Bryan, at Atlantic City, Refuses to Pose Sunday. Atlantic City, March 15.—Grim of face as he stalked Chelseaward by way of the Boardwalk yesterday morning, before most of the 60,000 Lenten visitors had yet consulted the breakfast menu, William Jennings Bryan drew the line on newspaper photographers on a Sunday. Half a dozen camera men besought the Secretary of State to remove his familiar slouch hat, pulled well down over his eyes, hastily explaining it would make possible a much better picture. Secretary Bryan refused, almost curtly, adding that he had never posed for a photograph on a Sunday and did not intend to break his rule. AN EVENING THOUGHT Kind words produce their own image in men's souls, and a beautiful image it is.—Pascal.

Palmyra Woman Sues For $5,000 Damages. Harvey E. Knupp, attorney in Russ building, will go to Lebanon this week to take part in a slander suit against Frank Moyer, of Palmyra, in the Lebanon county courts by Mrs. Carrie M. Eshenower, also of Palmyra. According to the papers filed Moyer told untruths, injuring Miss Eshenower's reputation. According to Mrs. Eshenower, these stories have injured her reputation. She conducts a men's furnishing business in Palmyra. Mr. Knupp, associated with Eugene D. Segrist, is attorney for Miss Eshenower, who is the daughter of James Eshenower, a farmer of near Oberlin. The case is to be heard before Judge Henry.
