaway June will be shown in motion pictures every Monday at the Royal Theater, Third street above Cumberland. Be sure to see them.—Advertisement.

George W. Geistwhite

22 South Fourth Street

Easter Is April Fourth

LET THIS YEAR'S SUIT BE TAILORED TO YOUR INDIVIDUAL MEASURE

You should place your order now if you want it in advance of the festive day. Our styles reflect the smartest ideas of most approved fashions, and an almost infinite selection of new patterns are here most of them exclusive with us.

With prices right and satisfaction assured, a Spring Suit, fashioned in the Geistwhite-way, will appeal to every good dresser.

$20 to $50

GEORGE W. GEISTWHITE

Leader in Fine Tailoring

22 SOUTH FOURTH STREET

24 DADDIES OF 25 BOYS IN BIG CLASS

Derry Street Bible Class Attendance Shows How Men Are Taking Hold of Church Work

That men are becoming intensely interested in Sunday school work was shown yesterday in a report from a class of boys taught by Lewis R. Hibbsman in the Derry Street United Brethren Sunday School, Fifteenth and Derry streets.

In Mr. Hibbsman's class were twenty-five boys. "How many boys have daddies in the men's class downstairs?" was asked.

"Twenty-four hands shot into the air. Despite the storm of yesterday 275 men gathered at the session of the big men's class of Derry Street Church yesterday to hear a stirring address by O. P. Beckley, one of the teachers.

Beckley spoke on "Filling Your Job," pointing out that Saul, the son of Kish, so dignified the job of mule driving that the Lord made him a king. "How many of you fellows that are whining because you are not promoted," asked Mr. Beckley, "are laying down on the job where you now are? Are you so dignifying your place that the boss will be justified in calling you into the office some bright morning to tell you he has a better place for you? You mustn't forget that the man who doesn't work at the job he has is likely to loaf on the next he gets."

Subjects were "Obedience to the Heavenly Vision" and "A Reasonable Service." Mr. Hangen comes to Harrisburg from Monton. He has held other charges at White Haven, Newlistown, Lancaster (Grace Church), Pine Grove, Fleetwood and Allentown (Trinity). He is a member of the board of examiners of the East Pennsylvania Conference and a trustee and vice-president of the church extension society, member of the board of directors of the East Pennsylvania Bible conference and official reporter for the Rev. Am. Geisel.

Scores Southern Europe.—The Rev. Robert W. Runyan, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, said that some of the southern countries of Europe and the northern ones in Africa were degenerate nations in his sermon yesterday on "Our Defense in Time of Trouble." He said that "these countries bred the weakling, unhealthy, cowardly and the worst people."

One Hundred in Class.—More than one hundred men were present yesterday at the meeting of the Rev. Edwin Rupp, on the Sundays preceding Easter, as follows: March 14, "Christ and the Saved," "Christ and the City," "Christ and the Nation," March 28, "Christ and the Multitude," "Christ and the Cross." Easter morning exercises will consist of communion, reception of new members and infant baptism.

To Hold Parcel Post Sale.—The Sunday school class taught by Mrs. Albert Burkholder will hold a parcel post sale and social, Thursday evening in St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Seneca and Green streets.

Invite Men's Classes to Social.—The men's Bible class of the Olivet Presbyterian Church, will have a social meeting to-morrow evening in the basement of the church, following the regular business session. Invitations have been extended to many members of other men's classes in the neighborhood to join the members of the Olivet class at the meeting.

Missionary Tells of War's Havoc in East.—The social committee has arranged an excellent program, including music, monologues and the skit, "The Millios Dollar Artist," by Ray Snow and Edwin Tittle, of Technical high school.

Bible Study Class to Meet.—"Your Standing Before the Lord in Jesus," is the subject of an address to be given before the Inmanuel Bible study class of the Fifth Street Methodist Church to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be in charge of W. W. Rugh, director of the National Bible Institute of Philadelphia.

Hill Men Plan Series of Biblical "Movies."—The Allison Hill Men's Christian Association yesterday afternoon was addressed by H. L. Carl and J. P. Braselmann. Next Sunday a series of mov-

Otterbein S. S. Gains 150 Per Cent. in Year

Officers elected for the ensuing year by the Sunday school of the Otterbein United Brethren Sunday School, Fourth and Reilly streets, are as follows: Charles Shaffner, general superintendent; Charles Zarger, assistant; William Ream, secretary; John Runkle, treasurer; William Brownawell, librarian; advisory committee, Harry Solenberger, John Fortenbaugh, Frank Sikke; auditing committee, Christian Houseman, Harry Garrett, Russel Kewel.

Officers elected for the ensuing year by the Sunday school of the Otterbein United Brethren Sunday School, Fourth and Reilly streets, are as follows: Charles Shaffner, general superintendent; Charles Zarger, assistant; William Ream, secretary; John Runkle, treasurer; William Brownawell, librarian; advisory committee, Harry Solenberger, John Fortenbaugh, Frank Sikke; auditing committee, Christian Houseman, Harry Garrett, Russel Kewel.

During the past year the Sunday school attendance has increased 150 per cent. A series of sermons on the "Attitude of Christ" will be preached by the pastor, the Rev. S. Edwin Rupp, on the Sundays preceding Easter, as follows: March 14, "Christ and the Saved," "Christ and the City," "Christ and the Nation," March 28, "Christ and the Multitude," "Christ and the Cross." Easter morning exercises will consist of communion, reception of new members and infant baptism.

Covenant Presbyterian Brotherhood Plans Feed

The annual banquet of the Covenant Presbyterian Brotherhood will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church parlor.

Jesse E. B. Cunningham and Professor L. E. McGinnes, of Steulton, will make addresses and a varied program of music and entertainment will be provided. The Ladies' Aid Society, which includes wives of Brotherhood members will act as caterers. S. R. Harris is chairman of the committee of arrangements.

Missionary Tells of War's Havoc in East

Interesting sidelights on the war and the work of missionaries in the Far East were given yesterday by the Rev. E. E. Calverley, a missionary recently returned from Arabia, who preached in the morning at Olivet Presbyterian Church and in the evening at Inmanuel Presbyterian.

Commissioner Jackson to Talk on "Safety First"

The men's Bible class of Inmanuel Presbyterian Church announces that John Price Jackson, commissioner of labor and industry, will address a "safety first" meeting Wednesday, Dr. Jackson will talk on his experiences in Europe at the outbreak of the war and, in addition, will speak of the "safety first" movement in Pennsylvania. The program committee has been able to persuade Mrs. Wilbur Harris, of the Market Square Presbyterian Church, to render a vocal solo. Several reels of motion pictures will be shown.

FINE FOR RHEUMATISM

Musterole Loosens up Those Stiff Joints—Drives Out Pain

You'll know why thousands use MUSTEROLE once you experience the glad relief it gives. Get a jar at once from the nearest drug store. It is a clean, white ointment made with the oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Brings ease and comfort while it is being rubbed on. MUSTEROLE is recommended by doctors and nurses. Millions of jars are used annually for Bronchitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (if often prevents Pneumonia).

